

The First Day Of School

After three months of summertime slumber, Withrow's Tigers had to wake up at the crack of dawn, wander to school, and actually THINK! As impossible as it may sound, they seemed to pull it off with ease.

The students welcome each other back from their long summer.

Stephen Sippel and Andy Beck get right into the swing of things.

Lunch time stroll across the front of the campus.

