

LOUISE FRAZIER. To make other people beautiful is what she would like to do. Public speaking and Physiology seem to appeal to her also.

LETTIE FRAZIER. Often you may find her with her head in a book — May get her to college — She can say that's all it took.

LUETTA FRAZIER. Mellow dark eyes — feminine allure — bait for compliments.

GEORGE FRANKLIN. Now here's a personality. He's popular with everyone and gets along well in his studies; a rare combination.

JOHN FROST. His voice is like a rope, holding his audience together — his mind is on ministry — A more loyal friend to a Woodwardite there never was.

JOSEPHINE FULTON. Jo never stops displaying her courtesy, politeness and a pepsodent smile to everyone.

ANNA FULTZ. Poise and charm are qualities possessed by Anna. These "rare these days" attributes will insure her success.

SHIRLEY GALLAGHER. Well groomed and smartly dressed — Well, ladies, there's your cue.

DOROTHY GARDNER. She's planted many good impressions of herself into the hearts of many. Her spirit of goodness spreads itself.

GRACIA GAMBLE. We need not be taking a chance when we say that she is labeled to succeed in her life occupation.

SAM GASSERT. Better known as Sammie — his generosity is so big that it seems to crowd the rest of him out — he will be well remembered at Woodward.

FLORA GIBBS. Flora is a wonderful person to know. Her plans for the future include teaching and traveling.

BERNICE GILLIAM. You can depend on Bernice doing anything you want done. Her ambition is to become a nurse. May she succeed.

JOHNETTA GILMORE. Meticulous grooming. Petite politeness. Her smile is the keynote of her personality.

GERALDINE GOEBEL. "Gerry" is always giving a helping hand and asking nothing in return — no matter how modest she is this generosity shines through.

OTISTEEN GOODWIN. Otisteen has a sweet personality which attracts many friends. We know she will be a success in her career as a nurse.

DONALD GRAY. One of our best dressed seniors who is calm and reserved in any situation. We wish him luck in becoming a successful M.D.

HUNTER GRACE. Hunter is a music enthusiast — likes it all — but really goes for the trumpet.

GLEN GREER. A fun loving fellow whose hobby is eating and sleeping. Glen hopes to get on the beat as a Policeman.

ARNOLD GREGG. Appearance and athletic ability make Arnold a well known senior. A true wolf in sheep's clothing. That's Arnold!

GERALDINE GROB. Easy to get along with — a pleasant disposition, and loaded down with lots of good talent.
