

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

"For those of you who may have never handled a basketball, but have shown your interest with your presence at this first turnout, this is a Basketball!" "Look at it, hold it! and get the feel of it in your hands." "Bounce it on the floor and toss it to one another!" "For this enlarged spheriod I have here in my hand is destined to occupy your thoughts for about the next four or five months!"

These may have been the very words used by mentor Bob Krausher in the picture above; as he started out on the long road of teaching fundamentals to a bunch of "wet behind the ears" eager infant basketball enthusiasts.

However, whatever his first remarks might have been, the important thing to be considered is what these students learned throughout the remainder of training and during the entire playing season. Whether they mastered the basic tests or not — although this is extremely important — they did learn to cooperate, coordinate, follow directions, and acquire a reasonable amount of sportsmanship.

They have started from the bottom and are working up — all the more reason for them to be able to get along with others. As the years roll by, they will grow in rank — freshman, reserve, Varsity. It is hoped that this attitude will go with them all the way up the ladder.

Coach Krausher is going over the finer points of the game with the freshies.
