

JAMES DIXON

BORN JULY 28, 1847

DIED JANUARY 8, 1907

Thanksgiving Day of 1907 will have a difference from preceding ones that will be very noticeable to those who remember the past. There will again be the Thanksgiving turkey of honored custom, but our old familiar Jim will not receive it. His honest smile of delight in the honor done him has been a good memory for many classes. He was our sure directory to save us from embarrassing blunders as Freshmen, and as Juniors and Seniors we look upon his going with sorrow.

He is done now ; 1907 passes without him, and 1908 and 1909. We are glad to be of the classes that knew him and to hold him warmly in our hearts.
