

Cheers accompany an assembly "extolling" Withrow's rivals.

This particular pep assembly goes all out to boost morale.

help to spur the team on.

The traditionally stirring and exciting pigskin tussle would never be what it is without the "Come on, Orange!" of the cheerleaders; the twirling batons and swirling skirts of the drum majorettes; the tall, black shako of the drum major; and, behind the scenes, the hard work of the football managers who keep the gears of the team in smooth working condition. Be it resolved: a rising vote of thanks to these unheralded workers behind the heroes.
