

Senior Class Alphabet

A Is for Alcthian, the book of the day,
A work to be proud of. We hope it will stay.

B Is for Beaver, and Boltz, and Burdette,
And Bradley, whose titles are many, you bet!

C Is for Compton, our own little Doc.
And Crawford, who so loves State Boards to knock!

D Is for Dalton, whose front name is Van,
And Degnon, the cute little Ohio Club man!

E Is for Elias, who is our President,
And Edwards, whose committee all graft did resent!

F Is for the fun, and frolic, and fuss,
Which the Duke and Miss Stock have furnished for us!

G Is for Goshorn, that dear little boy;
Gott and Greenburg, the dean's only joy!

H Is for Harkins, he of big technical terms,
The Halls, and Pill Hill, of the medicine firm!

I Is for It, that's the Class of '07,
For beauty, work and conduct, we certainly deserve heaven!

J Is for joy, our ladies two!
They look good to me; how about you?

K Is for Kelley, and Krucker, and "Pats,"
Also Kelleher, and we must not forget Kraatz

L Is, of course, for the "Duke of Delphos,
Also for "Lent," who's afraid of the boss!

M Is for Foetus, Marshall, Mundon and the cop.
Also Mitchell! This bunch, you'll find, is on top!

N Is for numbers, and ours is fifty-eight,
Of whom fifty-seven usually to lecture are late!

O Is for Ohio, the one Dental College,
The place where we ought to receive all our knowledge!

P Is for Pritchard, and dear little Eve,
Who all little grafts is quick to perceive!

Q Is for questions that worry us some,
For they at State Board will make us feel "bum!"

R Is for Ike, Reinhart, and Fuzzy Ramsey,
And Richards, and Risk, all busy as bees!

S Is for Sheets, Miss Stock, and Siegfried,
The Smiths, and Smiley, who so often is treed!

T Is for Tim and Thompson, inseparable friends,
And Thomas, who before the majority bends!

U Is for union, of which the class boasts;
We're all good friends, in spite of our roasts!

V Is for five, and then three more like it,
Before on the ninth we our diplomas can git!

W Is for Wright, and also for Wood,
Who ought to be married, and would, if they could!

X Is the unknown, that before us all lays;
May our lives all be happy the rest of our days!

Y Is for you, kind reader, take heed!
Soon you'll be a Senior, and knowledge you'll need!

Z Is the end, yet the beginning, we pray,
(Of health, wealth and wisdom for us every day!
—P. A. K., '07.
