

F a c u l t y

Miss Grove illustrates the Latin derivation of common English words.

Everything great must have a source, a foundation. The source, the foundation of our school is our teachers. They illuminate the road of knowledge and direct the students down this long path. They are entitled to much credit because they form the youth of the present, leading them out of darkness and into light. In their hands is the power to mold children into fine adults. Their job is a tough one, one that is not always appreciated or understood, but for their courage and devotion we honor them. These teachers are trying to show the pupils how to be fine citizens and a credit to the free country we are living in now. Surely if we follow in their steps we shall be upright and honest citizens. For never ending work done so diligently our faculty should heartily be commended by all students of Withrow High School.

Row 1—Argabright, Bernice E.: Mathematics; Atkins, Dorothy: English; Beck, Virginia: English, Withrow Players.

Row 2—Bisceglia, Barbara: Typing, Shorthand; Blasberg, Grace: Physical Education, Health; Boling, Jane: English, Mathematics.

Row 3—Bowman, Mary: Algebra, Business Mathematics; Braunecker, Elizabeth; English; Broadbent, Adah: Art.

characters of the ardent, inquisitive