

A parent enjoys class time allowed for silent sustained reading. Parents were responsible for class notes and assignments.

Two parents find Mr. Villari's sixth period study hall the perfect opportunity to share their stories of the experience. Student Council members were guides to help the parents locate their children's classrooms.