

The purposes and goals of the universe as established by our Creator will be met. Each of you has his part to play in their fulfillment. When the time is right in His scheme of things events will take place. Things and people will change — but these purposes never!

Frequently these events and your purposes are out of focus — you are confused and refuse to accept the inevitable. To do so is to your own detriment. The number of disillusioned and unhappy people in every community is concrete evidence of this fact.

The challenge of youth today is to be strong enough to set the pattern for their lives in tune with the purposes and goals of Him who created us all. There must be no compromise. Your faith must drive you relentlessly toward their attainment if you are to succeed. May you the Class of 1951 be wise enough to make the right choices.
