

Trevor Lothrop, 11, dives into the end zone to score a touchdown. The game against Lakota West was one of the Aviators' toughest games of the year. Lothrop was a key offensive player who helped contribute to the win.

The student section cheers on the Aviators. The crowd helped motivate the Aviator's throughout the tough game. Right: Nicholas Miller, 11, Samantha Hunter, 11, and Kevin Steiner, 11, celebrate the win.

Cheering the Aves to victory, the Varsity cheerleaders do their best to get the crowd excited. Right: Mr. Aviator works his magic on the crowd. He was a great contribution at every game.

Michael Byrd, 12, shows his support for his teammates during a field goal attempt to win the game. The game went into overtime, but the Aves came out victorious with a 27 to 24 final score. Michael Latessa, 12, ran into the end zone to score the touchdown to win the game.

bandq&a

Elizabeth
Burkhart, 10

q) Does the band do any special preparations for Homecoming?

a) The kids from the Intermediate and Junior High play with us during half time. Everyone gets to skip school on Thursday so the little kids can know their spots.

q) Are you nervous to play in front of so many people?

a) No, I'm sure the freshman are. I was nervous when I was one. It's more relaxed also because Homecoming Court is going on while we are out there.