

The world always adapts itself to the period, and the men and women in it to that period. Well trained minds easily conform to new situations. A three-fold education of the body, the mind, and the soul, pays dividends. With these facts in mind, Class of '45, make the most of your opportunities, as you go out from Woodward to take your place in the ranks of society. Perform well whatever task may be assigned to you, so that your parents, your teachers, and your friends may continue to be proud of you, and rejoice in your success.
