

SEPTEMBER

4. The First Day, and somehow after the summer's idleness we're glad to be back! The seniors may be seen floating in their private heaven and drawing their oxygen from the upper atmosphere.

5. Our marvelous lunchroom opens. How we've longed for that Woodward hash! The old order changeth: we have three lunch bells instead of two.

7. The Pigskin Preview tonight, and our team and band really made a showing.

13. Something new at Woodward! Our own Camera Club, with Mr. Rubendunst attempting to teach his proteges the fine art of the lens. A new course, First Aid, was started, and First Aid books went on sale in the bookroom. For results, see p. 32.

14. The Audio-Visual Aiders had their first meeting today. Mr. Russell — brave man — started his Drivers' Training Course.

15. Delta Hi-Y threw its Back-to-School Dance and Central Alpha Hi-Y had its Kickoff Dance tonight. Gotta look our best!

17. Student Council met during 6th Bell and kicked off the year by beginning the Big Brother and Big Sister program. D. T. opens today - uh - oh!

18. Last call for senior Annual photographs!

20. First Fire Drill. Went off without a hitch, as usual, but the girls from the gym class were pretty embarrassed, also as usual! Study halls are now in session.

22. Central Alpha hired a jet-propelled truck for their hayride tonight.

24. 10th grade health exams begin. Say "ah"!

25. Honor Clubs meets today. Oh well, we can't all be brains.

27. We made out our report cards today. They're blue and white now. We hope they stay that way!

OCTOBER

1. The library opens — now we can catch up on all the intellectual reading we missed during the summer.

Red Cross drive started today. Must remember to bring a nickel tomorrow.

2. Seniors were measured for rings today. Senior noses were raised two inches. Annual homeroom representatives chosen today. See the annual staff writeup page for the names of these hardworked persons.

4. The World Series is interfering with our concentration on World History. It's such a beautiful day for baseball!

10. There was a faculty tea in the library at 3:15 today. Keep away from those little cakes, boy. They aren't for us.

Bulldogs are out. Did you see what they said about . . . ?

12. The Boys' Week Assembly . . . we have a group of potential politicians! Two of the outstanding speakers were Bob Hill and Tom (he's our man) Walters.

17. No school for us today; it's B.I.E. Day.

18. We begin to pack Red Cross boxes for distribution overseas.

19. First report period ends today. Oh well, there's always another one!
