

national honor society

Being a part of the National Honor Society is, no pun intended, a great honor. It represents good academic standing, community service, and personal morals. The induction ceremony was inspirational, as students shared heart-warming stories of their valued mentors by the warm glow of candles representing the pillars of NHS, scholarship, leadership, service, and character. New inductee Macy Yun, 11, says, "I am excited to be a member of NHS because it makes it easy for me to connect with my community through volunteer experiences!" The members of NHS are upstanding students within the school who are certain to have positive effects on the world.

PITCH PERFECT

If one thing is for certain, it's that the Sycamore Choirs always put on a good show. This year, the songs performed span a variety of genres, from "Hey Look Ma I Made It" by Panic! At the Disco, to a medley of Disney songs, and "Jingle Bells Merry Christmas to All," affectionately known as "JBMCA." When asked about the experience, Catherine Miller, 11, says "While performing on stage, I feel happy and free of stress knowing we prepared as much as possible in class. I am always excited to showcase our hard work." There are only a few times a year where there is a chance to catch a show, but rest assured, toes will be tapping, and heads will be bopping along in the crowd.
