

Playing a major role our musical agenda are the Glee Clubs, organized in the last decade by Mr. Leo Graeter, former music director. The Girls' Glee Club, composed of eighty-seven members, participates in the Christmas, Early Spring and Late Spring Concerts. This organization also takes part in Christmas programs at Fountain Square and Lytle Park.

Though smaller, the Boys' Glee Club, with its forty-five members, is just as active. The club sings in the Christmas and Annual Spring Concerts. The greatest pleasure that the boys receive, however, is being in male chorus in the Minstrels. Everybody looks forward with eager anticipation to Spring, when this show begins rehearsal. The Glee Clubs, as the oldest form of extra-curricular music here, command the respect of all.

The Girls' Glee Club practices breathing as well as singing.

while the girls unite their enchanting feminine voices.
