

The BULLDOG is published at Woodward fifteen times a year under the supervision of Mrs. Marjorie McKinney.

The paper's main policy and platform are as follows: To raise the standards of scholarship, service, citizenship, and character among the students; to increase the harmonious relations between teachers and pupils; to inform the students of events which are interesting and important to their school and home lives. The paper pledges to support and to publicize the Hi-Capades, the Spring Concert, Career Conferences, and the Homeroom Program.

The Junior Reporters met regularly to discuss new ideas for the paper, and turned in much of the material which was published. This year's staff was as follows:

Editor-in-Chief — Clifford Millward

Managing Editor — Jim Young

Sports Editors — Joan Cordell, Dick Cesler

Advertising Manager — Dick Cesler

Circulation Manager — T. Robert Scribbin

Business Manager — Jack Samples

Exchanges — Clara Cabe

Special Writers: Flora Kilgore, Alma Battle, Ron Claunch, Jack Samples, Grace Harrison, Gloria Smith, Joan Cordell, Clara Cabe. All photography is by Mr. Rubendunst.

Young eyes the sports over Grace Harrison's shoulder. Millward and Samples will pass final judgment.

Circ. Mgr. Scribbin beams over a big sale. Flora Kilgore and Joan Cordell take some of the credit.
