

Minor sports give the girls an opportunity to expand

Ready to drive, senior golf enthusiasts show the proper way to "tee off."

Greeting spring with a swing, senior girls encounter golfing instruction right in their gym classes. Wild cries of "Fore!" and "Watch that hook!" are heard as these ambitious lovelies learn the game. To perplex their minds are putts, drives, rules, and care of equipment.

Arrows whistle through the air in spring and fall for feminine archers with strong arms and good aim. Increasingly distant targets make for stiff competition in the season's tournaments. And all hands combine in an end-of-the season wiener roast, chuck-full of fun.

Graceful archers string their bows to compete with other "William Tell's."
