

Holiday Dance

For this Sadie Hawkins dance, girls worked up enough courage to ask their favorite guy. To add to the holiday spirit, the flurries that afternoon decorated the area with a blanket of snow. Once inside the dance, the stairs, commons, and lockers were in a "Peppermint Paradise" with streamers, lights, and giant candy canes. After getting pictures taken, couples began to mingle, and by ten o'clock, the commons was filled to celebrate the Holiday Dance. Students danced until midnight to the band Red Wine.
