

27. Pep Session in the auditorium this afternoon. Mr. Alexander was boosting the sale of basketball I D cards.

29. Big Brother - Little Brother meeting today. Some of the "Big" Brothers had to look up at their "Little" Brothers!!

DECEMBER

2. Central Alpha's football teams, James's "Outlaws" and Angel's "Angels" played today. The Outlaws edged the Angels 42-0.

4. Color Day. Everybody wore blue and white. We wouldn't have been able to face Betty Whetstone if we'd forgotten. What school spirit!

10. Reports again! Mine hasn't turned patriotic yet. I've got my fingers crossed.

12. Award Assembly. Were we proud to get those little dark blue letters!

13. Dozens of brand-new sweaters sporting W's drifted into the halls.

14. The Choir sang with the Symphony. The music was beautiful, but the weather wasn't. Rain, snow, sleet!

Christmas cards for the Munich Community Christmas Tree were taken up today. Greetings and good wishes for the Christmas season from the students of Woodward to Cincinnati's sister city in Germany.

Alpha Chi Gamma and Alpha Hi-Y's dance at the Topper. The boys put a gleam on their shoes while the girls broke out in their new party dresses. It was a whopping success.

18. Bulldogs today!

Old Woodward looks gay and glamorous for Christmas. Student Council has decked the halls with boughs of maybe not holly, but some mighty handsome green stuff.

19. Our Choir and Band were on the radio for the March of Dimes. The music department again can take a bow.

21. Christmas Assembly, with music and tableaux to put us into the spirit of the season. The Choir caroled in the halls 5th Bell and homeroom Christmas parties came 6th Bell. The universal cry was — Merry Christmas!

22. The big vacation.

24. 9th Street Hi-Y delivered a grocery basket to a needy neighbor, helping them to have a happier Christmas.

JANUARY

1. Leap Year is here. Look out, fellas!

2. Back again. We spent the day showing off our Christmas loot.

3. Underclassmen receive their pictures. What a mixture of sighs and moans!

8. We were invaded by an army of painters with scaffolds and ladders. The halls are getting a real face-lifting. Look out! That paint's still wet!

10. Junior Town Meeting. The question: How can youth prepare for security? Says Ralph, "Money." Says Bobby: "Closeness to God." Says Vivian, "A Happy Home Life." Says Glee: "An Education." Says Ralph, stubbornly, "Money!" We've got a senior class treasurer who loves his work.
