

The colors red and white have long symbolized Kappa Tau Kappa wherever its members might go. This year they were seen in many places and activities. As autumn approached new members were accepted and then in brisk December the boys had their Christmas formal at the Cincinnati Club. Joy flourished, and Janet Thomas beamed as sweetheart of the fraternity. Always trying to help others, the boys made a donation to a city hospital. In the Athletic League, too, red and white flew high with many victories in football, basketball, and individual sports. With the warmth of spring rushing brought parties and finally the long awaited spring formal, ending a year filled with many pleasant experiences.

a purely social endeavor.

