Little known and less appreciated, these energetic managers are the force behind G.A.A. efficiency. Through long hours of detailed work at their chosen sport, they keep precise records of every girl's attendance. A manager's participation in her adopted after-school sport's session is as essential as her maintainment of a successful school and G.A.A. record. But a manager's work is far from completed when her sport's season has come to an end; she then is responsible for tabulating attendance records, submitting a written report of the season's activities, and presenting an oral report at Honor Night Banquet.
