

*interesting and valuable materials which
in social studies, languages and sciences.*

In the modern classroom great emphasis is placed upon the accessibility and intelligent employment of reference material. The library affords an endless supply of information of this kind, while the ready advice of an interested librarian is always at hand to aid in a difficult situation.

