The Student Council, which meets twice monthly, is composed of ten members from each grade level, the members elected by the student body, and selected on the basis of leadership ability, character, and citizenship. The Council this year has had a very successful program under the guidance of its president, Ben Bryant. The Council started the year with both Mr. Nester and Miss Curry as advisers, but at midyear Miss Curry was forced to drop this activity because of the press of other duties. The Council appreciates the diligence and perseverance she encouraged in it at the beginning of the year.

Woodward owes to the 1951-52 Student Council the improved conditions in the study halls and lavatories, the cleaning of all the pictures in the corridors, the revised use of stairways which has helped our hall traffic. A recent service project adopted by Council has been a Lost-and-Found office. A special effort has been made this year to get complete participation in Student Council projects by opening the meetings to all students and faculty who have no class responsibilities during the period of meeting, and by inviting a representative from each homeroom not otherwise represented on the Council. This group does not render its services to the school alone; it took an active part in the Mile of Dimes campaign and the Crusade for Freedom.
