

The Woodward Lunchroom Squad is composed of a group of boys and girls who have been carefully chosen to aid in making things run smoothly and efficiently during the lunch period. It is necessary for these pupils to sacrifice a free period in the interest of better school operation, but they do it cheerfully and without recrimination. The excellent order in the lunchroom and the adjoining corridor is a tribute to the success with which these people are working.

Visual Aids is composed of a group of pupils who are carefully selected and highly trained to operate the various movie machines and other types of visual aids which the school finds invaluable. These pupils volunteer for the work and are obliged to give up a study period whenever they are called upon. The group has several operators available each period of the day so that teachers may schedule films at the time most convenient to them and most appropriate for their class work. The projection room set aside for Visual Aids is 112. However, when necessary, films are also shown in the auditorium and in the individual classrooms.

Mr. Alfred Rubendunst is the very capable director of this group. To him goes the thanks of the entire faculty and the student body for his painstaking care of visual aids.

The G. S. W., which stands for Goal Striving Woodwardites, is under the supervision of Miss H. Orr. This group is composed of twelfth grade girls. Since its origin, the members of this club have done all kinds of service projects. During the war scrap books and other things were done for our boys. This year the girls have taken the children of the colored orphanage for their little brothers and sisters and projects have been carried on in their behalf.

Some of the outstanding projects for this year were a lecture on cancer by Dr. Lucy Oxley and a tea which was enjoyed by the faculty and students alike. At Christmas a party was given for the boys Honor Club which consisted of games, dancing, and refreshments. Earlier in the year a party was given for the Little Sisters in the ninth grade. Knitting was taken up as a project in which Miss Orr did the supervising. The girls conducted their own discussion groups on various problems they had. A Valentine party was given for the boys and girls in the orphanage. In April and May, the members for next year were chosen and initiated and, in June, a big party closed the program for the year.
