

Row 1—P. Kimmerly; C. Beck; B. Nelson; P. Lawrence; N. Wilder; C. Cornett; A. Boyer; G. Colelowgh; J. Gleason; N. Halpin. Row 2—C. Schroeder;
C. Woodruff; M. Morris; A. Potter; M. Kohl; B.
Kincaid; C. Griffith; J. Woerdeman; J. King; D.
Grau. Row 3—Y. Ghory; D. Luker; M. Hartung; A.
Ferguson; B. Fox; M. Goodell; R. Booth; M. Stickney; M. Runtz; N. Shepherd. Row 4—B. Lance; C.
Brefeld; S. Harrison; N. Bush; M. Setter; J. Boyer;
D. Van Driel; G. Kuebler; L. Lusby; M. Canrora.
Row 5—J. Joner; J. Dunn; R. Rensing; M. Smew;
B. Rech; M. Williams; E. Weisman; D. Magrish.

The Latin language has been, since the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, a source of multitudes of emotional outlets, yours depending on your association with Latin in everyday life. And so, a group of Withrow students, studying the language, formed an organization devoted not entirely to its study, but also to the use of it in organized social functions and activities. For each person, talents are taken and used in most enjoyable ways. For the musician and dramatist, for instance, songs are sung and skits, such as "Little Red Ridinghood" produced. The group altogether enjoys monthly meetings planned by Miss Grove and Mrs. Maish.

foolish to go to school and miss out

Gens Togata

← The Hildesheim Vase is presented annually by the Ohio Classical Conference to a High School in Ohio that has inspired interest in the study of Latin. This year it was awarded to Withrow in recognition of the long and brilliant achievements of Miss Ruth Grove and her Gens Togata.