

like these sandlot sirens and court imps.

After spinning the racquet and winning the serve, Kay shows us how to do it the professional way.

Both strikes and homeruns can be fun when these baseball players take the softball diamonds.

With a swish of bats, an impact of balls, and a rousing shout of "Batter up," G.A.A.'s future "Caseys" swing into action. The normal jeering of the umpire, and the spirited cheers combine well in this popular sport. Spring also ushers in the familiar cry, "It's your serve," at the tennis court. These girls really have the low-down on racquet-swinging, from singles to doubles, and put it to use in autumn, too.
