

ANDREW HOWARD. Andrew's bassoon solos will be missed by band.

WARDELL HUDSON. The bug of rhythm and harmony has bitten Wardell — he aspires to be a musician.

LIDA HUGHES. Integrity, friendly, warm smile describes Lida whom we believe will make a fine social worker.

RUTH HUNTER. Some people have everything — Ruth is a charmer, and she'll be kept busy as a nurse.

ANNA JACKSON. Anna is in the groove and always knows the "latest".

ANNE JACKSON. Anne's initiative and willingness to work will whiz her along on the road of life.

EVELYN JACKSON. To Evelyn action speaks louder than words — does her work quietly and efficiently.

PINKIE JENKINS. Pinkie's smart clothes and quiet lady-like manners will be missed at old Woodward.

SARAH JENKINS. Sarah's quiet, efficient. Her school activities and scholastic record assure her future as a teacher.

EFFIE JENNINGS. She is always dependable, and that's the type of nurse we need.

ANNIE JOHNSON. Lots of luck to Annie, whose cheerful smile will warm you on any cold and dreary day.

DOLORES JOHNSON. Dolores's well-groomed appearance and genial personality is tops around Old Woodward.

JOHN JOHNSON. A hard worker, dependable — he's a friendly and likeable member of the senior class.

WILLIAM JOHNSON. A wholesome personality makes Bill a likeable guy.

GAIL JONES. Gail is Woodward's No. 1 saleswoman, and no wonder. See for yourself.

GRETA JONES. The way Greta takes an interest in school could be a lesson to all students.

HENRY L. JONES. Our advice to Henry — be a good musician and you'll be richer than the richest.

JANIE JONES. Sew straight seams and flatter, your purse will be fatter. Remember Janie!

LAWRENCE JONES. Larry's bright and ready smile has won for him many friends.

RICHARD JONES. Richard is candid and frank, never overlooks a chance to pull a prank.

WILLIE JEAN JONES. Captain of Majorettes — Willie is stepping high and we'll hear successful reports someday.
