

October

- 2 — This is the beginning of Red Cross Enrollment Week. You are considered a stick-in-the-mud if you aren't sporting a Red Cross button.
- 3 — We lucky seniors ordered our class rings today. It won't be long before we'll be full fledged seniors.
- 6 — Our band participated in an eye-opener of a parade this evening. Yes, it was the kick-off of the big Community Chest campaign. They paraded all over town and back.
- 12 — Another pep session today. How do our teachers stand it? But that's what Kay asked for and that's what she got.
- 13 — We played Central today, and we lost with a score of 26 to 6. That's all right fellows, they were bigger than you.
- 17 — Goody for us, (the girls I mean). We had a fashion assembly today for girls only. The models wore an array of beautiful clothes. I know they hated to take them off.
- 27 — Oh happy day! School is closed. Teachers convention. Sorry, teachers, it's just one of those things.
- 31 — Why all the pretty curls and the slicked back hair? Oh, we forgot. The underclassmen had their pictures taken today.

November

- 1 — The Bulldog came out today with the latest news and gossip. We have the best paper west of the Alleghenies.
- 3 — This is the beginning of American Education Week. We have a particular interest in it as we are studious seniors.
- 7 — Election Day — Sigh-h-h. All dreamy eyed we say, "Just think, in three or four short years we will be able to mark an 'X' on the ballot."
- 8 — Today the girls in G. A. A. went to Withrow for hockey play day. They have an excellent team this year. Congrats, girls! You deserve it.
- 10 — Oh dear, I have to be especially sweet to our teachers today so they'll remember us tonight. That's right, tonight is Parent's Night. We had a very touching Armistice Day assembly today. It was the first time we had a student delivering the Memorial Day Address.
- 23-24 — Thanksgiving Holidays!!! No comment.
