This year, winter drumline performed a show called "Heist." The drumline is the world's greatest heist crew, on a mission to steal a precious diamond. In addition to the typical battery and front ensemble that drumlines have, there was also a saxophone soloist, senior Sean Cooper, and acrobatist, sophomore Tanvi Mayya.

Similar to the 2021 season, winter drumline was noncompetitive and performed their show on the theatre stage. Performing in the theatre made the show feel more like a production with the addition of lights and fog machines, making the experience unique. In addition, there were more students involved that typically wouldn't have joined. "I really liked getting to work with other students...such as wind musicians and eighth graders," said Madison Boni, 12. Because this season was noncompetitive, it allowed them to include more nontraditional elements into their show.
