

The membership of the Senior Secretarial Club is open to those Senior girls who plan to be secretaries after their graduation in June.

Together with its sponsor, Miss Kamm, the club gathers much practical up-to-the-minute information from speakers, sent by representative down-town business houses, who talk on subjects dealing with the various duties required of secretaries by the modern business man and describe the particular personality traits so necessary to the successful secretary. This material is of great advantage to Club members, who follow with interest and enthusiasm the excellent programs planned by their organization.

For the first time in the recent history of Woodward, Botany Clubs have been organized. These clubs are under the direction of Mrs. L. Nantz. The members of the third period class are much interested in the advantages they have derived from their club. Since the main objective of the group is to provide opportunities to acquire a better understanding of plant life, a program of reports, excursions and various other unusual activities has been planned.

The following pupils have been elected as leaders of the club.

President — Robert Smith

Co-President — Jack Broadus

Secretary — Marlene Meniffee

Treasurer — J. Swisshelm

Sergeants-at-Arms — Carol Holly, Martha Jelks

The Latin Club is an organization composed of the members of the second year Latin Class. Since the foundation of the club in nineteen hundred and thirty-two, it has provided much interesting and informative material to pupils who are interested in the classics. Because the purpose of the club is to promote interest in Latin, most of the efforts are directed toward acquiring information about the lives of the Romans who spoke Latin. Also, the members discuss the English words derived from Latin, the similarity of Latin and English grammar, and the similarity of modern life to that in the time of the Romans.
