

Form and color, design and symmetry are all explained to future Dalis and Rembrandts of Little W.H.S. by art instructor, Miss Stose.

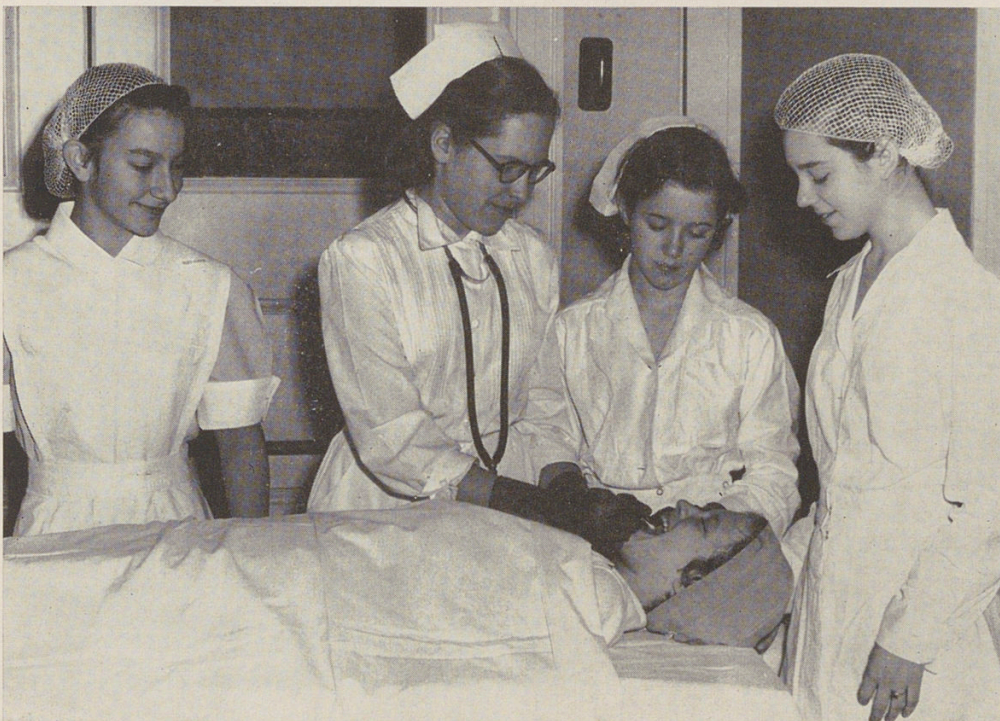

J u n i o r

Don't judge a can by its label! The junior high home economics class learns that flashy labels do not always mean quality.

"Little Withrow"—shadow of the great.

The dream to help humanity is one that every girl hopes will come true. These four girls are getting an inside view of nursing.

→
The rebellious "red-skins" are most lovable when they blend their voices in song, for celestial harps accompany each melody.