★ Withrow Productions Earns Four Stars

I walked into the auditorium to see a fully set stage. I thought to myself, "Cool. This year we have an actual set." I missed the first few words because we were paying for tickets, but I turned around to see the first song and dance routine. We made our way to our seats and settled in to enjoy "The Little Shop of Horrors."

The play was about a down-and-out skidrow floral assistant who became an overnight sensation when he discovered an exotic plant with a mysterious craving for fresh blood. Soon, "Audrey II" grew into an ill-tempered, foul-mouthed R&B-singing carnivore who offered him fame and fortune in exchange for feeding its growing appetite. The plant finally revealed itself to be an alien creature poised for global domination. The actors did a really good job, and deserved every bit of applause they received.
