

RESERVE BASEBALL

The boys in the tenth and eleventh grades make up the B squad of our team. When the spring of the year rolled around baseball was in the air all over the country. Baseball is the one sport that any red-blooded American boy would love to participate in. Since they can't all play they give their respect by going to the games.

Woodward is no different from the rest, for every year the boys go out to invitational practice to display their talent under the watchful eye of our new coach, Mr. MacMann. After the practice season is over the boys who display the best amount of talent are chosen to represent the Bulldogs on the baseball diamond. As the Annual goes to press there is little we know about how our reserve team will finish, but we hope they finish on top.

Initial guardian, Sid Broadnax, anxiously awaits throw that will nip the opposing runner at first.

Sid Broadnax gets around on a fast ball and gives the horsehide a free ride.
