

CHARLES JORDAN. In 1960 Charles, with his 396 batting average, will boost the Redlegs to 1st place. It's a promise!

DOROTHY JORDAN. A busy Woodwardite, but never too busy to give a winning smile.

MARGARET JORDAN. Her wonderful personality will make her life a good and happy one.

ALLEN KIEN. His team will make the crowd go wild with "Kien" playing.

GLORIA KING. 1954 Annual Editor. Gloria's second year at Woodward awards her the Laurel Wreath —

MARTIN KRIER. Best of luck to Martin. With smile and music it's amazing what he can do!

RONALD LEAR. After going to college for music you'll be another Harry James.

LORRETTA LEWIS. Could it be that Woodward is turning out a second Margaret Bourke White — Good Luck.

WALTER LEWIS. Walt is a second Disney in drawing class. Just ask Miss Clark.

DELOS LOGAN. You can always depend upon this young man with a horn to hit High "C".

CELESTINE LONG. Celestine likes football, skating, and dancing. She desires to become a successful teacher.

JOYCE LONG. Joyce's chief interest is to become a very efficient secretary. Good Luck.

STERLING MACK. Woodward will be proud to have a former student go to West Point. Huh! Mac.

KRUTHA MANIGAN. Krutha is one of those wonderful boys — always the same. A gem on the Annual Staff.

BEVLON MANION. A faithful Bulldog Reporter. Her ambition is to join the WAFS.

TED MARTIN. Human sport page of Woodward Hi. Anything you doubt about baseball, ask Ted.

EVELYN MATTHEWS. Quiet and reserved at all times. Evelyn is always courteous, loyal and eager to help.

LEADORIS MEADOR. Leadoris is a good gal and an asset to the senior class.

DOROTHY MILLER. Industrious, patient, and a pal. A wonderful person to know.

JOE MILLER. Best wishes to a future best dressed man of America.

PAUL MILLER. Paul is a mixture of looks, personality and that certain quality which makes everyone like him.
