

APRIL 16—Alpha Hi-Y gave a Juke Box Dance tonight at the Y. M. C. A. These dances are always gobs of fun. We certainly did dance our feet down to our ankles! Really worked up an appetite. Those hamburgers tasted wonderful. I wish one of these dances would come up every Friday!

APRIL 19—Opening Day. School began at 7:30 but we were dismissed at 1:00. Wasn't I the lucky one to have a date for the very first game of the season! And I do like hot dogs with oodles of mustard!

APRIL 21—Did I ever say that there couldn't ever be too many senior music rehearsals? If so, I take it all back!

APRIL 23—Today was Arbor Day and I dutifully carried home my shrub. Yes, and I planted it!

APRIL 29—Today was the day for the long awaited Tap Dancing show. And it came up to expectations. I thoroughly enjoyed it. It's always good. Mrs. Rehkamp certainly does whip those dances into shape. And the costumes always look real nice too.

MAY

MAY 5—Graduation Practice! Now this is more like it. Sure proof that I'm a Senior. If it hadn't been for those singing sessions — It won't be long now!

MAY 6—Today I took the Stenography Proficiency Test. How we've been practicing. Every day Miss Callahan would bang on her desk with her paper weight trying to bring us around to some semblance of order so we could practice and then practice some more!

MAY 10—Some of the gals here at Woodward certainly took advantage of spring and what it does to a young man's fancy! I must have been crazy. Why didn't I? Just about every other Senior is engaged. And it's leap year too!! Just sour grapes. I admit it!

MAY 12—Graduation practice today. Reminds me that Class Day is in the offing and that up to now I have no definite plans about what I'll wear. Prices of dresses are a caution. Maybe I'll sew my own. The only difficulty is that I don't have much talent in this direction.

MAY 14—District Track Meet. Our boys are plugging along.

MAY 15—Went to the Y-Teens Hay Ride tonight. Did we ever have a gay time. I sort of forgot what fun hay rides could be. Even if there wasn't a moon.

MAY 17—Rehearsals for the Band and Choir Concert are in full swing. Mr. Rimanoczy and Mr. Curtis are keeping the choir and band hopping. Mr. Curtis schedules rehearsals for 7:00 a. m. and Mr. Rimanoczy for 7:30 p. m. and the musical geniuses of the choir and band don't mind one bit — it says here! What can they do but come after hearing Mr. Rimanoczy say "either you is or you ain't" and Mr. Curtis say "be there or else"!

MAY 20—I overheard Miss Higgins tell Eugene Abbot to put something in the Morgue. Didn't know schools had such things. Guess I'd better study a little harder so I don't end up as a dead pigeon in the Woodward Morgue.

MAY 21—Band and Choir Concert. Yes, it was really tops.

MAY 24—Excitement is running high this week with the Prom coming off on Friday night. All the gals are excited about their dresses and their dates. Don't know which is causing the most to-do. Yes, I'm excited, too. Have a really cute date.

MAY 25—Just about everybody is going to the Prom. There's not too much work being done in school. Too busy anticipating a wonderful time Friday night. Oh, Diary, I do hope I'm not to be disappointed.

MAY 26—The candidates for Prom Queen are turning on the charm these days. It's quite an honor to be elected.

MAY 27—Attended the city-wide Band Festival.

MAY 28—Tonight was the Prom. It was wonderful! I love formals. It's fun getting dressed. And my dress was a dream. Soft net over pale blue taffeta. I felt like I was just floating along to the perfect music provided by Tony Cappa and his band. I was pretty rushed tonight. Just call me Belle — belle of the ball, that is. I rivaled the Queen in popularity. And she was lovely. I can brag in my very own diary. You won't give me away, will you?
