

A hard working bunch, they are, their job, and a big one it is; to put out the school's newspaper. Their meeting place is 207 the first bell every day. Mrs. McKinney, the faculty advisor, works right along with the boys and girls in seeing that the paper gets out on time.

In putting out the paper they have a purpose or goal to maintain; to create better human relations between students and faculty and a feeling of good will all around.

To bring to the students of Woodward the news of the school in the best way possible. To continue to display clean sportsmanship in all our activities and athletics.

To strive toward the continued success of Woodward's high scholastic standing.

Joe Perdue, editor, is constantly working on better ideas of how to improve the paper. Donald Gray, make-up editor, uses his ingenious ideas to make the paper interesting and eye-appealing. Other members of the staff are Arnold Gregg, Norbert Foster, Betty Brock, Barbara Crowe, Pauline Tompkins, Anna Dodd, Don Bolt, Curtis McDaniels, William Calhoun, George Eastham, Ron Payne, Sam Gassert and Garey Reynolds, assist editor.

The Bulldog comes out every other Wednesday with the latest news of the school. Tips and gossip columns are featured and cuts are added to give variety.

This years staff was composed of all seniors except Bill Calhoun, a Junior, who will be the frame work from which next year's staff will be built around.

The graduating Seniors and "Bill" would like to extend their hardest gratitude for the privilege of working on the staff and would like to say to all our classmates and undergraduates! "GOOD BYE AND GOOD LUCK TO ALL."

THE BIG SALE brings together the big people. Circulation Manager, T. Robert Scribbin III; Editor, Joe Perdue; Feature Editor, Barbara Crow.
