

OCTOBER 12—The second issue of the Bulldog came out today. We're proud of our school paper and it certainly dishes out the dirt and sifts it fine! We only had a half day of school today. It makes one feel good to get out of doors earlier than three o'clock and enjoy the little warmth that's left. Ask some of those senior girls. I've seen them in the park and not with squirrels either! (You can bet it was the wolves on the loose again!)

OCTOBER 15—Due to meat shortage no one can have more than one serving of meat at lunch time. This doesn't bother me because I have plenty "beef on the hoof." We're starting to save paper today for another paper drive.

OCTOBER 21—Helen Kisker and Juanita Carmack are representing the senior homeroom in the proposed Student Council. I should have liked to have been chosen because it is not only a high honor but they have meetings during class time. That has its advantages!

OCTOBER 23—I filled out an application for the Victory Corps today. End of first report period. Soon I'll be taking home the bacon and will it be raw!!

OCTOBER 24—The Girl Reserves are really going along. Had a Halloween Party and initiation tonight. Quite spooky. Those decorations really were swell!

OCTOBER 29—"Jock" Telecan was our captain in the game with Withrow. In spite of such a snappy captain, Withrow knocked our socks off, 51-0. Oh me! Even though we came home stockingless, we could still smile. It's a good thing you don't smile with your feet! But, then, our good humor could have been the effect of the charming escort we bagged!

OCTOBER 30—Today the teachers suffered after torturing us for practically two months. (It says here!) They had to attend the S. W. O. T. A. Convention. That meant no school. For once I slept late. Dinner in town. Then a movie. Smooth date tonight! Not a bad day, eh, wot!

NOVEMBER

NOVEMBER 3—First paper sale of the new school year. I brought my bit, but some others didn't. Is it possible they think they contribute their share to the waste baskets here at school? If they studied once in a while they wouldn't have to be ashamed of their papers!

NOVEMBER 5—Big pep meeting for football double header at U. C. this Saturday. Those cheer leaders are really on the beam!
