

JANUARY 15—All came to school today infected with the common cold. Marjorie Writt was seen carrying her grip (grippe) by the handle. The Co-ed Club doesn't have business meetings anymore—all recreational meetings. I like that!!

JANUARY 18—Room 210 bought $393 in war stamps. I'll bet Mrs. Trinkle bought $392.90 of them. Course in camouflage is being introduced under Miss Clark's supervision.

JANUARY 19—Victory Corps introduced to school today. Orchids to Mr. von der Halben for the splendid work leading up to this presentation. Here's wishing him a speedy recovery. Everyone seen carrying arm loads of books home. Wonder why? See January 27.

JANUARY 27 — Misery, despair—exams—nuff said!!

JANUARY 28—More misery!

JANUARY 29—More despair!

FEBRUARY

FEBRUARY 8—Bob Matuska evacuated Woodward for a new course at U. C. Lots of luck, Bob. Here's hoping you're able to dodge the draft long enough to get enrolled.

FEBRUARY 9—Had a monkey in the auditorium today. Funny thing, how that monkey resembled "Chuck" Hindersman with that "Pepsodent" smile stuff. Everyone was eagerly awaiting the good (?) exam news. Received reports today and now we know it! Not so good, but it's a relief to know! Oh, me!

FEBRUARY 10—Asked by office today to turn in our letters from service men. I should turn in my letters—ha! ha! That really hands me a laugh!

FEBRUARY 11—Victory Corps induction—Army officers, a WAAC, a Marine, and Mary Higgins, who blushed and stammered from one end of the stage to the other. Do uniforms create such an impression upon you, too, huh? Do they?

FEBRUARY 12—Lincoln's Birthday, but we had school anyway. Heard a funny story tonight. Seems that after a skating party at Seff's, Jane Reeder walked Babs Schweinher into a fire plug and caused a near riot on the street. (First Aid, brother members!) Janey and her little lamb, Babs.

FEBRUARY 14—Valentine's Day. And was I ever thrilled! Evidently "Absence hasn't made his heart grow fonder for someone else." Ah, Spring!

FEBRUARY 22—Hi-Y Washington Ball. Had a smooth time. Say, those patriotic corsages were neat. Leave it to the Hi-Y!

FEBRUARY 26—Bulldog released today. What a paper! What a paper! Really surprised it doesn't bite, or does it? Hooray, Kottsy brought in a $2.00 ad for
