

ESTHER WALKER. Although she leads a gay social life of dancing, parties and fun, she is quite a student. We wish her luck in becoming a nurse.

FRIEDA WALKER. Frieda remains loyal to Woodward although she has spent her senior year at East.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON. Booker has an avid participation in American Problems discussions — bright, alert, and well liked.

BETTY WATKINS. Charming, well groomed — would like to be a fashion designer. We'll be seeing her latest creations in all the magazines.

RAYMOND WATKINS. Dependable and responsive — has been a mainstay in the Hi-Y movement, waiting for an opportunity to satisfy — flair for speaking.

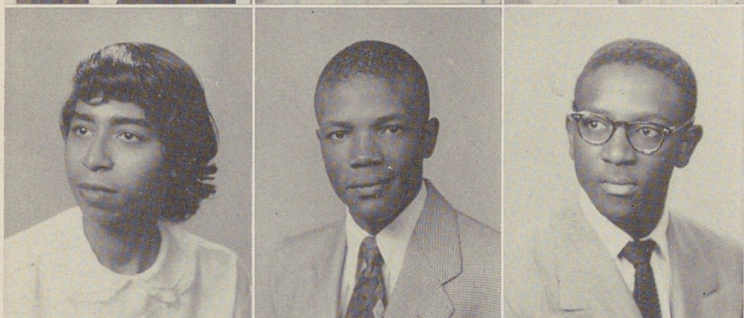

WILMA WATTS. Outstanding in Y-Teen activities — we wonder where she gets the energy for this and maintain a good school record.

GLORIA WEAVER. Sharp intellect. Hidden idealism. Serene nature.

ALMEDA REEMER. Just full of the things that make life beautiful — A beautiful landscape, wonderful appreciation!!

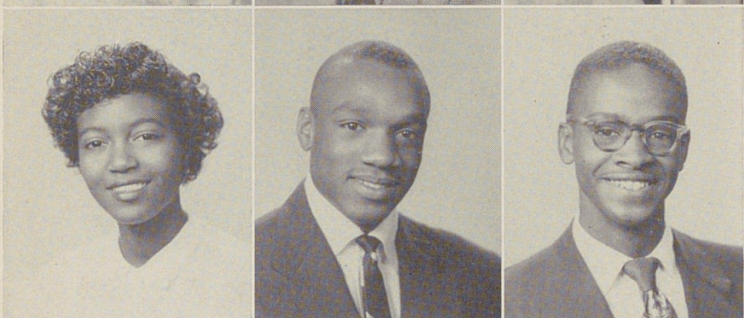

MARY LOU WEBER. She wove a pattern of fine manners, politeness, and hospitality around herself — caught many a person in her web.

RUTH V. WHITE. Ruth is one of Alpha's outstanding cheerleaders. Her energy and vitality will help in making her successful in later life.

LAWRENCE WILBORN. When and if he ever stops chasing spare ribs, he may find time to study law and go before the bar.

COLUMBUS WILCOX. A scholarly gentleman, a friend to all, an inspiration to Woodward. We'll miss him when school rolls next fall.

CAROLYN WILLIAMS. It's the wild blue yonder for Carolyn as she plans to join the Air Force after graduation.

CHARLES WILLIAMS. Charles has racked up points for the basketball team this year. Humor, wit and excellent sportsmanship characterize him.

CLYDE WILLIAMS. "The Great Caruso", one of Woodward's most versatile students. Beautiful voice, his acting ability and flair for speaking will long be remembered here at Woodward.

JOHN WILLIAMS. John is one of Woodward's most active students. He can always be found at any school event cheering with enthusiasm.

LORA WILLIAMS. A sophisticated lady who collects ornaments and earrings to add to her charm and smart adornment.

OTIS WILLIAMS. He comes from down Virginia way bringing all the Hospitality and pleasantness that were a part of him down home.

EUGENE WILLIAMS. On the hardwood or in Woodward's halls, his appearance brings a twinkle in the eye of every lassy and a thump in every heart!

RCSA WILLIAMS. Happy go lucky, full of life, a keen sense of humor, desires to become a Social Worker.

EDITH WILLIS. Edis's ability to dance has made her renowned around school and her pleasing smile impresses all who meet her.
