

GLADYS WATKINS. Gladys' ambition is to be C.P.'s wife or a secretary. Who knows, she may be both.

MARY WEST. Mary's coiffure proves she is a born beautician — we'll be reading about her in "Vogue".

RALPH WHALELY. His magic way of acquiring friends made Ralph a real "Houdini".

JOYCE WHITAKER. Joyce's personality is her most valuable asset. It is irreplaceable.

SANDY WILBORN. A Woodward Bulldog — a steady worker, ready to help. A fellow we are happy to know.

ALBERT WILCOX. "Al's" set a pace in the men's apparel worn at Woodward. He's classy.

CHARLES WILKINS. Charles is a terrific person — friendly smile and a fine example of Woodward's spirit.

BETTY WILLIAMS. There's never a dull moment with Betty and her jazz records.

DOLORES WILLIAMS. Dee has what it takes to become a R.N. — loyalty, vivacious personality, and ability.

EUNICE WILLIAMS. She's just the type to become a stewardess. Quiet and pleasant, with a warm personality.

GLORIA WILLIAMS. Poised, thoughtful, industrious — and a Pepsodent smile that makes everyone like Gloria.

MOSES L. WILLIAMS. Moses aspires to be a gym instructor. One of the faster men on the track team.

SYLVONIA WILLIAMS. A teacher she hopes to be — a finer person you'll never see.

DAVID WILLIS. Between reading books and playing football, Dave has a busy existence.

WILMA WILSON. Wilma is our sophisticated lady and full of wit.

LAVERNE WINFREY. Laverne is a sociable gal, loves music and would like to be a social worker.

MATTIE WOODWARD. A fine young lady, one that Old Woodward can be proud of, and we are!

FRIEDA WRIGHT. "Frieda" will represent us at U. C. We wish her success in becoming a social worker.
