EDUCATION

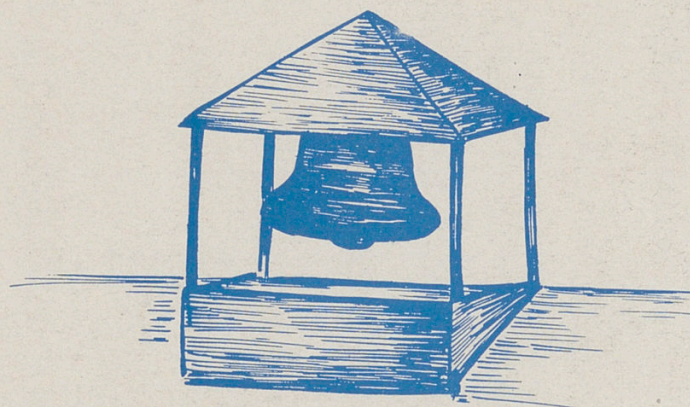

Each year as June approaches and graduation days become a fact rather than a dream, Seniors begin to have nostalgic thoughts about the school that has grown so dear to them. Up to now their thoughts were always on the day when they would graduate. This seemed the glad day, always considered in the light of being the beginning of something rather than the ending. Many times the members of the Class of '48 were told that the days spent in high school were the most joyous and carefree days of their lives. They scoffed at the generation which proclaimed this idea, but deep within their hearts they realized the truth contained in these words, and came to appreciate the fact that although graduation marked the beginning of a new life, it also marked the sad ending of a happy period in their lives.

And so as representatives of the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight, we have given some thought to the above-mentioned ideas and have decided to do something to perpetuate the faces, places, and events associated with our high school career. How better to do this than to make a Memory Book. Herein can be brought together pictures of our administrators and our teachers, our classmates and our school friends, pictures of our organizations, journalistic, musical, and social. These can be accompanied by bits of information, serious and otherwise, which will become priceless in future days when we have need of calling to mind the time when we were young and gay. This will help to carry us over the rough spots in our journey through life. Into this Memory Book let us further incorporate the school diary of one of our classmates. She has agreed to our using it but with no names mentioned. This will give us a word picture of our senior year. Then let us wander through Woodward's halls, from lunchroom to shops, pictorially recording classrooms and shops, library and lunchroom, study hall and gymnasium, office and bookroom, fountains, lockers, and favorite meeting places. Faces, places, and events — the panorama of our Senior year.

We, in the name of the Class of '48, present this Memory Book, a book which will serve in years to come as a magic carpet to carry us back to our school days and to help us relive all those memories which we cherish now and will cherish even more in later years.

Woodward High School—Our Alma Mater

"Every year on Class Day, I, the Woodward Bell, announce to the world that another group of Woodward Students is going out to face, to battle, and to conquer the problems which it will meet in its contacts with the world. At this time I call out joyously, filled to the bursting point with pride. And why shouldn't I be proud? Look at the memories I have. One hundred and seventeen years of wonderful memories.

"My memories of Woodward begin in 1831 when I was placed above the first school building and given the privilege of calling Cincinnati's young men in to knowledge. For each of my pleasant years since that time I have silently thanked the man who made such a life possible for me. The man who entrusted to me this honorable responsibility was William Woodward, the founder of Woodward High School. It was William Woodward who liberated the youth of Cincinnati from the bonds of ignorance and opened to them the doors to learning and culture. He showed his great foresight in providing, for the youth he loved, not merely a place of sports and pleasure, but an institution which would serve as a hothouse in which the youth could mature, develop, and prepare for the responsibilities of life and citizenship — a school.

"The first Woodward school was a plain two-story brick building, much like an ordinary house, but having a small belfry in which I was encased. For ten years I remained in this position; then, in 1841, I was lifted from the roof temporarily while a third floor was added. With this new structural addition there also came the addition of girls to the student body. Knowing how happy the extension of education to young ladies through his school would have made William Woodward, I welcomed the girl students gladly and thought that now Woodward and I had progressed as far as possible. I remember how surprised I was when I was again removed from my station in 1855. This time I saw Woodward completely torn down and replaced by a stately four-story Gothic structure. The designers had made no provision for me on the exterior of the new building, so I was placed inside, nearer to the youth of whom I had become so fond. The last great change came in 1910 when a modern five-story Woodward — the Woodward of today — was constructed.

"Yes, the Woodward building has been ever-changing, but the Woodward ideals and standards have remained unchanged. The Woodward spirit still prevails, that spirit of study and work, of service and song, of unselfishness and sacrifice, of devotion and duty, of appreciation and gratitude, of sympathy and kindheartedness, of acquaintance and friendship, of brotherly love and equality among men, of high ideals and lofty ambitions, of loyalty to home and to nation, of ultimate faith and calm repose. That is why I can be so confident in announcing the entrance of more Woodward graduates into the world. I know that the fame and accomplishments of this year's graduates will return to live on with me in Woodward's sacred halls along with the fame and accomplishments of all former Woodward graduates."

The Star-Spangled Banner

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming —
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

On that shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream;
'Tis the star-spangled banner; O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

O! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto — "In God is our trust";
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

FACULTY

To the Seniors of 1948:

Four years ago, bound for a new experience in education, you entered the halls of high school. Far ahead in the hazy future lay the goal that seemed almost beyond your fondest hopes; and now, before you have realized it, graduation is upon you. To be sure, the road has been long and often difficult; yet the pleasant experiences you have had, the friends you have made, and the valuable lessons you have acquired will go far toward enabling you to face the next of life's great stepping stones.

Whether you continue your education, or whether you step at once into the busy rush of everyday life, the greatest challenge that has ever befallen any generation rests squarely upon your shoulders. This earth of ours, torn as it is to-day by fears, hatreds, and wars, is depending upon you and other graduates, both at home and abroad, to help effect a world-wide, lasting peace.

It is my ardent wish that you of many races, colors, and creeds, who have studied side by side happily and successfully, will confidently walk upon the stage of life; practice your high ideals of citizenship, of tolerance, and of brotherhood; and as leaders, spread the gospel of the Great Master, "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men".

Class of 1948, I bid you Godspeed!

Our School Memory Book would be incomplete without a few words about Dr. Leon D. Peaslee, our Principal, who stands first in the memories of our high school days. Our associations with him are so intertwined with our school experiences that recalling the happy days we spent at Woodward brings to our minds the man who guided our footsteps through four of the most important years of our lives.

Woodward High School is a school rich in tradition. It is a school with a long history of accomplishment. To undertake the administration of such an institution requires characteristics and abilities of the highest type. In Dr. Peaslee, Woodward has a principal who measures up to these high standards. He has faithfully guarded the Woodward traditions; he has promoted the Woodward Spirit; and he has made valuable contributions to its glorious history.

We will remember Dr. Peaslee for his inspiring guidance, marked by a never failing interest in our affairs and our problems and accompanied by an ability to lead us to the desirable solution to our difficulties. We will ever recall his effective leadership, a leadership made more evident by his able handling of the many problems which face an administrator in a large school. Nor will we be able to forget his friendly manner as he moved about us pursuing his endless duties but with time for a pleasant greeting or a kind word.

We were fortunate indeed to spend our high school career under the principalship of Dr. Peaslee. We appreciate his interest in our activities, our accomplishments, and our problems. We are grateful for his wise counsel and genuine understanding. We are proud of what he has done for Woodward, and we are proud of the part he has encouraged us to play as we added four more years to its history.

We record these things in our Memory Book, the Yearbook of the class of nineteen hundred and forty-eight, because they are among the things we will want to remember about our school days. When we feel in need of inspiration as we face the problems of the world, we will be able to turn to this book and gather strength and aid from the thoughts herein recorded and again and again silently thank the man who made our high school days so memorable — our Principal, Dr. Leon D. Peaslee.

Boys and girls of the Class of 1948, you are graduating into a troubled world—a world that doubts; a world that fears insecurity; a world that all too often despairs of the eventual triumph of right over wrong, of justice over tyranny. This growing fear, in spite of widespread plans for social, economic, and national security, stems from the spread of the totalitarian state in Eastern Europe and the threat of its spread in Asia. Its anti-Christian philosophy, that the state is everything and the individual nothing “less than the dust beneath conquering chariot wheels”, is a way of life and government that received its death blow nearly two thousand years ago when the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth proclaimed the Brotherhood of Man under the Fatherhood of God.

Young men and women, you are about to graduate from Woodward High School—a school distinguished for its service to mankind throughout its long history; a school where a belief in fellowship and human brotherhood is as natural as breathing. In this school you have been taught, both by precept and by example, to respect the rights and opinions of your fellow men.

Imbued with its high ideals and traditions, follow your missions in life—spread the doctrine of World Brotherhood; advance the cause of democracy; and help spread the Christian philosophy, that the chief end of man is to glorify God.

B. F. FULKS.

To you, the graduates of 1948, as you stand on the threshold of life, may I express a hope that you fully realize your duties and responsibilities to your associates, your home, your city, and your country.

At this time, when all nations are striving to secure World Peace, you, as well-trained individuals, should start out on life's journey with a well-defined plan for co-operation in the reaching of those goals now being developed by the leaders of our country. You have just completed a well-rounded program of study, which has prepared you to take your places as informed citizens of Cincinnati.

To the graduates of the Vocational Commercial Department, I extend hearty congratulations and sincere good wishes for your success in life. I am confident that with your specialized preparation and many work experiences in your particular vocation, you will be able to accept the challenge of business life as it is presented. My hope is that you will further your education, broaden your experience, become leaders in your chosen field of work, and worthwhile citizens of the United States of America.

SENIORS

My duties as President of the Senior Class have been relatively few in number, the last, by no means the most pleasant, being to bid farewell to the class of 1948. The good times we have spent together during our years at Woodward are speedily drawing to an end. The hour will soon arrive when we, as a class, must say good-bye to dear old Woodward for the last time.

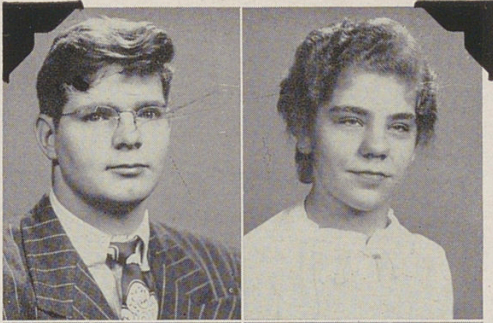

Truthfully can I say that I have enjoyed being with you on all occasions, some gay, some serious. Likewise shall I cherish the memories of classwork that helped us acquire an education; these memories will linger with us forever. For many of us, the days at Woodward are our last of formal schooling since we shall enter the business world or the household. Some of us shall go on to college; a few may enter the service of our country. Perhaps we shall not see each other as often as we wish; however, we shall live on in the memories of our classmates.

Although we graduate from Woodward, we shall never be completely gone, for that good book, the best of friends, namely, The Annual, will bring the light of other days around us. It will bring back scenes enacted in and around the school building. It will reveal the pictures of the administrators; who gave us our patterns of behavior by means of their well-intentioned methods of discipline; of the teachers, who guided us patiently and encouraged us gently; and of our fellow classmates, with whom we made fine contacts and lasting friendships.

We are invited to join the Woodward Alumnae Association and make return visits to our Alma Mater, Woodward High, each spring; so, until our reunion in 1949, I bid you farewell and Godspeed!

James Peppers.

Dear Diary:

SEPTEMBER

SEPTEMBER 8—Unhappy day or maybe happy day. Anyway, here I am back at school again; a wise old Senior at last! Well, old, anyway. It was swell to see all my friends — or should I say fellow-sufferers — again. 314 is really crowded, much more so than 201, darn it! Just my luck. Looks like a struggle in the offing! We had only half a day of school today, but the teachers had to stay for a meeting in the afternoon. If that were only an example of what is to come!!

SEPTEMBER 10—School's surely getting started with a bang! Even the clubs have begun. Mr. Rubendunst (appropriate name for a teacher, eh!) called the first meeting of the Visual Aids, and Y-Teens had open house at 7:30 this evening. Their new motto is B. F. & F. — Business, Food, & Fun. I hope they live up to it. 'Course I'm not thinking of the food part at all! Not much!!

SEPTEMBER 12—Our Bulldogs opened the football season tonight by losing to Lawrenceburg 15-0. Tough luck, but just wait'll we get warmed up. We can dream anyway! It was fun going by bus. Everyone was feeling so swell and Bromwell's cowbell just added to the noise and merriment. It wasn't even dull coming home!!

SEPTEMBER 15—Detention (more commonly known as D. T. or little Sing-Sing) began today. Mr. Duffy was in charge. Ah, for a night's detention. Sigh, sigh!

You know I don't recall that we started in with work so soon after the beginning of school last year. Here it is, just the second week, and already I have stacks of books and even homework. Since first impressions are so very important, I guess it behooves me to get busy. Then maybe I can sail along on my reputation for a while. Provided I set up a good one! But anyway I think it's a really slick idea. Wonder if being a Senior has anything to do with it??? Looks like I'm in high gear!

SEPTEMBER 16—The lunchroom situation is certainly something. Such confusion. It's quite a struggle to get the food — such as it is! — and as much of a struggle to eat it. You can guess why! But then we can stroll into fifth period class just about any old time and get away with it. However, today I almost didn't! I guess you can carry a good thing too far!

SEPTEMBER 17—It's rough to have your dream boy on the football team. Means you have to take yourself to the games. But a bunch of us have teamed up so it won't be too bad. Thank goodness he doesn't play basketball! Went to a movie tonight. Really shouldn't have dates during the week. It means I'll be poofed tomorrow. But I'll survive. After all, a girl can't neglect her social life, now can she, Diary? Even if she is a Senior and there's so much at stake. After all, there's the future to be considered!!

SEPTEMBER 18—Yea, team, rah, rah, rah! We had our first auditorium session today. You guessed it — it was a pep rally. Our cheerleaders are super-sharp, all four and a half of them — odd half being Terry Hill! Oh, the antics of that Frankie Phillips. She really throws herself into this cheer leading business!

SEPTEMBER 19—We got out at 2:30 today to see the Bulldogs tear up St. X. Only trouble was it ended vice versa! The Board of Education sent out notices that there's to be no more swimming until the polio epidemic lets up. The gals are all broken hearted — like fun!

SEPTEMBER 20—Alpha Hi-Y had its hayride tonight. Ah, that moon! Oh, that man of mine! Hayrides are such fun!!

SEPTEMBER 26—First edition of the Bulldog. My name was in it three times. Guess I'm a success!! We also had our first Senior meeting today. This makes being a Senior seem really official. Here's hoping we have oodles more — meetings, that is.

SEPTEMBER 27—Hayrides must be contagious, as Y-Teens had one to-night. But what happened to the food? Myrt managed though!

SEPTEMBER 28—Woke up with a stiff neck this morning. Must've been that cold air last night — what else????

OCTOBER

OCTOBER 1—"Start to save your pennies now,
For the biggest bargain yet, and how!
Bigger and Better! White and Blue!
Don't delay. You'll want one, too."

That's the sales talk they're using for the Annual this year — Bigger and better, and only $5.50. Let's see — less candy . . . skip a show . . . yes, I guess I can afford it.

OCTOBER 2—We ordered our Senior rings and pins today. Guess I'll have to start practicing that broken-arm-strut so I'll be in shape when we get the rings. We also had a fire drill today. Mr. Fuls thought it wonderful that we did it in two minutes . . . he should see us at three o'clock!

OCTOBER 4—We lost to Hamilton Catholic tonight. After riding up and back on that bus, I feel well qualified to write on the experiences of a canned sardine!

OCTOBER 8—We filled out our report cards today. They look fine now, but wait'll those teachers get their hands on them. Patriotic you know—red, white, and blue!

OCTOBER 10—Football game today. Yes, we lost again. Our team certainly does have its troubles. It would be nice to win a game. But it doesn't seem to get our cheerleaders down. They keep up our enthusiasm. They have more pep.

OCTOBER 15—An all-girl assembly today on fashions. These new lengths for skirts are the cause of many arguments. The boys don't like them!! Style doesn't really count when it comes to Woodward girls—they look smooth in anything!!!

OCTOBER 16—There was an assembly on art the first period. They say everybody has some art in his soul. Too bad mine's hidden so well. Assemblies are a good idea!

OCTOBER 17—Dr. Peaslee came back today after his long illness. I knew he couldn't stay away from us long. We're certainly glad to have him back.

OCTOBER 20—G. S. W. had its first meeting today with Miss Orr as its guiding light.

OCTOBER 24—We had a count of the Annual subscriptions today — 500 short. Oh woe is me!!

OCTOBER 25—Vivian Roach got married today. She's sweet, I'll really miss her in homeroom. She and her husband are both so fine I just know they'll be happy.

OCTOBER 29—Student Council election. My name is on the ballot and I'm just a b-b-bundle of n-n-erves. Really had fun at the Halloween Party tonight. Was I ever hit as a can-can girl. Ooh-la-la!!! Paul Oestreicher fell in love with a skeleton! He even claimed double refreshments. The rascal!

OCTOBER 30—Assembly on poetry. Mr. Casey may have struck out in Mudville but Mr. Webster sure made a hit in Woodward! I wish we would have more assemblies like this one. Open house is coming November 14 — how can I keep the folks home?

Oh Diary, there is no longer any future pleasure in remaining in school, no bright spot to cheer up my last weary days at Woodward. A very unexpected and heart-breaking thing has happened—Mr. Duffy got married!! That lucky girl. And we were all so hopeful!

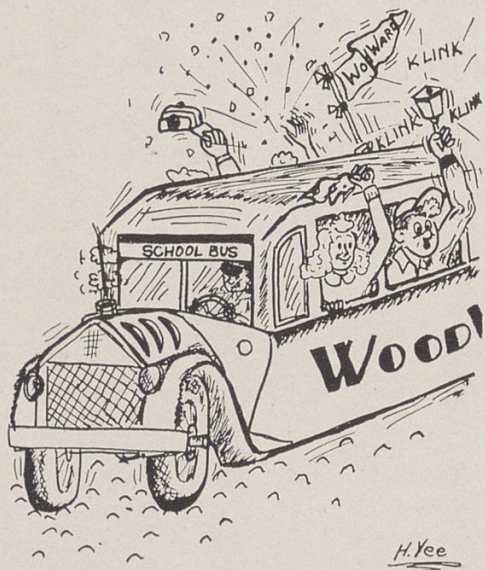

OCTOBER 31—No school today. They claim its because of a teachers' meeting but I know it's halloween and they just want us to have a day off with the other goblins and imps!!

NOVEMBER

NOVEMBER 1—This was really a big day for Woodward. Our band was the "O" and "H" in Ohio at the big rally at U. C.! Besides that, an outstanding Senior and the cheerleaders were featured on "Teen Time". We certainly are getting popular, but then we're "the brightest light of the Queen of all the west".

NOVEMBER 4—Another Senior meeting. I hate to miss class for these meetings. Who said that!! Mrs. Rehkamp began tap dancing today. She claims dancing will give us grace — yeah, grace like a baby elephant!

NOVEMBER 5—Whee! I've been elected to Student Council. The election results were posted today and I'm still on the list.

NOVEMBER 6—Woodward boys have rediscovered yo-yos, it seems. What has a yo-yo got that I haven't? Something drastic must be done to stop this yo-yo epidemic. You'd think Woodward was a kindergarten. Boys are the silly ones!

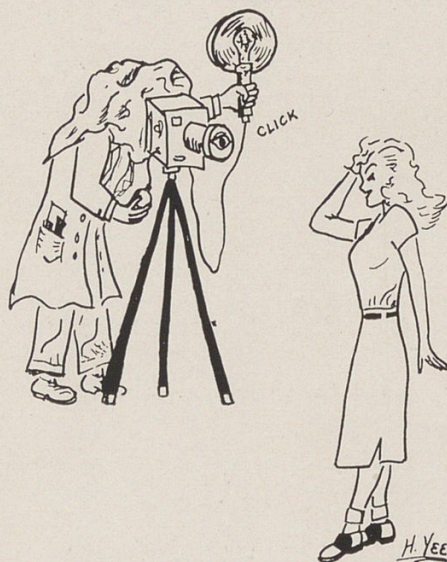

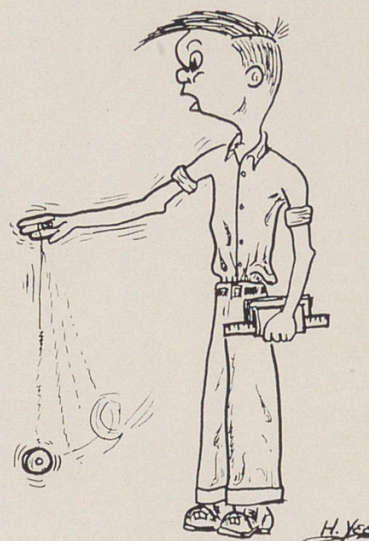

NOVEMBER 7—The gals at Woodward are really indebted to Dr. Peaslee. He outlawed yo-yos during school hours! At least we gals have a clear field from 8:30 to 5:00! Who said competition was the spice of life!!

NOVEMBER 12—Juniors are having their health exams now. Gee, I'm glad that part of my life is behind me, but I remember "stick out your tongue and say 'ah'." Lucky me, I'm the healthy type!

NOVEMBER 13—No school for me today. I was in the group that attended the Motorcade to see the proposed plans for the new highways. It was really interesting, and oh, these radar sandwiches—simply atomic! The Cincinnati of the Future will really be something.

NOVEMBER 14—Started taking Senior pictures today. All those scheduled for pictures today came to school in the neatest white blouses. And just about everybody had her hair up in pin curls. Gruesome! But they all wanted to look their best for their pictures. The boys looked pretty snappy too. Clothes do make the man! Open house was tonight. I guess Mom and Pop know the horrible truth now. I did my best to steer them away from you know who!

Mrs. Stenger and Miss Tvrznik are having a friendly feud over who is to have the great honor and privilege of holding off the stampede as the gals rush to lunch there at the third floor steps. The winner should wear a badge and a shock proof uniform!

NOVEMBER 17—Physical exams still going on in the gym so no classes today. Movies in the auditorium instead. Pretty nice. Gym isn't my favorite subject anyway. Believe me!

NOVEMBER 18—I had my picture taken today. I hope it flatters me. All you have to do is smile and 'watch the birdie'. It would be swell if they guaranteed results. Make mine Lana Turner!

NOVEMBER 19—Student Council Steering Committee was elected today. Imagine, only one ballot to each person, how could I win under such conditions!!! It would have been nice to be on the Executive Committee. If for no other reason, it would mean an extra picture in the Annual. Miss Curry wouldn't like that attitude!

Student Council is busy at work already. But what kind of things do they propose to do. Distribute Christmas cheer, push Red Cross donations, collect for the War Memorial. All important, I grant. But what would we really like to promote? We're just full of ideals. Our suggestions would be: escalators, up and down; pepsi cola in the water fountains; coffee and doughnuts every morning—just not for the underweight people; afternoon tea; no homework; more men teachers—handsome ones that is; more holidays; a longer vacation!!! I can dream, can't I???

NOVEMBER 20—Received my class ring today. Mine fits perfectly and it looks simply scrumptious. I shall wear it on my third finger left hand until I exchange it for something better!!

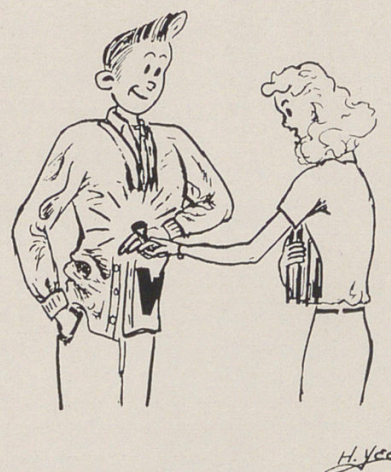

NOVEMBER 21—It was funny today to watch how the Seniors went around showing off their class rings. Worse than a group of newly engaged girls!! But I guess I was as bad as the rest.

NOVEMBER 25—Letter award assembly was held today. Guess I'm a corporal now, I got my second bar. A notice came around today asking if any students would be interested in bowling with a league. I would have signed up if Cincinnati had any good bowling alleys but every one I've been to had balls with holes in them, and pins that wouldn't fall down!!

Yes, I think I'll apply for a Mercantile Library card. I guess my scholarship will pass inspection. I must remember to turn my name in to Miss Long tomorrow.

NOVEMBER 26—There's to be a Scribblers' Club this year. I'm going to join. Inspiration do your stuff!!

NOVEMBER 27—I just realized that Christmas is coming, and me with no money. I wonder if I can make enough pot holders and house slippers to go around?

DECEMBER

DECEMBER 3—Glory has once more come to dear old Woodward. Two of her illustrious Seniors have walked off with art prizes in the bird drawing contest for greater Cincinnati. Dot Moreland got the first prize and Connie Williams took the third prize. Those kids really know how to give out with the bird!

DECEMBER 5—The basketball season is in the offing. Basketball books 75c. Maybe I should get a job. A dollar here and a dollar there. Oh, Me!

DECEMBER 11—The Hockey play-off is in full swing. Such competition. You'd think their lives depended on the outcome. But then that's what makes the whole thing so interesting. Wonder which team will win the championship? Some of the girls have been playing a mighty sharp game. Such form!!

DECEMBER 12—Basketball game today. It would have been fun to beat Hughes. Hope we have a better basketball season than we did football.

DECEMBER 18—Pat Long withdrew, she's Mrs. William Greenwood now. That's one way to get out of mid-year exams. Seems like jumping from the frying-pan into the fire to me!

DECEMBER 19—Juniors and Sophs had their maps transferred to paper today. In plain English, they had their pictures taken!!

DECEMBER 22—A Jr. Town Meeting was broadcast right from our auditorium today. Billy Gore, Tom Garner, Tom Bugge, and Gene Gamble told the world what they think "American Youth Expects from the School." My, such intellectual fellows!!

DECEMBER 24—Our Christmas assembly was beautiful and impressive. Between Miss Clark's artistic decorations and Mr. Rimanoszy's musical arrangements I don't know which contributed the most. Now for 12 glorious holidays, sigh, sigh!!

DECEMBER 27—Y-Teen Dance was a big success. Ow, my feet. Whoever said that to be fashionable at a dance a gal had to wear high heels! I'll probably be hobbling for a week!

JANUARY

JANUARY 5—Back in the old shackles again. No more holidays 'till February. I wonder if I'll be able to survive. And there are those horrible examinations to worry about too!

JANUARY 8—The War memorial collection began again today — this is the third year. We'll get that plaque or burst! Hope it's the former; the latter would be messy!! Aren't I the vulgar one!

JANUARY 13—Tumbling Club started today. Mrs. Rehkamp says I take the name of the club too literally. I wonder what she could mean!!

JANUARY 14—D. A. R. Exam. Whew, was it ever tough. I struggled and struggled but I'm afraid I didn't do too well. It's one of those things. Success would be profitable too!

JANUARY 16—Things are sort of slow these days. I could really settle back and relax except for one thing. Drat it! Wish I hadn't left things slip here, there and everywhere. Bulldog out today. Carried an announcement about an Easter trip to Washington, D. C. Wish I could think of some way to finance it! Kids who have gone on these conducted tours have had wonderful times. On the go from morning 'til night. There's so much to see in Washington. I could even stand to listen to Congress! And the jaunt to Annapolis. I guess it includes that. Now that would really be something!

JANUARY 19—Martha Scott won the first prize on "Stars of Tomorrow" program. I bet Mr. Rimanoczy will be sorry to see her graduate and leave the choir this year. Talent isn't to be found just everywhere.

JANUARY 20—The Roamers sang at an assembly today. "Music hath charms that sooth the savage soul."

JANUARY 21—Pat Mahaffey won the D. A. R. contest. Why shouldn't she? She remembers the history of Ohio from the beginning — she was there. Meow!!

JANUARY 22—Senior meeting. Mr. Roebuck told us how to start petitions for Senior officers. I wonder who I could talk into circulating one for me. "Madam President" — sounds pretty good!!

JANUARY 23—Exam schedules were posted. I dread them, but then, these are the last I'll have to take (I say hopefully!!!)

JANUARY 26—Should have studied over the week-end but after all, a girl can't slight her social life!! But starting tonight I'll really have to start plugging away. Bet everyone will be lugging stacks and stacks of books home!

JANUARY 28—Examinations started today. American History and Math. Oh, how my head aches.

JANUARY 29—Just English. It wasn't too bad!

JANUARY 30—Spanish today. And that's that! Hope I managed. Time will tell!

JANUARY 31—Am I ever glad today is Saturday. I sure need a day of rest after those gruesome examinations!

FEBRUARY

FEBRUARY 2—Del Martin came back to Woodward for a post-graduate course. Just marking time until he can enter U. C. Wonder if he'll go to the prom. And if so, with whom. I can dream, can't I?

FEBRUARY 4—Club pictures were to be taken for the Annual today but the weather was so bad Miss Tenhundfeld called them off. Such a snow storm. Only thing you can say for it was that it looked pretty. And my hair looked so nice!

FEBRUARY 5—College aptitude tests were taken today. Twelve years and I still don't know how to put the square peg in the round hole! Is there no hope for me!!

FEBRUARY 10—Played Walnut Hills today. It looks as if we just can't win a game this year—in any sport. Maybe we'll just have to wait for the baseball season, but it seems so far away.

FEBRUARY 12—Club pictures were finally taken today. I was in oodles of them and the camera still works. Amazing! And my hair didn't look too badly either. All in all it was quite a gay day. But just for us—not for Miss Tenhundfeld or for the photographer.

FEBRUARY 14—Valentine's Day and my "fella" came through with a big box of candy. And me on a diet! It's fun to receive Valentines. Connie Williams got married today. What a nice valentine for Johnny. There'll be no excuse for Johnny ever forgetting his anniversary.

FEBRUARY 16—Jackie Moreton withdrew today. She says she's going to retire and live on her old age pension. Actually she's marriage-minded. It's beginning to feel awfully lonesome in 314 since all the kids are leaving. Can't blame all this romance on Spring. It's a little too early for that!

FEBRUARY 18—Senior election results were posted today. President is Jimmy Peppers; Vice-President, Agnes Sweitzer; Secretary, Pat Byrd; and Treasurer, Pat Mahaffey. All my pals. It's great to know the powers that be.

FEBRUARY 23—No school—hooray for George Washington!

FEBRUARY 24—Chas. P. Taft gave a talk for Brotherhood Week. He's a fine speaker.

FEBRUARY 27—Filled out name cards according to how we want our names to appear on our diplomas. To use or not to use my ridiculous middle name, that is the question! My parents should have realized that there would be times like these!

MARCH

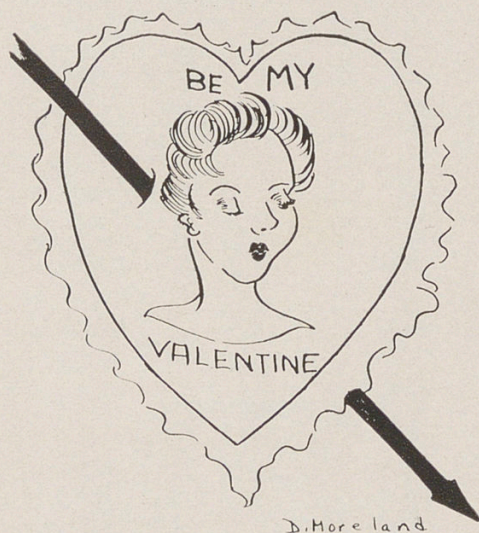

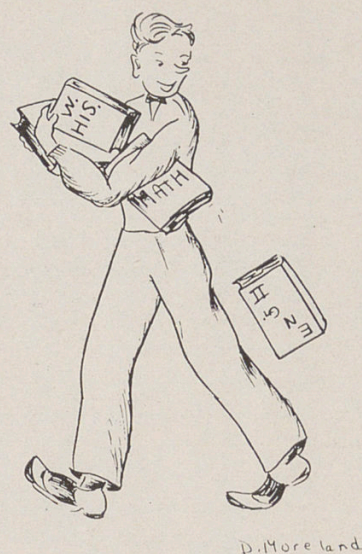

MARCH 1—All the kids from the Senior-minus rooms who are going to graduate in June were moved to 314 and 201 today. Sure is getting cozy in the Senior homerooms. If all of them had made it, we'd be crowded for sure!

MARCH 3—We had our first real Senior music rehearsal today. The Senior song this year is "The Song of Man". In the singular you'll notice. It's not fair and I protest—after all the girls outnumber the fellas three to one. It's rugged. It's so rough some of our girls have to sing tenor and even bass!!

MARCH 4—Some of the club pictures were taken over today. Boy, am I glad. I looked dead on those first ones!!

MARCH 5—Girls' playday, we got out at 12:00 for a half-day of fun and frolic. We didn't do badly either, placed in basketball, but brought up the rear in swimming. Too bad we don't have anything better to practice in than the Woodward bath-tub.

MARCH 8—Dear Diary, do I feel flat. That scholarship test today was really tough. Two hours of unadulterated torture.

MARCH 9—More vocational counseling today the second bell — every little bit helps. Wonder if they could suggest a job where I could make a million in a hurry. A bunch of the kids went skating this evening. Had a swell time except for Chloe Saunders. She had to go and fracture her arm. Such a business! Maybe we need more practice. Scarcely had any skating parties at all this year. But then there weren't many broken arms either!

MARCH 12—We celebrated Founder's Day today. The graduates of 50 years ago were honored with a luncheon besides music and entertainment. I hope Woodward has someone as good as Betty Hurst and Earl Rice to entertain us when it's our turn in 1998!!!

MARCH 13—Woodward held its second class reunion since the war tonight. The only way I could get in was to peddle Bulldogs, so peddle I did! The Woodward Bell rang forth again this year. A sweet little old lady rang it. Showed quite a sense of humor in her talk and her romantic spirit edged into view.

MARCH 15—We had a swell assembly today — weird and mysterious magic. It was instructive too, especially the part about the knot which was not a knot, which, I might add, I did not understand!

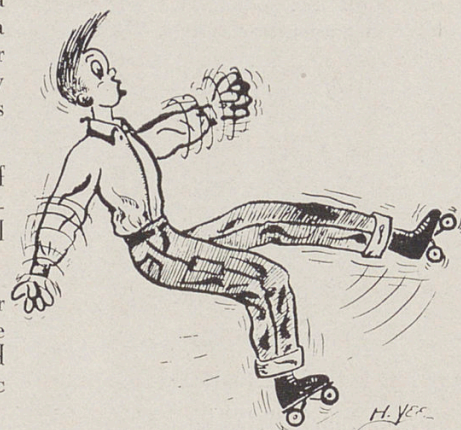

MARCH 21—Lee Robinson began a modeling club today after school. Who could be more suited as instructress than a full-fledged model like Lee, Woodward's prize beauty and Miss Greater Cincinnati of 1947? Maybe success will be ours! Aren't we the hopeful ones!

MARCH 22—Mr. Roebuck measured us for caps and gowns today. My head measures $7\frac{1}{4}$. My, what a fat-head. Oops, what am I saying?

MARCH 25—Start of Easter vacation. Aren't holidays a wonderful institution? But was I ever disappointed when the Washington trip was called off. A chance to see the cherry blossoms and it all went flttt. I bet Miss Abbihl could have died. I almost did, but the thought of my new Easter outfit sort of sustained me!!

MARCH 28—Easter Sunday. Cool but sunny. I wore my new suit and my corsage. Aren't guys wonderful? I kind of froze but refused to notice!

MARCH 31—Back to school again. Final lap coming up.

APRIL

APRIL 1—Dear Diary, would you believe that they caught Mr. Fulks on that old April Fool's joke — Call Av. 4700 and ask for Mr. Lion. Well, they did!

APRIL 3—U. N. Meeting. It was very educational and besides the luncheon was very tasty! You'll find it hard to believe but we really had fun.

APRIL 5—Senior music rehearsals are in full swing. They're wonderful. But believe me that "Farewell to Thee" is a tear-jerker. Won a Baseball game today. Oh, happy day. Victory is finally ours. It's been so long. We have a top-notch baseball team. Hope they have a good season.

APRIL 6—Rehearsals for the forthcoming tap dancing show are in high gear. I always thoroughly enjoyed these shows. Next year Otto Frees, Eugene Miracle, and Lawrence Schultz will be Woodward's Color Guard. Congratulations.

APRIL 7—Must get my Annual paid up. So many expenses at this time of the year and especially for seniors. Oh, my budget!

APRIL 9—Had a wonderful auditorium session this morning. The band presented a concert. It was ever so good. Mr. Curtis is tops. And Earl Rice — I could swoon just thinking about him. Sinatra had better look to his laurels.

APRIL 12—Typical April weather, rain and more rain. The boys keep having auditorium sessions. The Army and Navy keep trying to snag them! Maybe the armed services will have better luck than we girls are having!

APRIL 15—Another Senior music rehearsal. We're getting better and fast! Mr. Rim. is astounded. Doesn't he realize that this getting out of class really spurs us on! Juniors made out their options today. It makes me sad not to have to plan a program for next year. There are lot of sad moments now that the end of the school year is in sight and with it graduation.

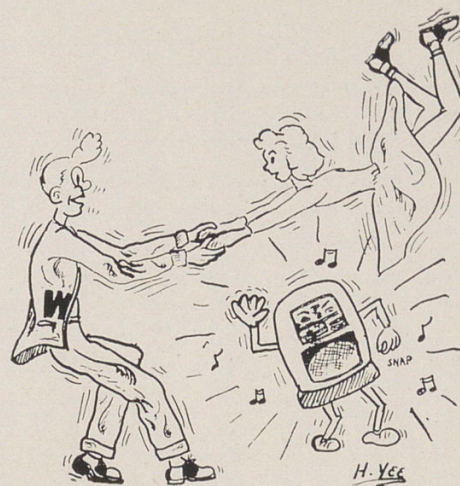

APRIL 16—Alpha Hi-Y gave a Juke Box Dance tonight at the Y. M. C. A. These dances are always gobs of fun. We certainly did dance our feet down to our ankles! Really worked up an appetite. Those hamburgers tasted wonderful. I wish one of these dances would come up every Friday!

APRIL 19—Opening Day. School began at 7:30 but we were dismissed at 1:00. Wasn't I the lucky one to have a date for the very first game of the season! And I do like hot dogs with oodles of mustard!

APRIL 21—Did I ever say that there couldn't ever be too many senior music rehearsals? If so, I take it all back!

APRIL 23—Today was Arbor Day and I dutifully carried home my shrub. Yes, and I planted it!

APRIL 29—Today was the day for the long awaited Tap Dancing show. And it came up to expectations. I thoroughly enjoyed it. It's always good. Mrs. Rehkamp certainly does whip those dances into shape. And the costumes always look real nice too.

MAY

MAY 5—Graduation Practice! Now this is more like it. Sure proof that I'm a Senior. If it hadn't been for those singing sessions — It won't be long now!

MAY 6—Today I took the Stenography Proficiency Test. How we've been practicing. Every day Miss Callahan would bang on her desk with her paper weight trying to bring us around to some semblance of order so we could practice and then practice some more!

MAY 10—Some of the gals here at Woodward certainly took advantage of spring and what it does to a young man's fancy! I must have been crazy. Why didn't I? Just about every other Senior is engaged. And it's leap year too!! Just sour grapes. I admit it!

MAY 12—Graduation practice today. Reminds me that Class Day is in the offing and that up to now I have no definite plans about what I'll wear. Prices of dresses are a caution. Maybe I'll sew my own. The only difficulty is that I don't have much talent in this direction.

MAY 14—District Track Meet. Our boys are plugging along.

MAY 15—Went to the Y-Teens Hay Ride tonight. Did we ever have a gay time. I sort of forgot what fun hay rides could be. Even if there wasn't a moon.

MAY 17—Rehearsals for the Band and Choir Concert are in full swing. Mr. Rimanoczy and Mr. Curtis are keeping the choir and band hopping. Mr. Curtis schedules rehearsals for 7:00 a. m. and Mr. Rimanoczy for 7:30 p. m. and the musical geniuses of the choir and band don't mind one bit — it says here! What can they do but come after hearing Mr. Rimanoczy say "either you is or you ain't" and Mr. Curtis say "be there or else"!

MAY 20—I overheard Miss Higgins tell Eugene Abbot to put something in the Morgue. Didn't know schools had such things. Guess I'd better study a little harder so I don't end up as a dead pigeon in the Woodward Morgue.

MAY 21—Band and Choir Concert. Yes, it was really tops.

MAY 24—Excitement is running high this week with the Prom coming off on Friday night. All the gals are excited about their dresses and their dates. Don't know which is causing the most to-do. Yes, I'm excited, too. Have a really cute date.

MAY 25—Just about everybody is going to the Prom. There's not too much work being done in school. Too busy anticipating a wonderful time Friday night. Oh, Diary, I do hope I'm not to be disappointed.

MAY 26—The candidates for Prom Queen are turning on the charm these days. It's quite an honor to be elected.

MAY 27—Attended the city-wide Band Festival.

MAY 28—Tonight was the Prom. It was wonderful! I love formals. It's fun getting dressed. And my dress was a dream. Soft net over pale blue taffeta. I felt like I was just floating along to the perfect music provided by Tony Cappa and his band. I was pretty rushed tonight. Just call me Belle — belle of the ball, that is. I rivaled the Queen in popularity. And she was lovely. I can brag in my very own diary. You won't give me away, will you?

JUNE

JUNE 1—"Ah, what is so rare as a day in June." Maybe it's a smile on Miss Higgins face after a session with the Stagehands. Or an unpressed suit on Mr. Duffy. Or Miss Tvrznik leaving school at three o'clock. Or Miss Feld not leaving at three o'clock. Actually I think it's the feeling that can come only once to a girl and that's that she has come to the first day of the last month of her high school career!

I'm afraid I have to take an exam. How can some teachers be so mean? I'm so mad I don't dare mention names. I'm afraid of what else I might write!

JUNE 2—Course we're wearing Caps and Gowns at Commencement but there's the matter of what to wear when we go out later. Heaven forbid that I would wear the same dress that I'm wearing for Class Day. And therein lies another problem. What will I wear Class Day? I was going to make a dress. But it's so late now I'll just have to dash out and buy one.

JUNE 4—Wouldn't you know I'd mess around just long enough to get myself in a spot where I have to take an examination. I could die. But I had a number of fellow-sufferers. We struggled and struggled. There was so much at stake. But I think I made the grade. So I guess it's now. Graduation here I come!

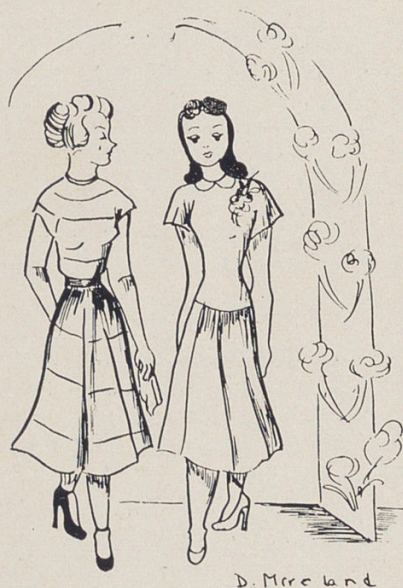

I wish I could be around next year and warn the Seniors about the folly of trying to slip through.

JUNE 7—Senior rehearsal. We really mean business now. Time is getting short.

JUNE 8—Never will forget Miss Orr's parting shot to my Health Class — "Never say 'I can't'; always say 'I'll try'." Well, keep trying Miss Orr. You can be sure we will!

JUNE 9—Class Day. That long awaited day finally arrived. For three years I witnessed the Class Day ceremonies of other classes and looked forward to the day of my own Class Day. And now it's come and gone. But it was so wonderful. I never will forget it as long as I live. I felt so proud as I passed under the flower-garlanded arch. To me it has always been the symbol of the passage from school into the world. I guess I'm just a little ahead of myself considering that I've not been graduated yet. But I know graduation won't impress me any more. It isn't possible. Everyone looked so nice. All the dresses were so pretty and the fellows looked plenty sharp. We were all a little sad as we marched out singing "Farewell to Thee".

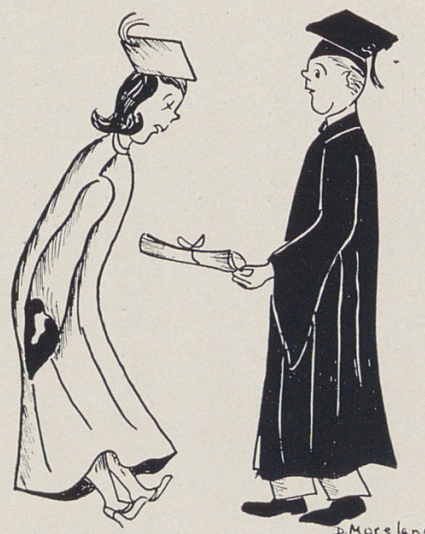

JUNE 10—Now that Class Day is over the next thing on the schedule is Commencement. Since that's pretty final I went around today to bid farewell to some of my teachers — favorites and otherwise — Miss Callahan who claimed some of us were unbalanced — not mentioning any names, Myrtle; Mrs. Walker who held the leash on the Bulldog Staff; Mrs. Rehkamp who just about worked herself to death over the tap show watching us practice; Mr. Rubendunst who worked so hard to make the world safe for pedestrians (and that's us!); Miss Wurtz whose new green dress with the nail heads really sent us (I wonder if there was any hidden significance to those nail heads!); Miss Hanau with her hair newly waved for a day; Miss Clark looking like the artist she is with her gay smock and paint on her hands. Wish I had more time. But I must get some sleep so I'll be beautiful come next Monday!

JUNE 11—Annuals were given out today. Yes, they are bigger and better! We got our money's worth. I feel on the dizzy side from dashing around getting signatures. I managed to get my face in the book at least a dozen times. Success!

The members of the Annual Staff were certainly strutting about proud as peacocks today. But it's understandable. They did a really good job. It's one grand Annual to immortalize one grand class!!

JUNE 14—GRADUATION. And now my high school career is really finished. How I've longed for this day. I feel real proud of myself. The Commencement exercises were very solemn — quite fitting I'd say considering that it's a solemn moment when a person steps out of one role into another — out of school where much was done for us into life where we're on our own. Had a big time doing the town after graduation.

FINIS

Class Prophecy

Now that I have made the last entries in my diary, it occurs to me that it would be interesting to jot down the hopes and ambitions of my classmates in the Senior Class. Some of them have lofty ideas as to what the future has in store for them; some can't be serious long enough to give thought to how they will earn their living! Now there's Jimmie Peppers. He wants to be a chemical engineer. Paul Oestreicher wants to be a pharmacist; Pat Byrd hopes to be a teacher; Charles Ciolino wants to be a professional football player; James Clemons, a lawyer; and Opal Covert, a telephone operator. Joe Mazzei has ambitions to be a chemist; Jane Wetterich, a C. P. A.; Edwin O'Bryan, a book-keeper; and Lee Robinson, a model. Why, here comes Uncle Louie.

"Hi, Uncle Louie."

"Whatever are you doing, child?"

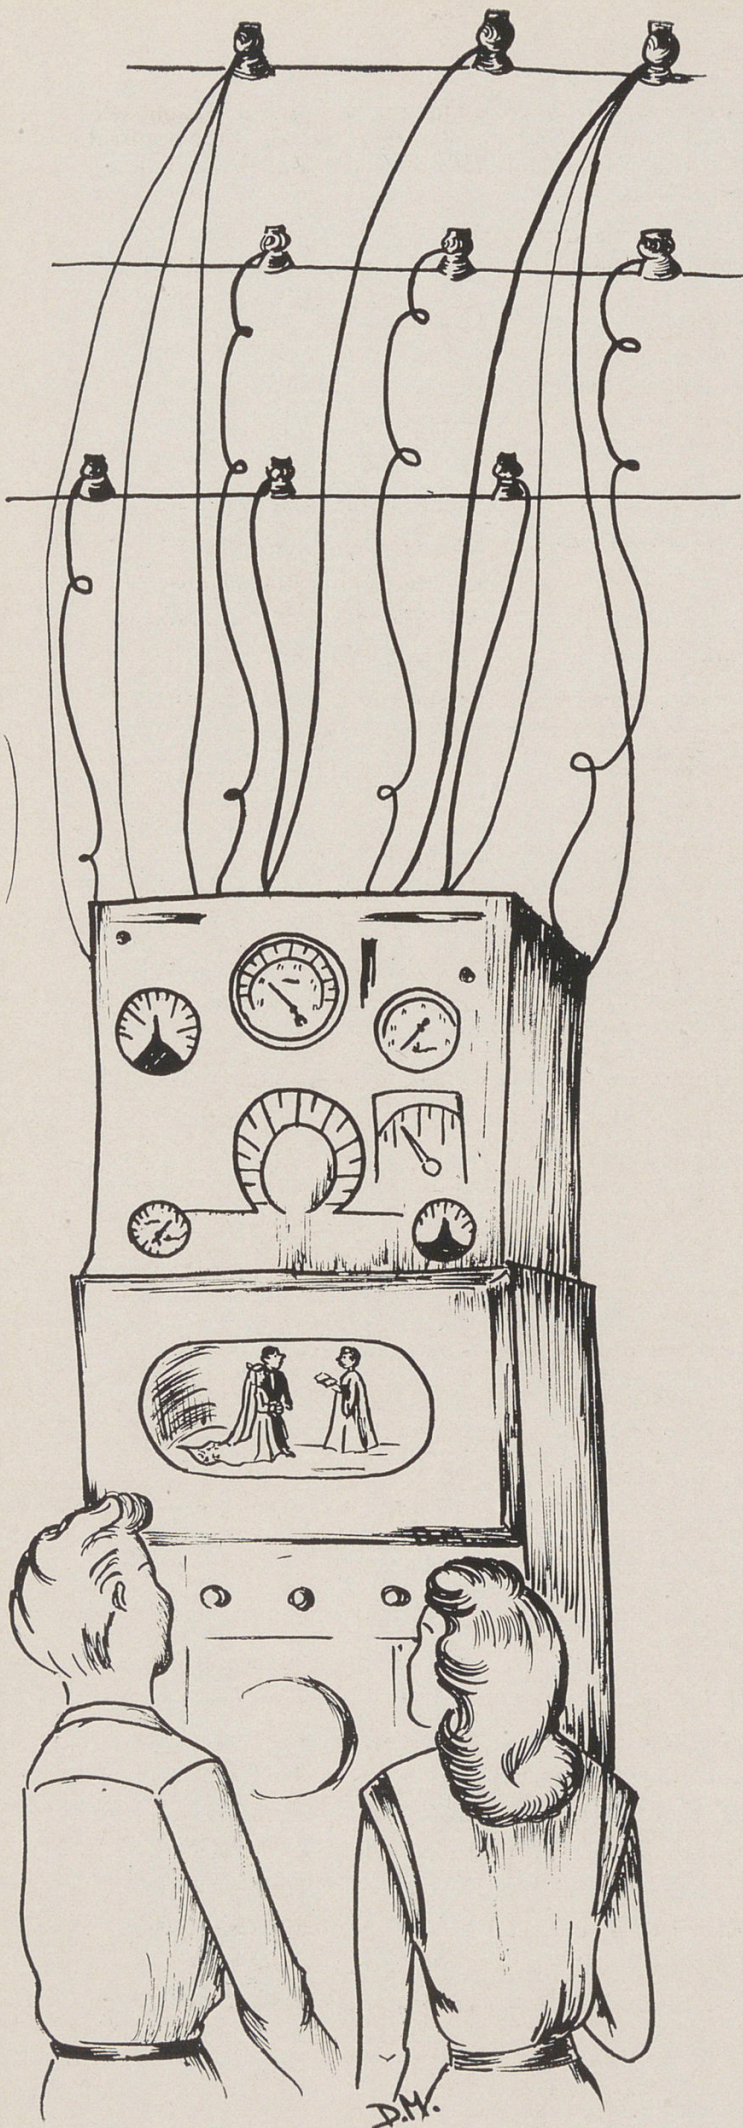

"Oh, I've just been jotting down a few of the ambitions of the kids at school. I was thinking that it would be fun to be able to look back in a few years and see whether or not they achieve the ambitions they had when they were at school."

"A good idea, but how does the idea strike you to actually take a look into the future?"

"But how could that be possible?"

"It could be arranged. You know that new invention I've been working on, my Time Machine? Maybe we could try it out. Get a couple of your friends and come over to my laboratory tomorrow morning."

It has been several days since I started this, and it is good to get back and be able to record what happened at Uncle Louie's laboratory. We were filled with apprehension as we approached the huge gray building where Uncle Louie conducted his experiments. As we entered his laboratory, we were filled with a sense of awe because while we did not know exactly what to expect, we did know that the machine was supposed to transport us into the future and allow us to view the world at any time of our choice. Wouldn't you have been a bit frightened at the prospect? Well, so were we. Uncle Louie met us. In the center of the room was a large machine, so complicated that it overwhelmed us. Wires and great black dynamos were everywhere. In the middle of the cabinet was a screen, and Uncle Louie explained to us that on that screen he could picture for us the happenings of any day in the future. We said we would like to see what the 1948 Woodward graduates would be doing in June, 1958. The prospect startled us because it didn't seem quite right to spy, as it were, on the boys and girls whom we would be seeing again in a short time in the present. Uncle Louie turned the dial and pictures began to flash on the screen. Not only did we see pictures but we also heard voices! We recognized the voice of Mr. Fulks even before the picture cleared. He was talking to BILLY GORE who we realized was now a successful newspaper editor. As the picture and voices became clearer, this is what we heard.

"Yes, the graduates of 1948 were truly outstanding. Such a vast array of successful individuals — successful in so many different fields. Yes, you could write a very interesting editorial on this topic. Now, there's JOE JILES, famous for his daily comic strip published in hundreds of papers throughout the country; EUGENE GAMBLE, CHARLES CADLE, DAVID WILLIAMS, and JAMES BURKE, outstanding engineers; MARY HILDEBRAND, one of the few feminine judges in the country; ASHLEY BAKER, leader of his own band; NANCY FARMER, just chosen outstanding model of the year; ROOSEVELT BERRY, head chef at the Plaza Terrace; and HELEN YEE, the modern Madame Curie. Some of the '48 graduates have even come back to Woodward to teach. Shall we stroll around the school for old times' sake and you can see for yourself. There's GILBERTA BOND, our new psychologist — we could have used her back in '48; MARCELLA GRIGSBY and PAT BYRD are athletic instructors in the girls' department where PAT specializes in the teaching of Judo — dare we say she learned it back in '48 — there were so many wolves in the class; while DONALD McFINLEY is in the boys' physical education department. Oh, here's 207, still the nursery for the Bulldog. That's where you got your start, isn't it, BILLY? VIRGINIA REUSING is the journalism teacher now — a second Mrs. Walker! CONNIE SANTORO is teaching geometry. Amazing, isn't it? Oh, here's the office of MARGIE DOERR, truant officer. She's very good — knows all the angles of absenteeism. DeLOIS DAGLEY is an English teacher and EILEEN MOSS is teaching typing while marking time until she finds a millionaire husband! EMMA GROB teaches singing with time out periodically for a concert tour. We're very enlightened here at Woodward these days!"

As BILLY left Woodward, he headed for his office in Cincinnati's newest skyscraper, located at Fifth and Walnut. As he walked down Walnut Street, he greeted FRANK ALLISON, now a big-time operator, dressed in the very latest of masculine fashions, and JAMES JACKSON who looked quite dapper himself; JANE WETTERICH, famous as a bubble gum tester (as we watched she blew a giant bubble right there on the street!); and JUANITA STALLINGS, the social worker, walking with her sailor husband. Farther on he met GEORGIA WATSON with an even half dozen children. Along came MATTIE YEBY, with her four sets of twins, hurrying to the Nursery School conducted by ALBERTA MILES, who is meanwhile waiting for her rich uncle to die!

As he entered his office building, he met reporter ETTA DELANEY and they stopped to glance at the directory in the lobby, right next to CAROL SCHENEIDER'S elevator. Here we left them and the next picture which flashed on the screen was a busy office on the 36th floor. It was the establishment of TED ADKINS, millionaire importer. In the reception room where JOAN JASPERS and JEANNIE GREGG, receptionists, and at a switch board, IMOGENE FLINCHEM was plugging away. There was a crew of stenographers and typists at work. ANN DANSBERRY, JO ANN EDWARDS, HELEN SUSONG, EVELYN GELLMAN, MAY THORNHILL, JEAN REUCKERT, and MARY ANN SANTEN. Book-keeper FUNG CHOW was hard at work, while ROSE EPPERSON and MELBA HALBERSTADT worked busily at their comptometers. File clerk BETTY WILSON, who insists on filing the names of possible husbands for herself in among company papers to the confusion of her fellow workers, worked happily away.

Next we saw the office of DAVID MATTAN and RICHARD LUDWIG, accountants, talking to their secretaries, ESTHER SUSSHINE and SHIRLEY NEIROUTER. ROBERT HENRY, the famous lawyer, with his girl Friday, RUTH BURNS, who is still looking for that rich husband so that she can sleep till noon each day, were in serious conference. Their discussion centered around WILLIAM TOLLIVER, the well-known journalist who was having copyright difficulties.

On the 12th floor, we were taken into the office and private hospital of Dr. THOMAS BUGGE. He insists that his nurses be most efficient and capable, and while he would not admit it, pretty besides. So we were not surprised to see nurses PAT MAHAFFEY and JANET LOCKARD. Moving into the hospital, we saw nurses JEAN DICKERSON and BETTY JEAN WEIGHTMAN solicitously hovering over brawny patients. Bustling about were nurses MATTIE ROBERT'S, ROSZELLA BROCKMAN, CARETHA BUIE, BEATRICE WILLIAMS, WINONA COLE, LORETTA GAINES, and BOBBIE LOVE. In her small office, ANNABELL WILLIAMS, dietician, was busy planning the day's menu with MILTON GREER, diminutive cook, hovering at her side. Wringing her hands was ELIZABETH YEAGER, dishwasher, who was seeing mountains of dishes rising sky-high in the diet kitchen. In his office, pharmacist ROBERT SWISS-HELM was busy concocting Dr. BUGGE'S famous prescription for "BUGGE JUICE", while ROSE ADAMS, laboratory technician, went calmly about her business.

On another floor we saw the Commercial School conducted by CATHERINE GRAF and JOYCE McCAMPBELL. There were typing teachers JULIA HANDLEY, SADIE MULLINS, and ELSIE THOMAS. Loyalty was one of the virtues acquired at Woodward! All is excitement because AGNES SWEITZER, typing champion, is to give an exhibition. Next was the office of THOMAS GARNER, auditor, and his aids, RITA GREEN and EVELYN JOHNSON. One last picture carried us into the advertising agency of JOHN BENNETT and WILLIAM POWELL. Off on one side of the room the office force was hard at work. We saw familiar faces — BERTHA BURKS, BETTY TAYLOR, DORIS MILON, and ROMA YARBROUGH. In came commercial artists THEODORE SIMMONS and EDWARD GARMON with layouts they had prepared. At this point several giggling girls came in, among them ERMA BURNETT, LILLIAN WILLIAMS, DELLA MATTHEWS, and SHIRLEY CARLOCK. They picked up the now primping stenographers and off they went to lunch.

Slowly, picture by picture, we were carried up town. We noted JOHN QUINN chauffeuring millionaire RUTH JONES to a musicale for the benefit of the Woodward Scholarship Fund. We were given a glimpse of the performers, BETTY HURST and Laverne BOLLER, vocalists. We saw MARGARET CHIPMAN, still with her sweet tooth, stop in VERNON HELLER'S candy shop. Everyone says he makes candy as good as his father did. The sign over the pharmacy next door read "JOAN AMARENO, Modern Apothecary". Inside EDWARD BUSCH was making a purchase — Sen-sen, and at the same time keeping an eye out for any charmer who might pass by the door, still the Casanova. On the other side of the store, would-be pharmaceutical chemists PAUL OESTREICHER and JOE MAZZEI were jerking double chocolate sodas for drooling customers EVELYN HAZELY, IDA LEE THORNTON, and ROBERT TWITTY.

Our next stop was the Circus Grounds where the circus promoted by RAY JOHNSON and GARFORD HOY was being held. At the entrance CHARLES CIOLINO with his fruit cart was chucking all the pretty girls under the chin and trying to make them buy the watermelons he was peddling. Who was selling tickets but EDWARD BURKE, with charming MARY HELEN VOLZ taking the tickets. A loud voice we heard turned out to be coming from CHARLES BROMWELL, barker deluxe.

"Ladeez and Gents, right inside see RENA JOHNSON, fan dancer unexcelled; ANN PENNINGTON, the world wonder with hair so long she can wrap it around her like a cloak; RUTH SHEWMAKER and her flea circus; EDWARD TWYMAN, world champion weight lifter; VIRGINIA GIRTEN, the bearded lady; and THEODORE LINDSEY, sword swallower! Have your fortune told by Madame MARY BIRKS, she knows all and tells all. Watch MARY LOUISE PENNINGTON, master of trick pool shots. After the show see PEGGY THRUMBLE give her exhibition of stunt flying and ROSE YEE make her death-defying parachute jump!"

Under the tent we saw a wonderful show, and some of the performers were Woodward graduates of '48. There were bareback riders JACQUELINE KUZNICZKI and ERMA GROSSER, so lively and graceful; tight rope walker ANNE WEST; and aerialists PAT ROBERTS and WILLIAM SCHROER. Several of the clowns looked familiar. There were RAY ASHBROOK and CARL WELLS with JOE DAVIS as a policeman clown. HAROLD PHILLIPS expertly put his trained bears through their paces.

Carried along we saw MARY RYAN demonstrating her newest invention, a fountain pen that wrote on paper! Among the crowd gathered around to learn more about this phenomenon were DONALD WILLIAMS, ARTHUR HACKET, LULA BELLE LONG, HELEN HARRIS, JEAN RUNYAN, and ROY BEARE with Eileen. Close by was WAYNE WILSON, handsome as ever, but of all things, selling balloons!

Near the exit was HERMAN CHANNELL wearing a tall chef's hat, expertly roasting weinies and serving them to his eager customers. These included WILA GAINES and her three little tykes, ROSE MARIE WYATT, JUANITA CROWDER, and CORA SANDERS on a half holiday from their office, and FRED MATHES, who has heard that the mustard on the weinies will grow hair on your head! Our last view of the circus was a picture of DORIS BLEDSOE and RUTH CRAWFORD attempting to round up a group of about fifty children they had brought from the free-day nursery.

"Strike three" — and we knew we were at Crosley field. An exciting game was in progress — the Cincinnati Reds vs. the All-Star Girls. As we looked closely we could spot some familiar faces on both teams. There were ERNEST HUNTER, HAROLD WALLER, and JACK HOOPES, with bat boys CHARLES BALLARD and RALEIGH CUNDIFF. Even after ten years these two were fussing and poking one another as they did at Woodward. We were amazed to see FLORA HEHN, CHARLOTTE MERRILL, DOLORES EVANS, and RUTH DAVIS on the girls' team. Imagine! In a choice box we saw BETTY HASTINGS, BETTY MUELLER, EDITH DAVIS, WANDA POOLE, and BETTY RILEY. In the grandstand we could see business partners AUBURN McDONALD and LEROY McMATH; HILDA WHITEHEAD buying a bag of peanuts from ACE DAVIS; IRIS FELDER, the funeral director without a body this fine day; and a gay party made up of ETHEL SHAFER, ALMIRA WOLFRUM, and MAE THORNHILL. Could be this was Ladies' Day!

A turn of the dial and we were in the Union Terminal. People were milling everywhere. Up one of the ramps came railroad employees EDWARD HARRIS, CHARLES LUSTER, and GEORGE HAMILTON, with JOHN HENDERSON and GEORGE PURIFY who were dressed in the uniform of the Railway Mail Service. Accompanying this group was WILEY WEST and JULIUS TURNER, railroad mechanics, deep in conversation with LOUIS GAINEY, the railroad's electrical engineer.

We saw LLOYD CHARLTON whose band was scheduled to play an engagement at Coney Island. He had really made a name for himself. Along with him came the members of his band, some of whom we recognized — HERBERT NORMAN, EDISON GORE, MARY TAYLOR who plays the Glockenspiel, HERBERT MICHELL, BETTY KINEBREW, KENNETH MARSHALL, JEAN THOMAS, and THELMA VOGEL. Forming a little group of their own came the members of his vocal quartet, MARTHA SCOTT, PEGGY CARMACK, MARY HANSON, and HILDA FALLINGS.

We noticed JIMMY PEPPERS, so handsome in his Army uniform, and we stared wide-eyed at the five stars on his shoulders. How handsome, Admiral EUGENE ABBOTT! What a pair!! As they walked past Traveler's Aid, out dashed ALLENE QUIGG and MARTHA KIRK to lend what aid they could! Next we saw CHARLES BANKS, back from one of his cross-country jaunts; CORRINE WILLIAMS and FRANKIE McCRARY beginning another of their tours as concert pianists; WILMA LITTELL, the Congresswoman from Cincinnati, just in from Washington; GERALDINE LAMPKIN, world traveler and lecturer, accompanied by her secretaries LaVONA BROWNE and LOUISE SCOTT. We really felt like the original "Arriving or Leaving" man but the pictures continued to flash before us. There was ROBERT HALCOMB, still the play-boy, just back from a winter in Florida; LOUISE JONES who was such a hit in the New York night clubs; DOROTHY MORELAND, swimming champion who had long since eclipsed Esther Williams.

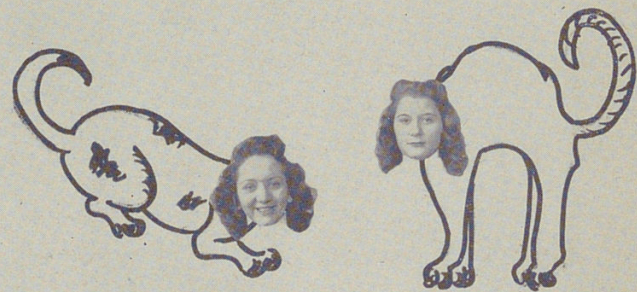

Moving along deep in thought was RAYMOND GRIZZARD, the well-known and well-beloved preacher of nationwide reputation, evidently thinking over material for his next sermon. An effusive greeting by MARY HUNTER, ROBERT AUSTIN, and ELOISE NELSON swept him out of his reverie and recalled him to the present and the speaking engagement he had in Cincinnati. Among some Hollywood stars arriving on a train from California were RUTH MURRAY, EDWIN O'BRYAN, the successor of Peter Lorre, and MARIE KILBURN still pursuing the glamor boys. There were ANNA SCRUGGS and PHILIP STARKS, the great opera singers, and SARAH GAINEY and PAULINE MIDDLETON, well-known radio comedy team.

Next we saw several suburban scenes. Making her way to the beauty shop operated by BARBARA JOHNSON and JEANETTE McNEAR was JUANITA HARRIS, trailed by her six children who will really make life interesting for the beauticians! On the next corner was an upholstering shop operated by RUSSEL BOEHM and ERNEST FRYE, newly returned from sailing the seven seas. A sign over an impressive funeral home named ATHYLEE ROBINSON, mortician. She models on the side! Signs proclaimed JEANNETTE BRYANT, Interior Decorator; Modistes VERA HARRIS, THELMA JOHNSON, and DORIS MADDOX; DAVID GRIGSBY and PERCY WHITE, Tailors; BETTY LAWRENCE, D. D. S. (her dentist is one of her patients!); and PATRICIA RAYMOND, Home for Doggy Doggies. Displayed in the window of a bookstore operated by MARY MILLS, now married to Harry, we saw gayly jacketed novels written by LUVENIA MATTHEWS and GRACE AUSTIN who collaborate on terrific love stories. We saw AUDREY RUEHL, EILEEN WOOD, and MARGARET BLACK, contented housewives, taking an afternoon stroll. Pushing a baby carriage, PAULINE FOSTER hastened along. Staggering home under stacks of papers to be graded were teachers MARY BENNETT, MARY COVINGTON, BERTIE CRAIG, and VERDELL JOHNSON. Times have changed, eh! Walking sedately along with several of her students from the Convent School was a tiny robed nun who turned out to be former THERESA HILL, now calm and serene. Walking with her charges was MYRTLE HOSKINS. Yes, they were tall handsome veterans who couldn't tear themselves away from the rest home where MYRTLE was hostess! We noted a garage operated by BOB CARRIER and HERSCHEL BOURNE, and inside mechanics ELMER SCHWEIKERT and HARRY ROBERTS were hard at work. On the corner was RUBY BRATTON's Pre-Kindergarten School and no small part of her troubles was caused by LORETTA LUKEN'S mischievous quintuplets.

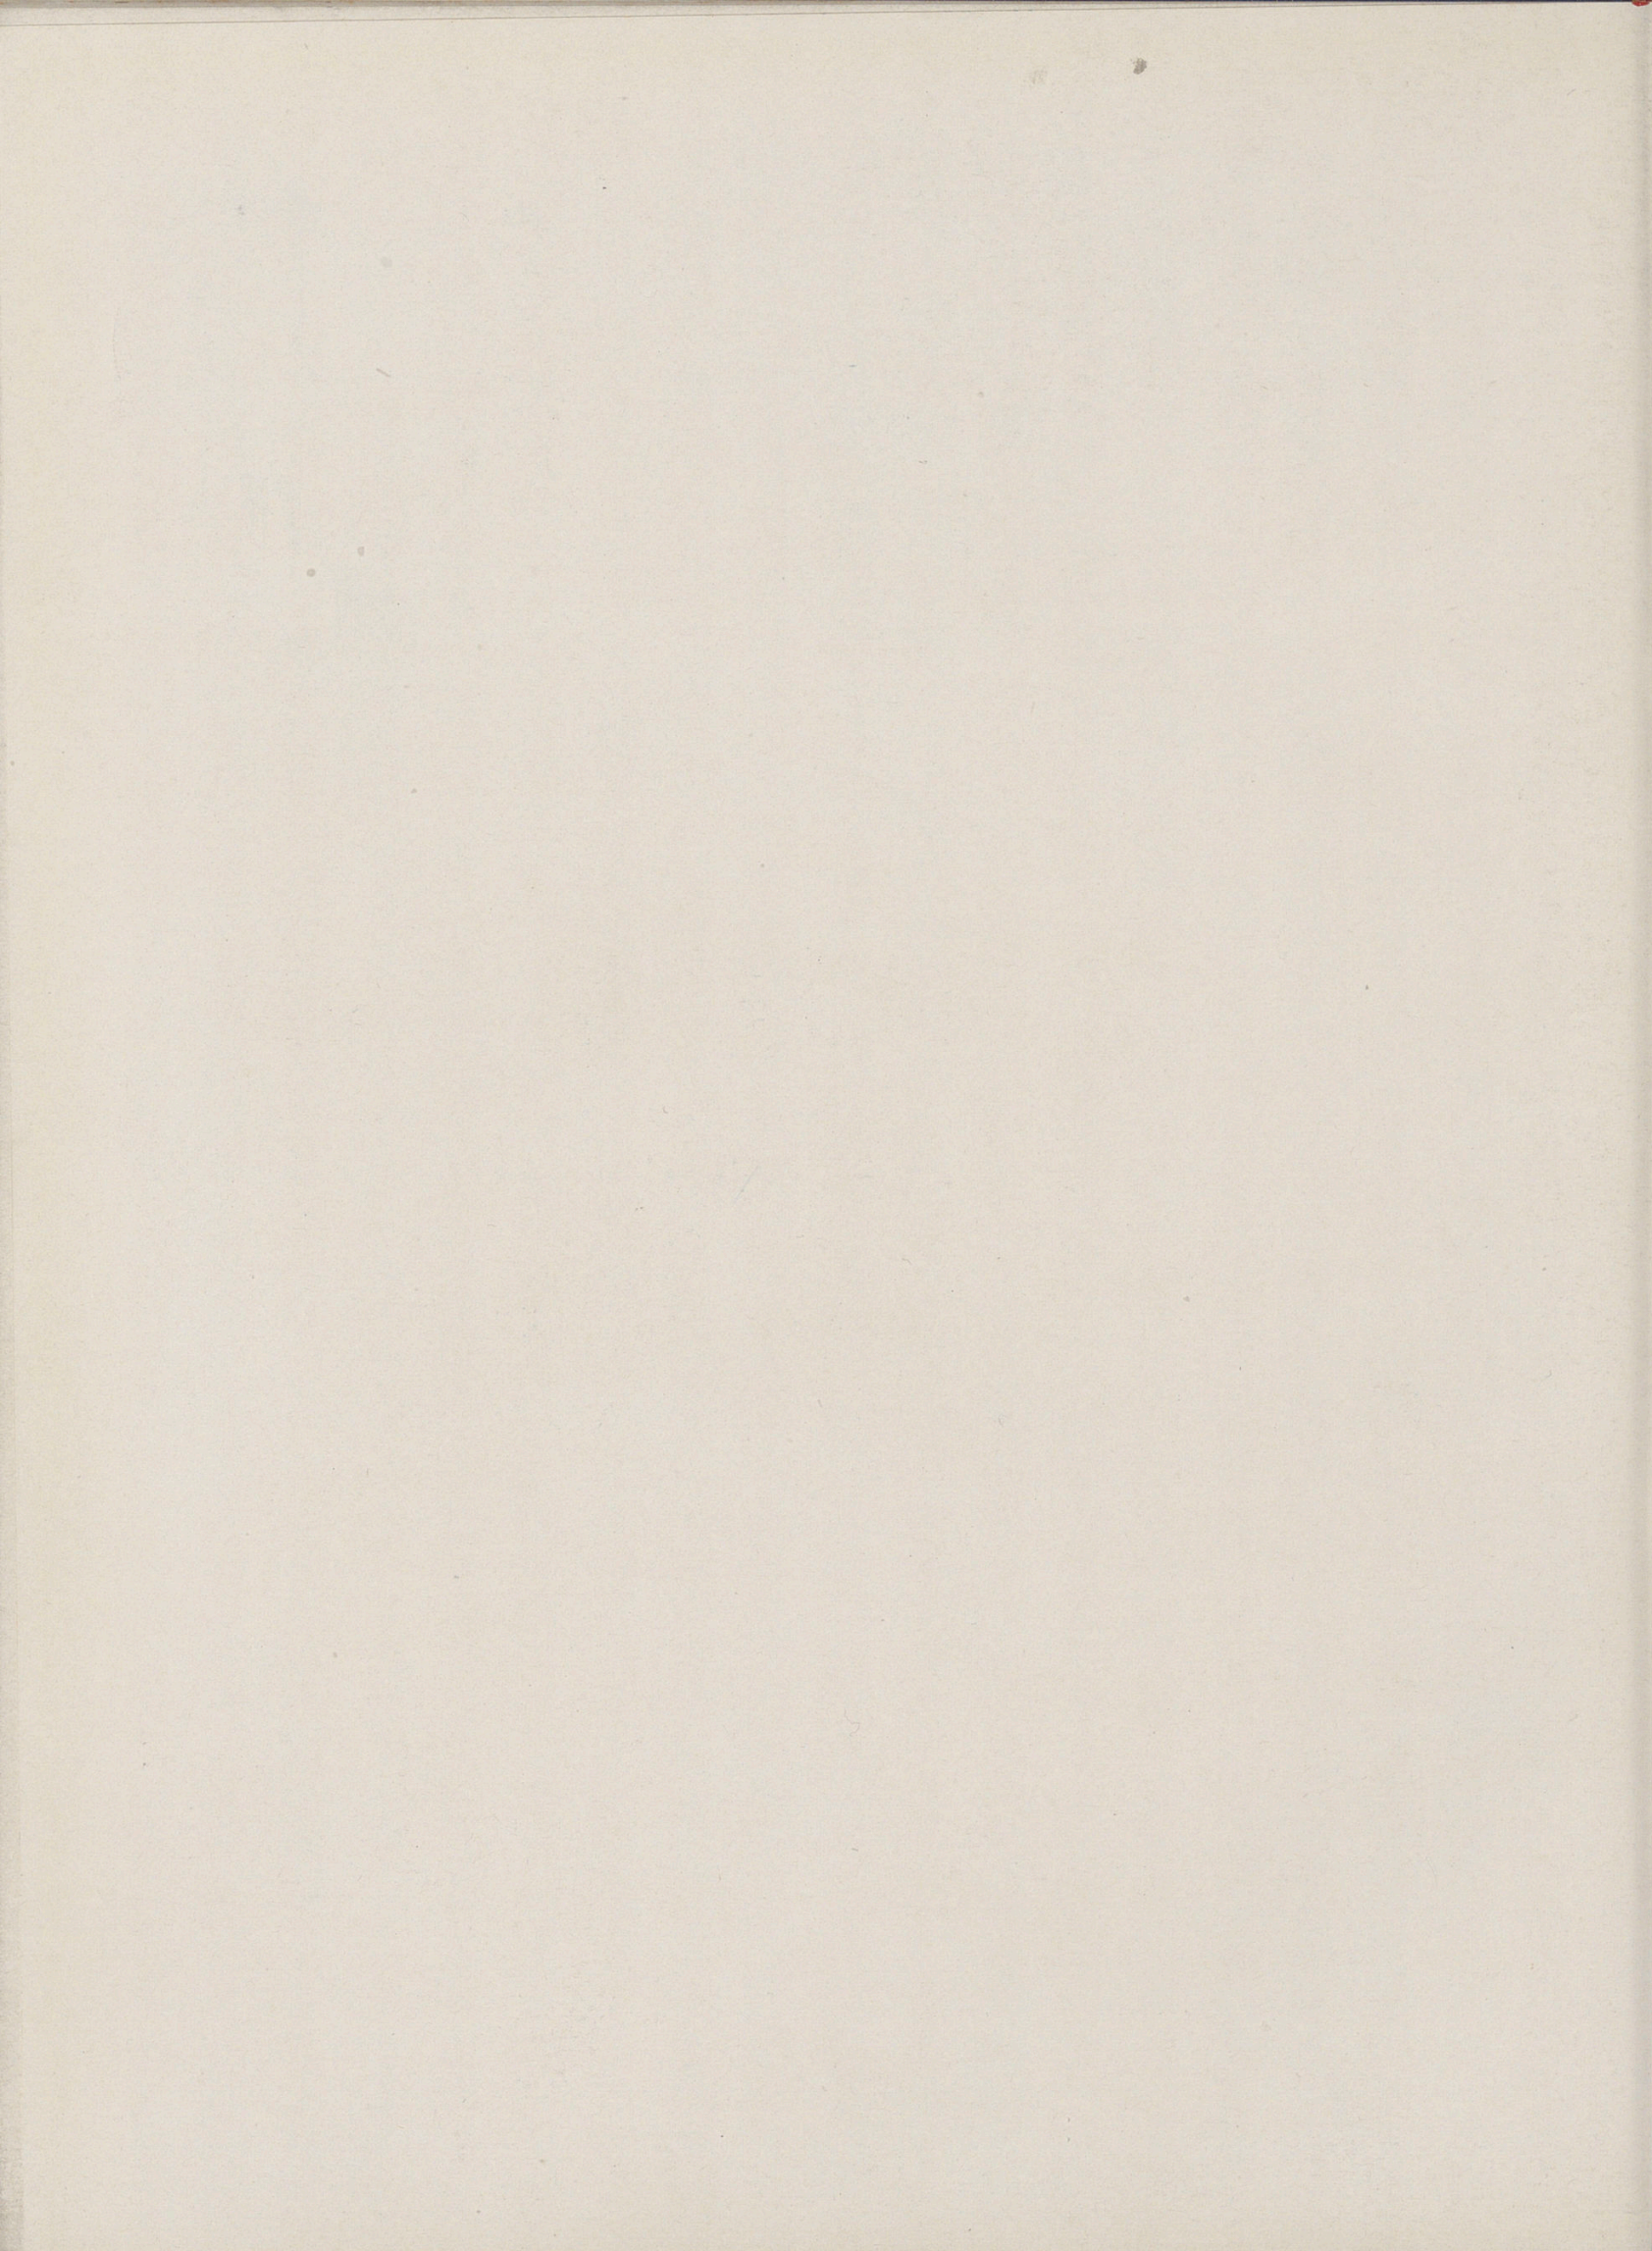

Suddenly we were back in downtown Cincinnati. It was night and the signs were flashing. Before us was a famous restaurant. BILL CRELLIN was head waiter, and very dignified he looked too. He was showing a party of former Woodward students to their table—RONALD HARTMANN, CHLOE SAUNDERS, HERSCHEL PRIVITT, EVELYN FORTUNATO, WANDA McCORMICK, JEAN PICKELSIMER, and FRANK ROSEY. Toward the end of the meal out came HENRY JACKSON, head chef in the French manner, who began deftly to prepare the crepe suzettes.

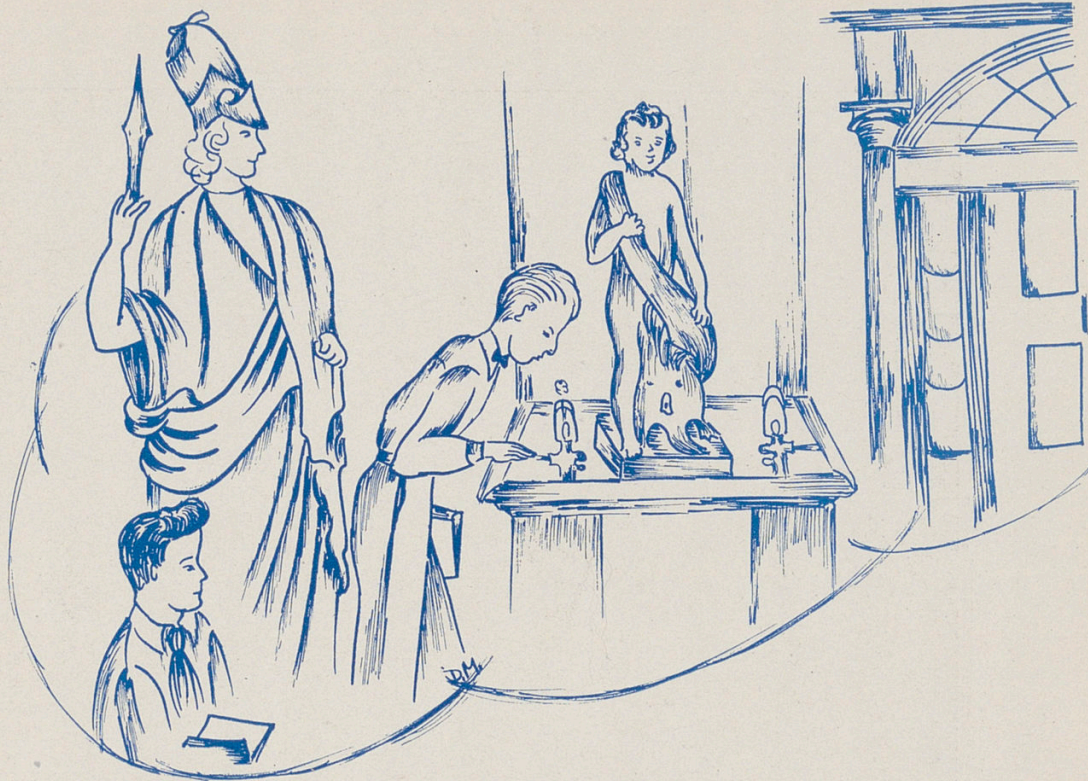

The next scene was out on the street where we saw our party of ex-Woodwardites gazing at the theater marquee where flashed the sign, "Love in Bloom", featuring JANE LAND and WENDELL BAIRD. They seemed to be deciding whether to go to a movie or a night club. Evidently the latter won because the next scene was inside a night club. LAUNA HEATHERLY and her all-girl band was providing the music. RITA FIORESI was playing the piccolo, FRANCES WILLIAMS, the flute, and CONNIE SUCKLING, the baritone horn, while CHARLOTTE BENNETT, girl tenor, provided the vocals. We were just in time for the floor show. NORMA WHATLEY and LEONARD BREWER appeared as a dance team, (they were excellent); MARY FOSTER did imitations; FLORA HANEY sang a romantic love song; and CINDERELLA BISHOP and RUTH BURDICK danced.

As we watched, the clock on the wall moved around to twelve, midnight, and with the bonging of the chimes, the picture before us faded from the screen and all was black. Our flight into the future had come to an end.

FACES AND PLACES

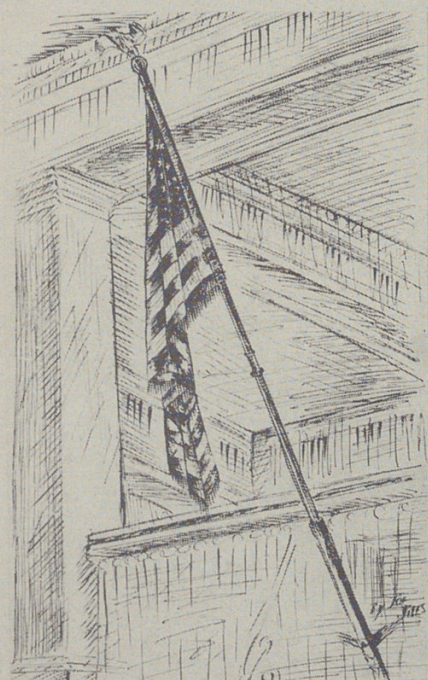

D. Moreland

Each morning as we approach the Broadway entrance of Woodward High School, we see the statue of William Woodward. His kindly face looks down upon us and brings to our minds thoughts of the man who made possible, through his determination and love, the Woodward High School which we are privileged to attend. The sight of his face and the knowledge of the strong heart that beats within him inspires us to strive to live up to the ideals held by this gallant man. We pass the statue of William Woodward and enter into the halls of Woodward High School where a series of Faces and Places will make up a school day.

At the end of the day we joyously leave Woodward's portals, little realizing that during this one day we have acquired another group of memories to value now and to treasure in later years — memories of a word or two with friends and teachers, a small task successfully completed, a favor received or given, a bond of friendship secured. Just as we emerge a little bit better each day, so at the end of our four years do we emerge a great deal the better for having had the privilege of being a part of Woodward — the Woodward of great traditions and high standards, the Woodward which is so truly the "brightest light of the Queen of all the West".

VARSITY FOOTBALL

RESERVE FOOTBALL

Varsity Football

The Varsity Football Squad was composed of about thirty boys who worked hard during their practice sessions and who played in their scheduled games to the best of their ability. They were handicapped by inexperience, very few lettermen from last year being available, and by a lack in size and weight. But the Bulldogs fought stubbornly and considering some of the games they played, their record of eight games lost and one game tied was not as discouraging as it might seem. With most of this year's team returning next year, Coach Alexander will be working with more experienced players and with boys who will develop physically before next season. So Woodward can anticipate a better season next year. But we are proud of this year's team because they played hard clean football and exemplified the good sportsmanship and the grit for which Woodward is known. Games were played with the following: Lawrenceburg, St. Xavier, Lockland, Hamilton Catholic, Walnut Hills, Central Vocational, Lima, and Hartwell.

First Row: George Patton — Manager, Dave Thomas, Bill Telfer, Ronald Hartman, Julius Turner, Ace Davis, Wallace Smith, Sam Williams, Louis Watkins, Abie Glover, Gene Abbott — Manager.

Second Row: Ryland Herndon, Howard Roberts, Gilbert Kuntz, William Burton, Kenneth Sharp, Gerald Coleman, Raleigh Cundiff, Charles Ballard, Wendell Baird, Leroy Beckum.

Reserve Football

The Reserve Football Team under the leadership of Coach Reeves was unsuccessful in acquiring any victories this season, but the boys who participated in these contests gained invaluable experience from practice and competition. This squad is the proving ground for future varsity players, and next year's varsity team will welcome into its ranks the cream of this year's reserve squad.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

RESERVE BASKETBALL

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Varsity Basketball Team coached by Mr. Edward Eshman came to be known this year as the hard luck team. Although the boys held on with that persistent Bulldog spirit characteristic of all our athletic teams, they were on the losing end of the score in all the games they played. The breaks of the game seemed to be against them, especially in games where victory hinged on the last minutes of play. But the boys fought hard and clean and Woodward can be proud of the team. Out of their play has developed traits of teamwork and sportsmanship, basic qualifications for good citizenship. If our teams can always do this, we can be proud of them even if they don't always win. Games were played with the following schools: Xavier, Hughes, Walnut Hills, Elder, Lockland, Withrow, Central, Purcell, North College Hill, and Roger Bacon.

First Row: Eugene Fryer, Eugene Harper, Jack Hoopes, Ken Sharp, Eugene Miracle.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

The Reserve Basketball Team coached by Mr. Clifford Alexander had a successful season this year. While the team did not win many games, those games it lost were lost by slight margins. The boys practiced conscientiously and played hard in competition. They always displayed the true Woodward spirit of good sportsmanship and, winning or losing, played to the best of their ability. Since the reserve team serves as the training ground for future varsity players, the success of this year's group would seem to indicate the transfer of some excellent basketball talent to next year's varsity team.

First Row: Eugene McHargue, Jack Long, Harold Back, Ronald Wilson, Willie Anderson, Frank Haynes.

FRESHMEN BASKETBALL

The Freshman Team was composed of a group of boys who were just beginning their athletic ventures. These boys, with ambition for future varsity membership, were coached by Mr. Robert Kraushar. He worked hard to make good basketball players out of them. Although they did not win the city freshman basketball crown, they did win a proportionate number of their games. Practice for competition and participation in competitive play provided valuable training for these young athletes, training not only in the game of basketball, but training in sportsmanship and good fellowship. Always they exhibited that spirit of determination and fair play so characteristic of Woodward's athletes.

First Row: Gene Carney, Howard Franklin, Ronald Wilson, Frank Slaughter, Jack McClary.

Second Row: Harold Jeter, Sam Barnett, Emerson Watts, Ernest Morehead, Algner Broach, Willie Clay.

VOLLEYBALL

The members of the Volleyball Championship Teams, both senior and junior, were selected from the best volleyball players in the gymnasium classes. They were organized into teams and were sent to represent Woodward in the tournament sponsored by the Public High School League. They accepted the challenge of tournament play, and went out and won the P. H. S. L. championships in both senior and junior fields. Woodward is proud of this group of boys who went out to Walnut Hills gymnasium and brought another championship to Woodward High School.

First Row: Roy McClellan, Richard Beare, Donald Knight, Jewell Merritt, Shelton Fleming, Eugene Webb.

BASEBALL

The baseball season is just getting under way as the Annual goes to press. Our Bulldogs got off to a fine start when they defeated Lockland 13-0 in the first game. In the second encounter Central defeated us 7-1 but the game was marked by brilliant defensive plays by our boys.

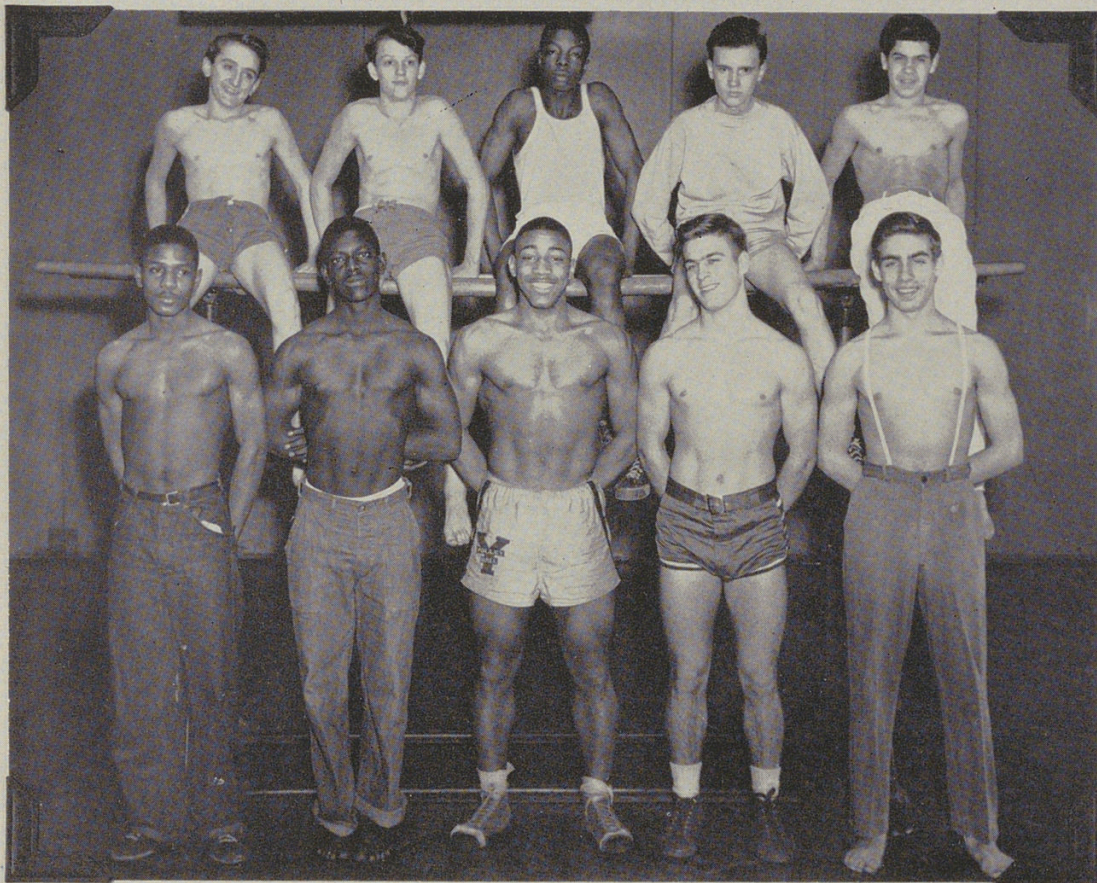

We have the makings of a good team and hope that the boys have a good season. Earl Rice is the backbone of the pitching staff; Harold Waller is the new find in center field; and Ronald Hartman is wielding the big bat so far, with Bobbie Harris close behind. Harry Roberts is our capable catcher.

Some of the opponents we have yet to face are Western Hills, Withrow, Walnut Hills, Hartwell, Hughes, St. Xavier, Elder, Bacon and Purcell.

First Row: Carlos Eastham, Jack Hoopes, Ronald Hartman, Ken Sharp, Harold Waller, James Clemons.

Second Row: Leroy Beckham, Frank Haynes, Harry Roberts, Howard Roberts, Ronald Warren.

Third Row: Ronald Wilson, Earl Rice, Edward Harris, Shelton Fleming.

GYM

TRACK TEAM

GYM TEAM

Usually there are two gym teams, a senior team and a junior team. This year Woodward has developed only the junior team, as material for the senior team was not available. Jack Hoopes and Edward Twyman were the only senior members in the group, and as a team could not be organized, these two boys had to participate as individuals in the meets. The team was under the supervision of Mr. Clifford Alexander and from the results of the meets we would say that he did a fine job.

The Gym Team never fell below third place and it captured a second, four times and a third, twice. The boys themselves set several records and proved themselves worthy to represent Woodward at the meets. In senior competition, Hoopes generally placed in the events in which he participated. Our boys took the following all-around places in the Turners City Meet: Sofer, 2nd; Battle, 3rd; and Keith, 4th.

TRACK TEAM

The track team coached by Mr. Richard Bathiany showed very well this year. The team was comprised largely of material from last year's team and consequently showed unusually good form and championship ability. This will be the second year of track for the Bulldogs since the war. Woodward lacks a practice field and the matter of practice presents many difficulties. These problems were solved by the coach with the co-operation of the team. They are to be congratulated for the fine showing they made in spite of handicaps.

Meets were scheduled with the following schools: Purcell, Western Hills, Hughes, Walnut Hills, Withrow, St. Xavier, Norwood, and Plainville.

First Row: R. Shropshire, L. Schultz, J. Sofer, H. Partridge, S. Oliver, D. Craig, J. Hambrick, S. Blackwell, E. Abbott — manager.

Second Row: L. Whitehead, R. Battle, R. Herndon, E. Webb, M. Harris, R. Stallworth, J. House, W. Williams, D. Williams, D. Thomas, W. West, E. Twyman, F. Mathes.

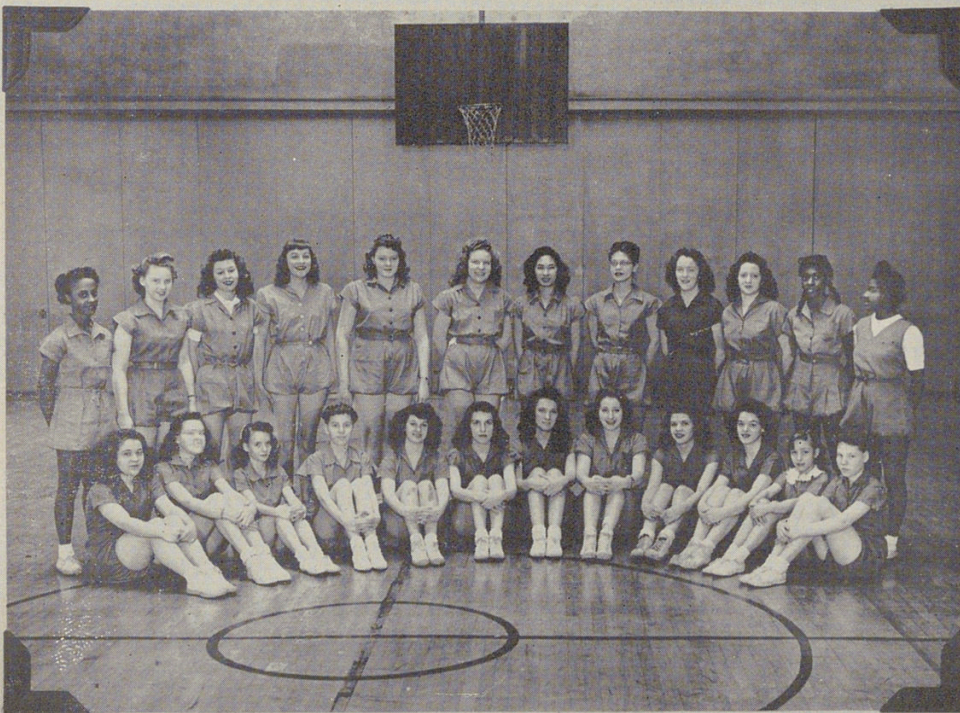

Third Row: Coach Bathiany, V. Canady, R. Berry, W. Tolliver, C. Castro, E. Miracle, L. McMath, W. Anderson, H. Mitchell, J. Long, H. Norman, Asst. Coach Hall.

Fourth Row: F. Allison, J. Jiles, E. Sofer, T. Lindsey, H. Channell, E. Hickman, S. Williams, S. Reynolds, E. Morris, D. McIntyre, G. Stapleton, E. Kuchne.

TUMBLING

G. A. A.

The letters G. A. A. stand for Girls' Athletic Association, a group composed of energetic girls who meet together on Wednesday and Thursday of every week. They play hockey in the fall at D  er Creek; volleyball and basketball in the gym during the winter; and softball at Filson Park in the spring. The girls thoroughly enjoy working informally with their supervisors, Mrs. Edna Rehkamp and Miss Betty Essel, who are just as enthusiastic as the girls themselves.

The officers of the G. A. A. are: Gilberta Bond, President; Rosemary Harley, Vice-President; Ruth Shewmaker, Recording Secretary; Norma Pennington, Corresponding Secretary; Bobbie Love, Treasurer; and Dorothy Moreland, Historian.

LIFE SAVING

Each Monday a group of girls under the helpful supervision of Miss Betty Essel learn and practice the skills of life saving. They also learn the technique of artificial respiration and how to care for the victim outside the pool. A girl must have passed the Red Cross Swimmers examination before she is ready to attempt the job of learning the technique of saving another person's life. The course begins with perfecting the basic swimming strokes and then proceeds with the techniques of life saving. Before a member gets the Red Cross Life Saving certificate and emblem, she must be able to get into the pool and successfully use the cross-chest carry, head carry, tired swimmers carry, and many other methods of rescuing drowning persons. She also must pass a written test on the contents of the textbook of the course. The usefulness of this knowledge in case of an emergency can never be overemphasized.

In the Water: Ann Dansberry, Pat Roberts.

Standing: Sarah Lunsford, Helen Stiedel, Pat Peters, Arlene Frank, Glenna Patrick, Shirley Neil, Charlene Lewis, Evelyn Gellman, Mary Roberts, Norma Sharp.

TUMBLING

The Tumbling Club is composed of girls who are interested in tumbling and mat stunts. It is not necessary to be expert in these skills in order to join the group. It is only required that the girls be willing to learn through hard and conscientious practice the fundamental skills of the tumbler's art. This will, plus the capacity for honest pride in accomplishment and perfection, is all that is necessary.

After the basic stunts such as forward rolls, backward rolls, and head stands have been learned well, more difficult skills such as chest rolls and handsprings are mastered. Then these are combined into stunts and group activities. Muscles may get a little sore at first, but it doesn't take much practice before muscle tone is attained and then comes pride in accomplishment, the reward for long and hard practice. Each year the Tumblers are given an opportunity in an auditorium assembly to exhibit the skills they have attained.

The club is under the supervision of Mrs. Edna Rehkamp. The members are grateful for her capable instruction and patient guidance.

Each year the Senior Class seeks to perpetuate the activities of its last year at Woodward High School in its publication, The Annual. Toward this end a staff is selected to work under the supervision of Miss Stella Tenhundfeld. This staff strives diligently to compile a yearbook that is as accurate and as interesting as possible, so that after a decade, or even a score of years, the graduates can recall to mind their high school chums and haunts by merely flipping its pages. Members of the staff are chosen for their ability in various fields such as art, business, and composition, so that the Annual may be a success both editorially and financially. Each part of the staff, from the Business Manager who keeps us out of the red to the Art Editor who adds the final frills and flourishes, handles its specific duties separately, yet in conjunction with the other staff members, and the latter, in turn, seek the co-operation of all the members of the Senior Class. Such a combination of individuality and co-operation is sure to lead to a successful memory book.

Although the actual work of publication is the work of the Annual Staff and its advisor, the success of an Annual becomes the responsibility of the entire Senior Class whose support and co-operation mean the difference between a good Annual and a mediocre publication. The Annual Staff wishes to acknowledge the co-operation of the entire Senior Class of 1948 and wishes to thank all the members for the manner in which they have supported its efforts. Special recognition must be given to certain individuals who have contributed in a particular way to the success of the Annual. Our thanks go to Miss Margaret Clark for her co-operation in the art work which appears in the Annual. Art students Dorothy Moreland, Ruby Bratton, Joe Jiles, James Jackson, Harold Steadman, and Henry Yee worked under her supervision to prepare the art work which appears in the Annual. We wish to acknowledge the co-operation of Miss Marjorie Callahan, typing teacher, who was always willing to permit the members of her fourth bell typing class to work on Annual manuscripts. Thanks particularly to De Lois Dagley, Jane Wetterich, Anna Pennington, Myrtle Hoskins, Margaret Chipman, Jeanne Rueckert, Jo Ann Edwards, and Mattie Yeby, who gave unstintingly of their time for Annual typing. We appreciate the efforts of Mr. Rubendunst in taking pictures for use in the Annual.

The problem of financing the Annual is a serious one, particularly at this time of high publication costs. To meet this problem we enlisted the co-operation of the entire student body, and we wish to thank all who subscribed to the yearbook. We also wish to thank those students who served as homeroom representatives. Thanks should also be extended to the group of students who solicited the advertisements. This is a relatively thankless and time consuming work, but a small group of students gave unselfishly of their time and energy and the Annual Staff wishes to express its appreciation of their efforts. This group included: De Lois Dagley, Rose Yee, Paul Oestreicher, Jeanne Gregg, Jane Wetterich, Robert Halcomb, Mattie Roberts, Ray Johnson, Charles Bromwell, Percy White, Mattie Yeby, Donald McFinley, Fung Chow, Herman Channel, Connie Williams, Milton Greer, Henry Jackson, Otto Trammel, John Henderson, Herman Coates, Mary Ellen Ehrhardt, and Charles Ballard.

AMERICAN PROBLEMS CLUBS

In 1940 the first American Problems Club was begun. The object of this course was to study problems of our democracy and to hear many points of view concerning controversial issues through discussion. In order to further such discussions, a club was formed in 1941 under the auspices of Miss Isabelle Levi and, taking its name from the course, became the American Problems Club. At first the club meetings followed the pattern of a Forum Meeting with any number of participants. During these first years the club gave several auditorium sessions. In 1943 Dr. Byron Williams, who was at that time moderator of the national Junior Town Meeting, presided at one of the club's auditorium sessions. This program was so successful that the Town Meeting technique, that is, four speeches followed by questions from the members or audience, was adopted by the club for permanent use.

Members of the club have often appeared with students from other schools on the Junior Town Meeting of the Air. In 1945 one member of the club won a trip to Washington for being considered the best of all public high school speakers in the Greater Cincinnati area, while in 1947 another member was honored by being among the few students asked to participate in a repeat broadcast. This year, 1948, something entirely new happened — a Junior Town Meeting was broadcast right from Woodward's own auditorium. "What Does Youth Expect from the Schools?" was the topic and all the speakers were members of the Woodward American Problems Club.

This year the club consists of three groups. Each group elects a chairman and co-chairman who alternate in acting as moderator. The club meetings are held during the regular class period twice a month with discussions on any topic of personal, national, or international interest.

Woodward Band

BAND

Woodward High School is proud to present its uniformed band. The band has grown steadily in size, and along with growth in size has come improvement in the quality of the music offered. Much musical talent has come to light through the activities of the band. The band has on numerous occasions presented programs made up of music of various types illustrating varying degrees of band virtuosity.

The Woodward High School Band has experienced the least reduction and turnover in its membership this year than in any other year since the war. The band started the school year with eighty-five members and has at the present time eighty members. The director regrets that he will lose thirty-five to forty through graduation this year. However, there will be approximately forty-five players ready for promotion into the band. Performances of importance included the playing at six football games, a concert at Taft Auditorium for the State P. T. A. convention, the music provided for Woodward's Reunion and Founder's Day programs, the program presented in an Assembly for the entire school, the Spring Concert, the City Band Festival, and the Flag Day Parade.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir is a firmly established organization at Woodward High School. It was established nine years ago by Mr. William Rimanoczy, who is still the director of the group. The choir has developed into a well-trained, a cappella singing group which has won wide acclaim for its many accomplishments. During this year the choir has appeared in many programs throughout the city. They have sung in many churches. Among these were the Rockdale Jewish Synagogue and Wesley Chapel. The choir sang at the Founder's Day program in honor of William Woodward, founder of the school. The A Cappella Choir has sung for eight years as a robed choir. This year they have new uniforms—blue robes with gold stoles. Any student with average musical ability may join the choir. For choir membership to prove beneficial to both the student and the organization, members must be faithful in attendance and practice. Because this has been true of all choir groups in the past, Woodward's A Cappella Choir has become an outstanding singing group.

Membership in the A Cappella Choir is as follows:

FIRST SOPRANOS: Joan Amareno, Ruth Crawford, Catherine Graf, Betty Hurst, Martha Scott, Athylee Robinson, Patsy Tepe, Rosetta Wright.

G. S. W.

About eight years ago Miss Hazel Orr organized a group of outstanding senior girls of Woodward High School to form the G. S. W. (Goal Striving Woodwardites). The G. S. W. is composed of senior girls who have traits of leadership and scholarship. Miss Orr still directs this organization and each year the girls and Miss Orr try to promote better service to needy causes.

The program of the club includes the Little Sister Project, aid for the Colored Orphanage, and visits to the Orphanage. The Little Sister Project involves a set-up whereby the members of G. S. W. have little sisters in Woodward whom they help whenever help is needed. Each girl has a certain number of freshman girls under her guidance. Throughout the year the G. S. W. girls worked on projects of their own, such as knitting, sewing, and embroidering.

The officers are: Beatrice Williams, President; Mattie M. Yeby, Vice-President; Georgia Watson, Secretary; and Dorothy Moreland, Treasurer.

Alpha Hi-Y, which is affiliated with the Central Parkway Y. M. C. A., is composed of senior boys and is under the able supervision of its advisor, Mr. William F. Miller. The purpose of the club is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian living.

Alpha has proved itself by carrying out several projects during the current year, one of which was the bringing of Christmas cheer to a family that consisted of eleven children, and another the voting to make a sizable contribution to the Woodward War Memorial Fund. Alpha has sponsored many extra-curricular school activities such as dances, hay rides, and wiener roasts. One of the outstanding social events of its season is the Spring Prom which Alpha is proud to sponsor. Alpha's basketball team went undefeated, and won the Hi-Y Preliminary Tournament held at the Central Y. M. C. A.

Beta, although it got off to a bad start in its basketball schedule, turned out in the top rank in the basketball league. The reasons for this are the fine spirit and hard work of the members themselves, and the valuable suggestions and help given to them by their advisor. Beta has also sponsored several good dances and a splash party.

The Gamma Hi-Y is composed of seventeen tenth grade boys from Woodward High School. Although the group is new in club work of this type, the members have made great progress both individually and as a group since the beginning of the year. Much of this success can be attributed to the capable leadership of Mr. Max Wendel, Gamma's advisor.

Gamma's social program was slow in developing but several social events are planned for the latter part of the school year. The story is different in the sports field, and Gamma has the only tenth grade basketball team in the Hi-Y League.

JOURNALISM

A class in Journalism was begun in 1941 by Mrs. Grace Schiele Walker, who originated the Woodward Bulldog during the same year, with the initial class serving as the Bulldog Staff and as principal contributors to the student publication. Although it has enlarged its physical size, from four to six, sometimes even to ten or twelve pages on special occasions, it is still operating on the general plan of the students in Journalism contributing the lion's share of its material, although other Woodwardites, both students and teachers, have been welcomed contributors.

During the past seven years, The Woodward Bulldog's Staffs have won large numbers of prizes and honors, some city, some state, some national, in editorial and feature writing. The paper itself has been honored many times with awards of many kinds.

The basic staff is composed of Virginia Reusing, Editor; Bill Gore, Managing Editor; and Ray Johnson, Business Manager.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club is an organization composed of members of the second year Latin class. It was begun in nineteen hundred and thirty-two by the Latin pupils of that year and has been a successful organization since that time. Its main purpose is to further interest in the Latin language. In this club the pupils learn to enjoy and appreciate the language. Caesar, instead of being a dreaded menace, becomes a living and interesting person, and ancient Roman customs become intelligible. The club is under the leadership of Miss Mary Anthony.

The Woodward Lunchroom Squad is composed of boys and girls who have been carefully chosen by Miss Hazel Orr and Mr. B. F. Fulks to assist the regular lunchroom staff in the efficient handling of the food during the lunch period, to serve as cashiers, and to aid in maintaining order in the lunchroom and the adjacent halls. Their aim is the efficient operation of the lunchroom. The squad deserves much credit for the manner in which they have achieved their aim and purpose.

THE "OLD WOODWARD" HONOR CLUB

The "Old Woodward" Honor Club which was organized four years ago is divided into four divisions — Kappa, Iota, Sigma, and Theta. Each division may consist of twenty-five members chosen from the eleventh and twelfth grades. The purpose of the club is to promote Scholarship, Leadership, Character, Citizenship, and Service.

In order to be considered for membership in the club a student must have an average of eighty or above, must be held in high esteem by the faculty and counselors, must perform some service to the school, and must show evidence of leadership and character. It is indeed an honor and a privilege to be among those who are selected as members of the "Old Woodward" Honor Club — a privilege to be given the opportunity to help to raise the standards and scholarship of the students and an honor to be chosen for membership in a club of this type. Each member sponsors or advises a small group of pupils in the ninth and tenth grades. These younger pupils are encouraged to become good school citizens, to maintain high scholarship, and to participate in the activities of the school.

Each member of the "Old Woodward" Honor Club proudly wears a pin which is the insignia of the club. The letters SSLCC on the pins represent the qualifications for which membership in the club stands. It is indeed a pleasure to work with the faculty advisors, Miss Schwartz and Mr. Fulks.

PHYSIOLOGY CLUB

BIOLOGY CLUB

The first Biology Club was organized in nineteen hundred and thirty-nine by Mrs. Lora Nantz. Ever since that year, there has been a biology group that has kept the club idea going. The purpose of the club is twofold: to study living things and their ways, and to study the contributions made by both men and women to science. Each meeting is opened with the singing of the "Woodward Pledge". During several of our club meetings we have had reports from those members of the group who have hobbies in line with the activities of the club. Through the various activities of the club the members develop teamwork and leadership.

The officers are: William Yee, President; Norma Pennington, Vice-President; Joyce Wilson, Secretary; and Allen Ware, Treasurer.

Foreground: Gladys Favors, Gene Carney, Emerson Watts.

DEBUTANTE CLUB

The Debutante Club is the successor of the Physiology Club first organized in nineteen hundred and thirty-six by Mrs. Lora Nantz. The purpose of the club is to discuss the health problems, the personal problems, and the social problems of the girls. The group also investigates the school activities of the girls and studies how they best fit into their lives. There are chosen committees to bring in write-ups on special topics selected to further the achievement of the aims of the Debutante Club. These reports are discussed particularly in the light of their relation to the girl in her home, her school, and her social life.

The officers are: Frankie McCrary, President; Athylee Robinson, Vice-President; Pat Kalfas, Secretary; Betty Rousseau, Assistant Secretary; Louise Jones, Treasurer; Janet Lockard, Assistant Treasurer; Rose Marie Wyatt, Sergeant-at-arms; Marjorie Doerr, Assistant Sergeant-at-arms.

Fourth Row: Cora Sanders, Frances Bolton, Rafecka Ahmed, Mary Houston, Corrine Williams, Novella Thompson, Lula Williams, Ruby Dixon, Della Matthews.

PHYSIOLOGY CLUB

The Woodward Physiology Club under the direction of Miss Mary Higgins meets the last Friday of each month. The members of the club have a threefold purpose in the programs planned for the meetings, namely: to help the girls solve the everyday problems which face them in school, at home, and in their social life; to aid them in the solution of any personal health problems through the discussion of physiology and hygiene; and to help improve them in personality, poise, and personal appearance. The girls hope to inform and to improve themselves and thus build for a better future generation.

The club is divided into two sections and each section has its own set of officers. The officers of the one group are: Martha Scott, President; June Holly, Vice-President; Janet Rhodes, Secretary; and Ramona Parker, Treasurer. The officers of the other group are: Rita Green, President; Marilyn Amrein, Vice-President; Janice McCall, Secretary; and Jessie Marshall, Treasurer.

SCRIBBLERS' CLUB

Although comparatively new in Woodward, the Scribblers' Club is rapidly becoming popular. Evidence of this fact is shown in its growing membership. The foremost aim of the club is to promote the art of creative writing in its members. The only requirement for membership is an active interest in this art and a willingness to contribute to the club discussions. Members are encouraged to write in the fields of their special interests or talents. Under the direction of Miss Anne Long, the club meets bi-weekly for the purpose of commenting on and improving the works of its members. In the future the group hopes to stimulate interest by sponsoring some creative writing contests. Another of the club's ambitions is to compile a booklet containing the best work, prose and verse, produced by its members. The meetings are informal; criticism and commendation are freely exchanged.

The officers are: Ruth Moore, President; Leroy McMath, Vice-President; Marcella Grigsby, Secretary; and Ruth Shewmaker, Treasurer.

The club has planned to invite as speakers men and women in the business world who will be able to give valuable information along the lines of its endeavors. Plans have been made to have the members visit various offices and observe the work of stenographers and secretaries.

STUDENT COUNCIL

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of Woodward High School is composed of forty members, ten representatives from each grade. The members are nominated by petition and are elected by the members of the grade which they represent. Qualifications for membership include satisfactory grades, good citizenship, and willingness to serve.

The Student Council is divided into two groups, the Executive Committee and the Assembly. The Executive Committee is composed of ten members elected by the members of the council. The purpose of this committee is to conduct such business as needs immediate attention between regular meetings of the Council. The officers of the Executive Committee serve also as officers of the entire Council when it is in session. The Assembly, which is made up of the forty members of the Student Council, meets every month. It hears the reports of the Executive Committee, ratifies any decision the smaller group has made since the last general meeting, and discusses and takes action on all other business.

The Student Council serves Woodward in many ways. It is always ready to aid any school organization which requests its assistance in accomplishing anything for the benefit of the school and its students. One of the most important projects which the Student Council has aided is the War Memorial to Woodward alumni, students, and teachers who lost their lives in World War II. Work toward the erection of a War Memorial has been going on for several years. The Council undertakes any task assigned to it by the school administration. Among the projects which the Student Council has undertaken this year was the sending of representatives to the Institute on Better Human Relations, to the Safety Institute, and to Fountain Square to aid the campaign for the Infantile Paralysis Foundation. Council has also sent many volunteer workers to the Red Cross, distributed cheer to the unfortunate at Christmas, and helped the Woodward Athletic Association by selling sandwiches at the games.

The Student Council is an outgrowth of the wartime activities of Woodward Students. The activities during the war were sponsored by student organizations under the guidance of the Victory Corps and planned by the Student Wartime Council. During this time, classes of First Aid, Home Nursing, Child Care, Camouflage, and an Air Raid Wardens' Committee for the safety of the students during air raid drills and in case of air attacks, were organized. Since the end of the war, many of the wartime activities have been turned over to different departments — for example the First Aid and Home Nursing classes were turned over to the Physiology department. Originally intended to assist in the war effort, the Council developed into the present organization, vitally interested in all school activities.

The officers of the Student Council for the year 1947-48 were: James Peppers, President; Rose Yee, Vice-President; Otto Frees, Secretary. Miss Curry is the faculty advisor.

Both classes are under the capable direction of Mrs. Edna Rehkamp, our faculty advisor. There are no specific qualifications for membership, except that a girl should have a sincere interest in this activity. Tap dancing comes under the field of service in Woodward's point system and can help you to achieve a "W". If the "W" is not achieved, your time has been well spent improving poise, posture, and self-confidence.
