

Classes display spirit

Suddenly, as if out of nowhere, the onslaught hit. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors all approached the new school year with different ideas, moods, and goals; but always fired up about the new year.

Freshmen: Fired up about the new atmosphere and environment that they were now a part of and scared of.

Sophomores: Eager to see if they could step up in the world of high school life.

Juniors: Fired up to start something new in the now familiar setting.

Seniors: Fired up about anything and everything that they came into contact with. Fired up to get ready for that soon to come new life called college.

Nick Masino and Matt Adams prepare for Spirit Week.