

PANTS

PANTS are made for men, and not for women. Women are made for men, and not for pants. When a man pants for a woman, and a woman pants for a man, they are, a pair of pants. Such pants don't last! Pants are like molasses—they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes are breeches of promise. There has been much discussion whether pants are plural or singular. Seems to us that when men wear pants it is plural, and, when they don't wear any pants at all, it is singular. Men go on a tear in their pants, and it is all right; when the pants go on a tear it is all wrong. If you want to make pants last, make the coat first. A fat man can not keep up his pants in summer without suspenders, but a dog can. This naturally suggests the query: "Why, does a dog wear more clothes in summer than in winter?" It is evident that in winter he wears a coat, while in the summer he wears a coat, and PANTS!
