

ROBERT BYRD. One of Woodward's star athletes . . . always a good sport. Has the qualities of good leadership.

VALLEE CANNON. A girl it has been a pleasure to know. Her excellent work proves that a conscientious student gets results.

THEODORE CARMICHAEL. Love of a good time and dependable loyalty make Teddy a fine companion.

VIRGINIA CARRIER. An enthusiastic cheerleader, a natural job for a girl with such high spirits.

RICHARD CESLER. Big, strong, and handsome . . . why can't every fellow look like Ces? Of course, he's an athlete.

RONALD CLAUNCH. Dependable, friendly . . . the lunchroom staff is kept in a good humor by Claunch's clowning behind the scenes.

RAMONA CLAYTON. Ray's ambition is to be a secretary. We believe she can do anything . . . and do it well.

SHIRLEY COLEMAN. An original girl with an original hobby — collecting shoe strings! She also likes dancing.

MARJORIE COMER. As it sometimes happens, this small-in-stature senior is a big influence. Her friends know her as Peachie.

MARTHA CONNER. Bubbles of laughter seem to show in Mart's mischievous brown eyes.

BETTY COOK. A high-ranking student as well as a very attractive girl.

JOAN CORDELL. An outstanding journalist, perhaps our most active senior. Beams with enthusiasm when there is something to be done . . . and gets it done.

DOROTHY CORNS. Proof of the advantage of growing up in a large family is Dorothy's winning personality.

VIRGINIA COSNER. Ready to carry her Woodward training out into the secretarial world. We count on her success.

DAVID COX. The time Dave spends improving his athletic ability is time well spent. He may be a future track great — who knows?

HENRIETTA COX. Her present plan is to become an army nurse. We can guarantee her sincerity and efficiency.

HAZEL CRAIG. Her steady eyes and warm smile make friends for Hazel wherever she goes. She will never let a friend down.

YVONNE CRITTENDEN. A gifted girl with quick intelligence and artistic talent . . . but so modest and friendly we cannot envy her because we love her.

EMORY CROWDER. Energetic, resourceful . . . small, like a package of dynamite . . . Chef Emory is at home in any kitchen.

VEORA DANIELS. Likes to talk, and when she talks we like to listen . . . big, beautiful smile that goes off with a giggle.

JO ANN DAVIS. Cuts a mean rug . . . paints a pretty picture. Everybody's friend.
