

Interpretation of Past and Present makes the Future More Predictable

Expert teachers of History, Civics, Geography, and American Problems develop in pupils an ability to comprehend and evaluate the economic, political, and social import of the events of the past and their effect upon the future.