SUBJECT TO CHANGE

If there is one word to describe the 2021-2022 school year, it is unpredictable. From the start, the transition back to a potentially normal year and the unknowns of where the pandemic might take us next left everyone with lots of questions and few answers. Some students who hadn't ever stepped foot in the building were now sophomores, but everyone slowly found our classes, made new friends, and got back into the groove of SHS. The threat that things may change was present, but it didn't stop us from making the most of the year.

And we were subject to change, too. Another year of learning and growing helped many of us who are beginning to gain an understanding of who we are. The yearbook staff chose this theme to highlight the uncertainty of the year, but also to remind everyone of the strength and flexibility that every single student demonstrated, every single day.

Now, before you flip through these pages and reminisce on this crazy year, please remember: this is a student-run, student-made publication. We sincerely apologize for any mistakes, and we want you to know that any error made was entirely unintentional. We had a lot of fun making this book, and now we hope you have a lot of fun looking through it.

For me, it was an absolute pleasure to capture this year for everyone. I hope you enjoy: Subject to Change.

the student section shows spirit

READY TO RUMBLE! September 3rd was the first Home football game. This was a big day not only for the football team, but also for the students, as it was the first game with a large student section since 2019. The Ave Cave really showed their spirit, energy, and Hawaiian gear, and the team pulled through with a win against Fairfield. Having people in the stands again made it a fun experience, creating so many memories! "I have had such an amazing time being in charge of the student's section this year. Especially since I'm the first girl to be in charge, I love Friday nights so much!" said Olivia Berke, 12, one of the Ave Cave leaders. This football game had a huge turn out, which helped the football players out a lot: everytime the student section cheered, the team would get pumped, and they would jump up with the students, especially when they got a touchdown. When asked, the students in charge of the Ave Cave all had different favorite cheers. Alvaro Arranz Fernandez, 12, said his favorite is "'Do It,' because it's so fun to see all the grades participating and being energetic, which makes the whole night so fun!" Senior Brady Foy says that his favorite cheer is "'Who's Your Daddy,' even though the administration might not like it it gets the whole student section going and that's our loudest chant. It also really gets in the other teams' heads." Foy added, "I am also very impressed by the sophomores' energy this year!" Especially because football game attendance was limited last year with pandemic restrictions, students of all ages appreciated the chance to root for their school this fall.

SENIOR COOKOUT

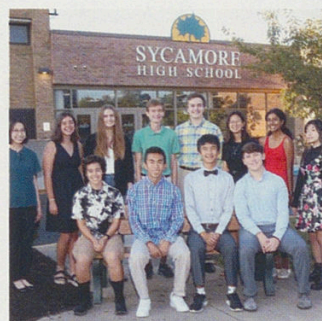

Every year during the first few weeks of school, parents organize a cookout for the seniors. With hot dogs, chips, and desserts served for all the seniors, everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch with their friends outside in the sun!

FTC SHIRTS

"Every penny raised from the shirts helps kids with cancer, which means a lot since September is Pediatric Cancer Awareness Month and gold is the color. Plus, our Ave Cave looks great when wearing all gold so it's a win-win!"

-Pippa Zolla, 12.

NATIONAL MERIT

After taking the PSAT their junior year, thirteen of our seniors scored in the top 1% of the nation and earned the title of National Merit Semi-finalists. They then went on to compete for finalist standings and win potential college scholarships.

THEATER SET-UP

"The theater kids have been working hard for the past 3 weeks. The students learned basic construction procedures to create sets for both their fall plays 'Puffs' and their winter musical 'The Drowsy Chaperone'"

-Kelly Donovan, 12.

FIRST DAY JITTERS

This school year started with Freshman Camp, which looked a little bit more normal. Able to have all the freshmen together doing activities, it was a fun-filled day. With games and a pep rally, the freshmen ended the day by going to all of their classes. Intended to help students new to the high school, this year's camp included the freshmen, but also any sophomores who had attended classes virtually last year, and any new students. More than just new faces, the construction made it tricky to give the freshmen a tour, with many of the older students feeling like they were also new to the building!

Counselors share their favorite part of the day:

"Pep Rally" -Katie Mott, 12

"Family time or Amazing Race"-Bishop Carl, 12

"Tour, it's fun to show the Freshman around" -Julia Mott, 12

FLOATING BY

Another classic Homecoming tradition was the parade! With a new route set to end at the High School Stadium, where the football game was held, students rode, walked, danced, and marched their way to the end.

Cheered on by the community, the new route wound through the neighborhood behind the High School. "[On the DECA float, we got] to hype up our homecoming king, Mr. Steedly," said Mya Reardon, 11.

Lots of Sycamore sports, clubs, and organizations were featured in the parade. Pictured above is Kai Blunt, 12, and Maz Crouch, 12, riding on a float for the GSTA, or Gay Straight Trans Alliance. So much fun for all!

dancing in the rain.

With a theme of "Night Under the Stars," Homecoming 2021 soon became a night under the clouds, as a storm blew in over the Sycamore area. Held outside on the soccer field, the dance started just as the sun began to set. With music playing, students met up with friends and had a great time—until the rain began. "My corsage started dripping green dye... and ruined my brand new pair of all-white platform Converse!" said Ella Gomez, 11. "But it was still a good time." For everyone, the rain brought wet hair, squeaky shoes, and lots of memories as the outdoor event moved inside. "I remember... everyone being squished and packed into the Greg, laughing about the ruined hair and clothes... My favorite part was when everyone was dancing outside and drying off," said Ella Carter, 10. But the Homecoming festivities started even before the dance (and the rain). Leading up to the event, students celebrated with a spirit week, dressing each day for a different theme. On Friday, shortened bells allowed for an outdoor pep rally, where students cheered, played games, listened to the band, and did NOT get rained on. Overall, Homecoming fun and Sycamore spirit was not dampened this year!

Student Council hosted the customary pre-Homecoming pep rally. This year, it was held outside, with the National Anthem sung by Austin Bitter, 11, fun games played by fall athletes, a presentation of the Homecoming Court, and high spirit from the student body as they prepared for the dance!

Pankhuri Saxena, Aliza Newton, Rebecca Cohen, Emily Siderits, Grace Koo, and Bishop Carl won best overall for the group category.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT:

Featured below are the Runaway Brides, Crayons, and Cereal (milk not pictured). To the right, seniors Kathryn Mott and Ellen McPherson are dressed as "Fancy Like." While not everyone won, all students had fun!

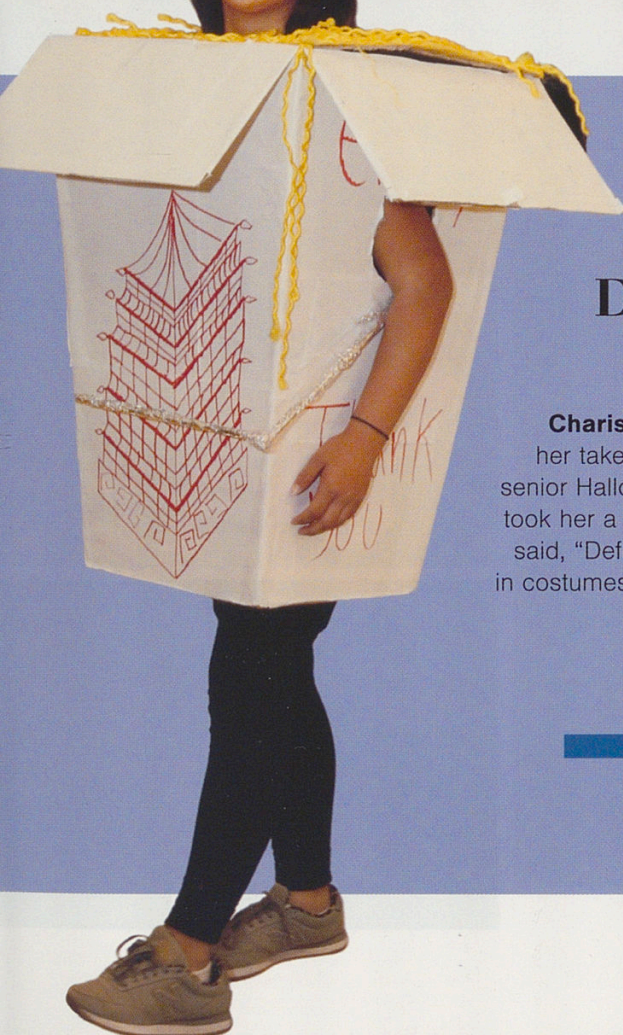

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: Seniors Brady Foy, Matthew Whiteside, Thomas Whiteside, Amir Isakov, Adam Weber, Grant Schafer, Aidan Young, Max Banke, Garrett Friedrich, Mark Karev, and Andrew Dwyer dressed as "The Bellas" from Pitch Perfect. During the parade, the group performed a choreographed dance from the movie!

dressed & ready

Once again, seniors enjoyed the tradition of dressing up for Halloween. Various groups recieved awards for different categories; winners took home gift cards. Even Officer Paul Payne dressed up, and everyone received lots of candy to take home!

BEST DRESSED

Charis Jobe, 12, featuring her takeout box costume for senior Halloween. The costume took her a week to make. Jobe said, "Definitely seeing friends in costumes was very enjoyable and fun."

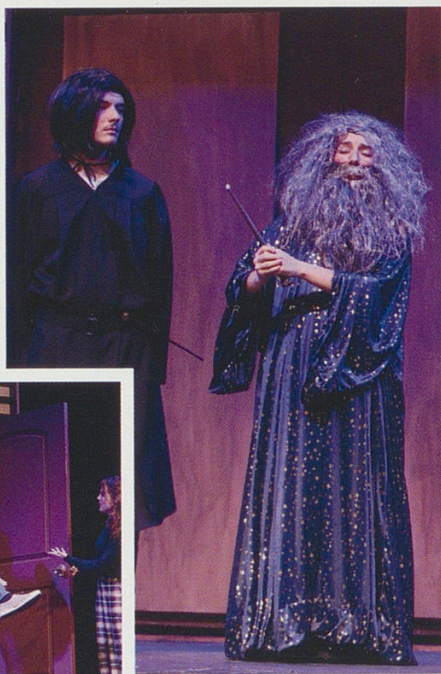

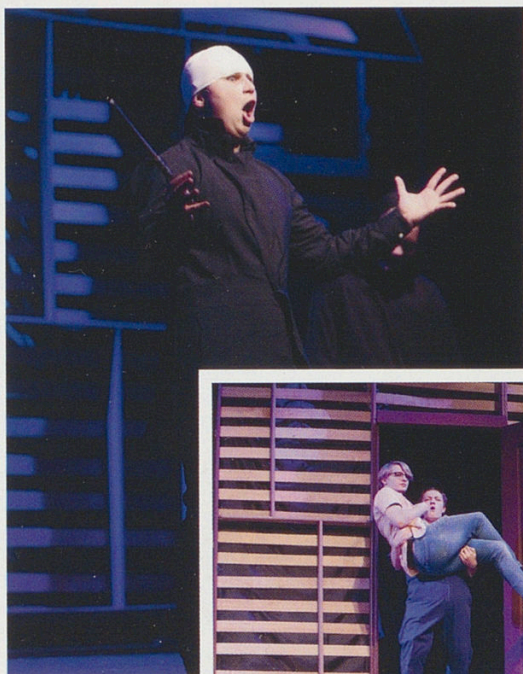

The "Vectors" and the Traffic Conductor groups were two of the winning groups. Winners were chosen for different categories including Best Homemade and Best Couple costume.

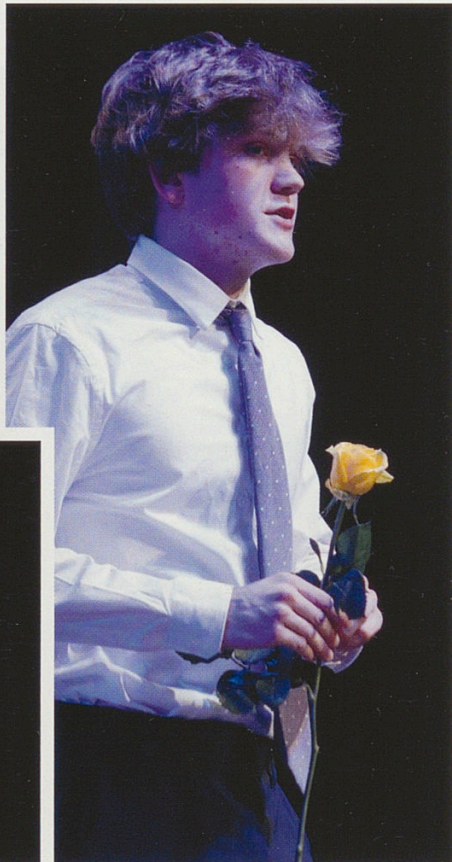

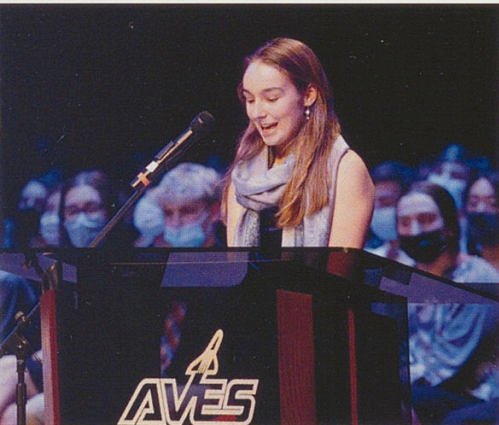

potter? or puffs!

Kelly Donovan, who starred in the fall play "Puffs," shares her experience.

Puffs was an amazing experience. It felt amazing to be able to get to know all the underclassmen in the show, and to be able to portray a character like 'Megan.' The show was a favorite for many, especially since it was all about Harry Potter. I will always look back on Puffs and smile, and I couldn't be happier with the outcome and friends I made." -Kelly Donovan, 12

national honor society

Being a part of the National Honor Society is, no pun intended, a great honor. It represents good academic standing, community service, and personal morals. The induction ceremony was inspirational, as students shared heart-warming stories of their valued mentors by the warm glow of candles representing the pillars of NHS, scholarship, leadership, service, and character. New inductee Macy Yun, 11, says, "I am excited to be a member of NHS because it makes it easy for me to connect with my community through volunteer experiences!" The members of NHS are upstanding students within the school who are certain to have positive effects on the world.

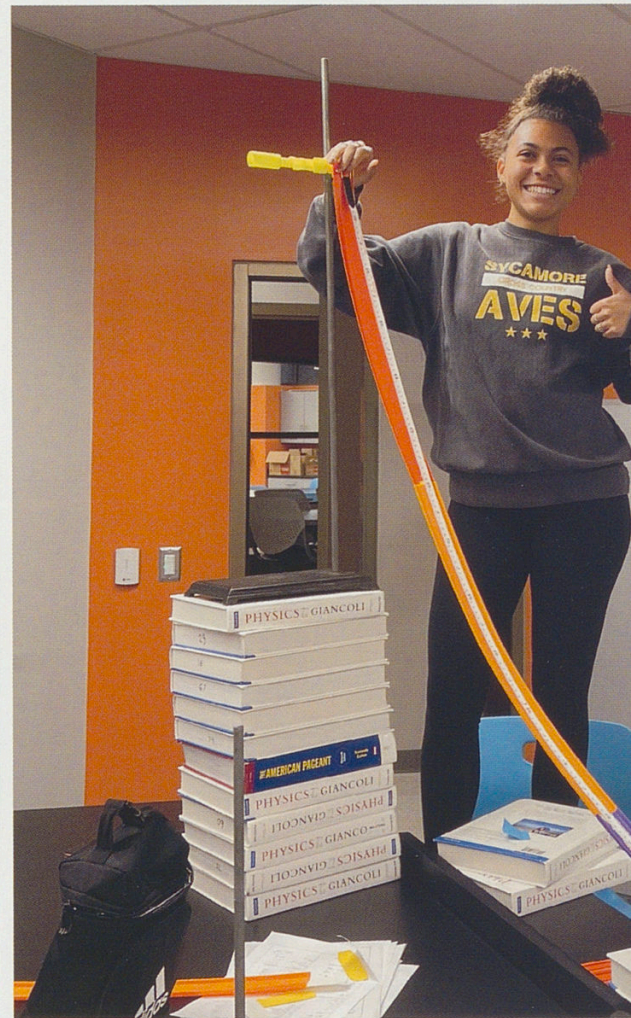

PITCH PERFECT

If one thing is for certain, it's that the Sycamore Choirs always put on a good show. This year, the songs performed span a variety of genres, from "Hey Look Ma I Made It" by Panic! At the Disco, to a medley of Disney songs, and "Jingle Bells Merry Christmas to All," affectionately known as "JBMCA." When asked about the experience, Catherine Miller, 11, says "While performing on stage, I feel happy and free of stress knowing we prepared as much as possible in class. I am always excited to showcase our hard work." There are only a few times a year where there is a chance to catch a show, but rest assured, toes will be tapping, and heads will be bopping along in the crowd.

back to class

How did the Synn Lab shape your high school experience?

Without Synn Lab I wouldn't have learned to work with my phone screen up on my desk and not get distracted. I also learned about things a ton of high schoolers didn't because of the field trips and opportunities they have.

MACY YUN, 11

What was the best thing you got to do because of the lab?

I really enjoyed how my time was flexible; I was able to meet with teachers and socialize with others more frequently inside the lab... which made learning more fun and effective.

TOBY WEATHERSTON, 12

in the lab

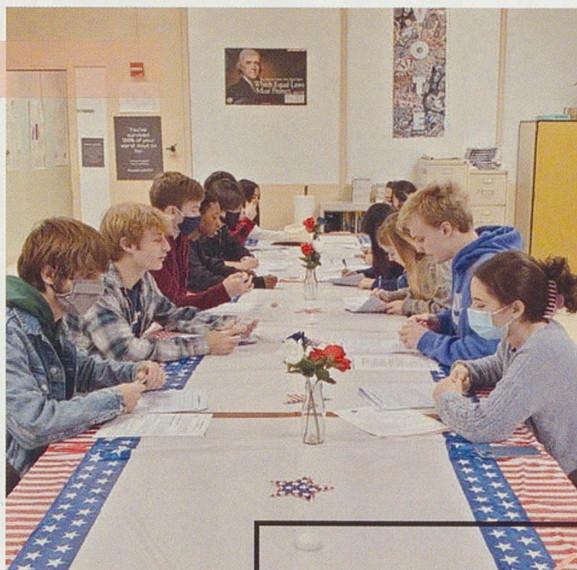

The science wing is always busy with a new experiment or lab activity! Pictured here are AP Physics students working on a water balloon drop lab, where the objective was to calculate the free fall velocity so they could (potentially) hit Mrs. Caitlin Hickman with the water balloon.

NAMES & PLACES

While many students find history classes boring Ms. Holly Hodel turned that idea on its head with her students participating in a history "speed dating." The students picked a political action committee and created a resume for it. Then they meet together to collaborate and see if the committees might work together. This project was meant to engage students in a less traditional and hopefully a more fun way than lectures.

Projects are not the only part of what can make a history class enjoyable, teachers play a massive role in their students' experiences with history. One of the highly praised history teachers at Sycamore High School is Mrs. Leah Chapman, "...the textbook is really complicated," said sophomore Yoshie Vinton. "Also Mrs. Chapman has a very nice voice," Vinton continued.

"...I like [history] because you learn about the cause and effect of things and how things came about and why they are significant."

YOSHIE VINTON, 10

Will Ingle #8

senior, one of four varsity captains

How do you feel about being captain?

I love it a lot. Being able to know that people look up to me is an awesome feeling. I want to change the culture of the team not just for this year, but season to come.

What is the team dynamic like?

I think we all really truly care about each other and play really well with each other.

What are your future plans?

I'm blessed to be able to play D1 football at the Naval Academy.

Jacob Tueimeh #19

senior, one of four varsity captains

Favorite music to get you hype for game day?

Grove st party by wakka flokka flame. They always play it during the opening kickoff and it gets me going and juices the crowd up.

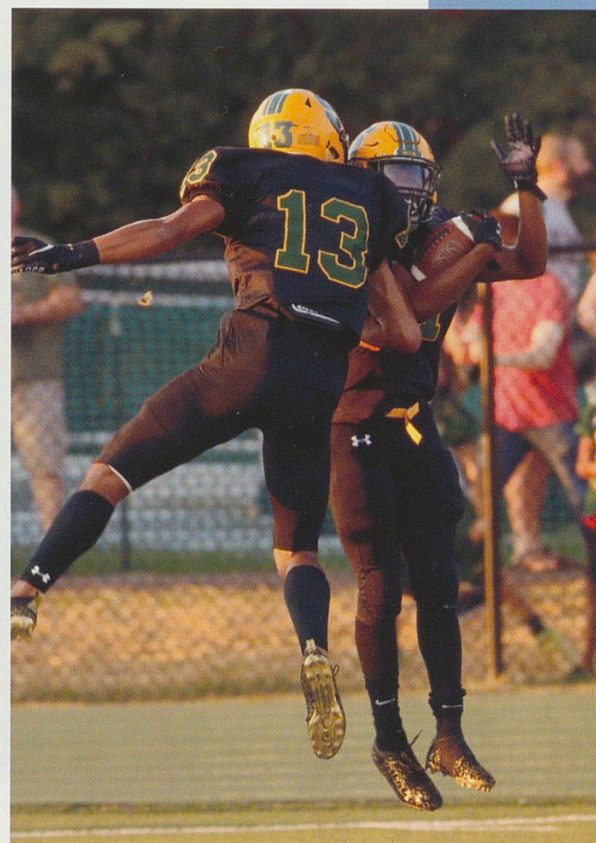

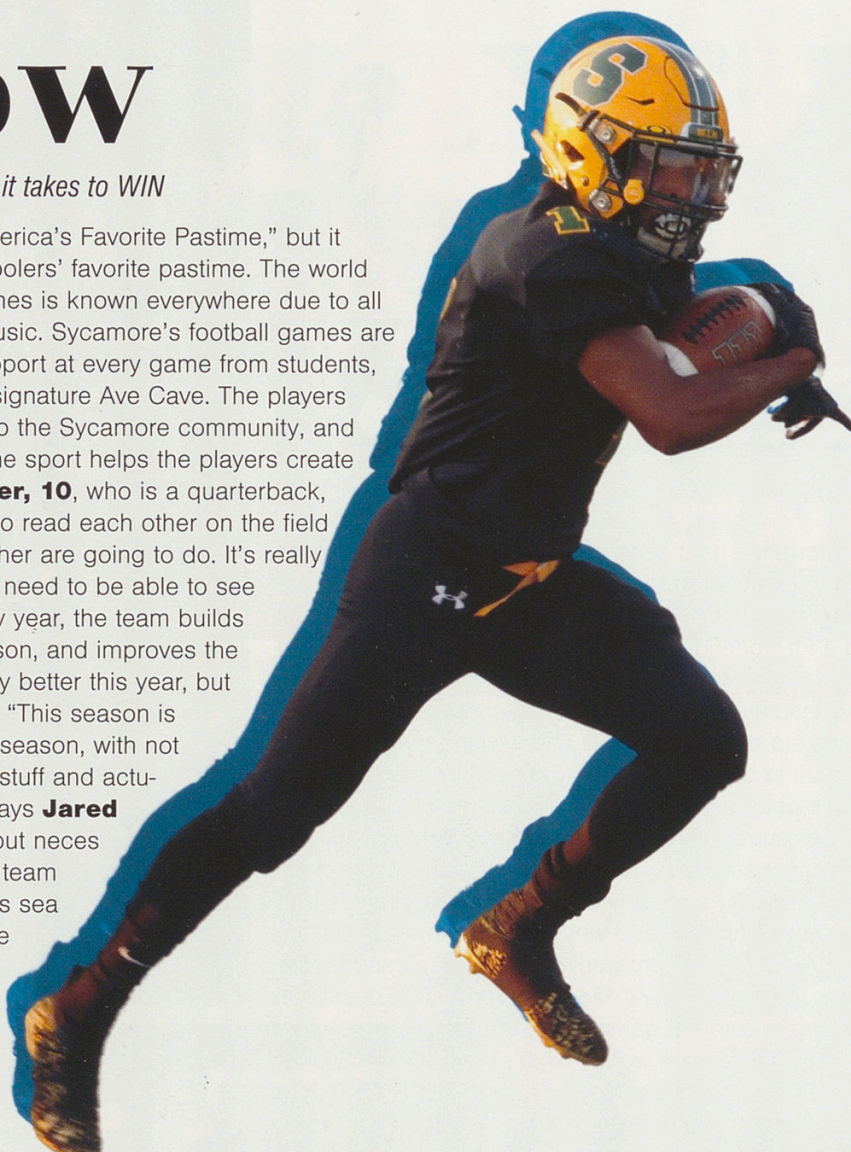

How do you feel about your last year?

Man Its crazy. It's my last year. I remember when I was a freshman and all the upperclassmen were telling me how fast it goes by and it really does. But this is my last chance and I'm just ready and coming for it all this year.

what's important now

varsity football team does everything it takes to WIN

Football may not be considered "America's Favorite Pastime," but it certainly is most American high schoolers' favorite pastime. The world surrounding high school football games is known everywhere due to all the movies, television shows, and music. Sycamore's football games are no different, with a huge show of support at every game from students, families, and alumni, along with the signature Ave Cave. The players know the significance of their sport to the Sycamore community, and take it in stride. The shared love of the sport helps the players create amazing team chemistry. Seth Truter, 10, who is a quarterback, says "Team chemistry is being able to read each other on the field so that you can predict what each other are going to do. It's really important to quarterbacks because I need to be able to see what a receiver is going to do." Every year, the team builds upon the successes of the prior season, and improves the low points. Not only did the team play better this year, but the all-around experience was better. "This season is definitely an improvement of the last season, with not having to really deal with the COVID stuff and actually winning more than one game," says Jared Turner, 11. Without the restrictive, but necessary, rules caused by COVID-19, the team had more fun than before. "I think this season was way better than last year. We played more games and it was over all more fun," says Chase Terrell, 10. After a successful season, the Sycamore Varsity football team is looking forward to next year.

play all day

The JV Aviators fought a hard season bringing their final record to 2-8. With close games against Oak Hills, Middletown, Loveland, the team is full of potential. Coming off a year with a shortened season, this team had a lot working against them; however, they powered through and created stronger bonds because of it. Jared Turner, 11, said, "This season is definitely an improvement of last season, not having to deal with COVID and winning more games."

They will be able to continue utilizing their talents going forward whether they move onto Varsity next year or continue to be leaders on the JV team. For current JV Quarterback Seth Truter, 10, this year's team chemistry has allowed them to "read each other on the field." He said he needs to "predict what [his] teammates are going to do," to play more efficiently and work together towards victory.

Across the Sycamore football program, a common phrase for the players is "What's Important Now?" More than a guiding questions to center the boys before a game, the first letters spell out an important word. What's Important Now? WIN!

“It was a great season for me to get more comfortable with controlling the offense and getting experience for the next season.”

SETH TRUTER, 10

“I think the team chemistry is great. We bond on and off the field and we have been playing better lately because of it.”

CHASE TERRELL, 10

make some noise

The cheer team is one of Sycamore's pride and joys. They are at every game, every school event, always working hard to keep school spirit up and bring a smile to everyone's faces. The elementary school cheerleaders look up to our cheer team, just as the current high schoolers did when they were young. Their contribution to our school is immeasurable.

This year has been a nice return to normalcy for the cheer team; Ella Wooley, 11, says, "Compared to last season the vibes of the football games this season have been so much fun. We are able to have a student section again and play all 10 games. Last year all competitions were canceled and this season we got to compete twice." Just like most sports teams, the cheerleaders were able to have a regular season again. But they also helped other sports to have normal seasons. Thanks to the cheerleading team hyping up the Ave Cave, football games were back to normal this year.

"Last year we didn't have competitions, so it was really just games. There was no student section last year either, so this season has been a lot more fun."

- Ellie Fleck, 11

across the field

The marching band showcased their newly created pregame routine as well as their show during Strike Up the Band for Hunger. This performance is put on for the community to enjoy every year, and admissions are only two non-perishable food items which get donated to Operation Give Back. Their pregame show now included new drill in the shape of a plane as well as fire extinguishers for the plane's exhaust.

DOUBLE DUTY

Jade Blevins, 10, is one of many student who love to do a bunch of different activities. She is a part of the JV Cheerleading team as well as a dedicated member of the marching band. Even though it's difficult at times to balance both of these time-consuming activities, she "love[s] being busy and the relationships [she's] made with the people make it so worth the struggles," Blevins said.

"She's got more spirit in her little finger than the rest of us combined"
- Megan Radakovich, 12

This year the marching band traveled to Disney World for the first time post-COVID-19. They marched around Magic Kingdom in a parade.

My favorite part [about being drum major] is getting to know everyone. I'm not in one section so I just float around and talk to everyone, and I've gotten to make a lot of really good friendships through that and met a lot of different people."

- Karissa Collins, 12

This year's drum majors are Ava McFall, 10, Karissa Collins, 12, and head drum major Anelise Kim, 12.

welcome to our city of shining lights...

This past season, 2021, the marching band's show was called The City Lights. It was not actually a new show, because the year before they learned the first part of it. They never finished the show that year because of COVID-19, so it was exciting for everyone to have a finished show this time. In addition, they were able to attend a few competitions, including one at Ohio State University, which was a great change from 2020. Their show, The City Lights used music from the classic "Rhapsody in Blue" as well as "Blinding Lights" by The Weeknd. They also featured many soloists in their show, including Minjee Kim, 10, Sean Cooper, 12, Vincent Oliver, 11, Elliana Jobe, 11, Wesley Dentinger, 10, and Aaron Matson, 12.

the Girls Varsity Soccer Team shares their inspirations and team bonding fun

Soccer has been an important global sport for hundreds of years, and it's arguably at its peak of popularity. But a fairly recent development is the growing world of women's soccer. The United States Women's Soccer team was created in 1985, with professional women's soccer on a steady upward growth since then. More and more girls are starting to play soccer, with strong, inspiring figures. Marin Brock, 11, looks up to Rose Lavelle, who is from Cincinnati and plays on the National Team, scoring three goals in the most recent World

Cup. Elena Simons, 11, is inspired by her own teammate, "Dani Dattillo! She was a senior on the team this year and has always been encouraging to our team. The energy and leadership she brought to our team helped us throughout the season!"

The Sycamore Girls Varsity Soccer team is a successful staple of our school. The players on the team form a strong bond through daily practices and shared experiences, such as team "pasta parties," says Victoria Torregrosa, 12. Danielle Dattilo, 12, says "...we have a really special bond. We hang out with each other outside of soccer and still text each others updates on our lives." The Sycamore Girls Soccer team will continue to inspire young players in our community, as well as each other.

FRESH ON THE TEAM

Jordana Ronis-Tobin is the only freshman on the Varsity team. Here is what she has to say:

When you tried out for the soccer team, did you expect to get on the Varsity? Honestly, I was really hoping I would make it, but it didn't really hit me what that would mean. I definitely didn't think I would be the only freshman, and that's probably what shocked me. But at the beginning of the summer when I decided to try out, I was just hoping to make a team and play for the school.

What was your reaction when you found out you made it?

It felt almost surreal. I went through stages of excitement and being really nervous — especially in the first couple of weeks. But overall I think I was really excited, I couldn't wait for the practices to start, and I looked forward to them every day.

What is your experience being the youngest on the team?

Any special treatment/jokes?

There wasn't ever joking about my age, and age didn't really matter. My teammates just welcomed me as one of them. The only reason my age made a difference was in my mind. After a while, I really just felt like a part of the team. If I'm on the team when I'm an upperclassman, I want to make sure that younger players feel as welcomed as I did.

"Being apart of a team is like having a whole new family, you get to grow together and build relationships that lasts a lifetime."

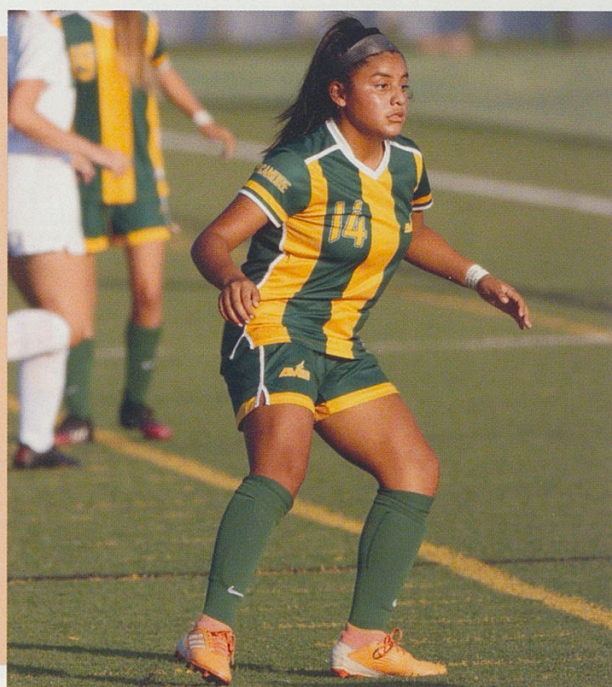

-Zoey Powers, 9

THROUGH THE YEARS

My dad motivated me into joining soccer, and I was put into soccer at the age 4. My teammates, I love how encouraging they are. We play pretty well as a team, but obviously there are some harsh moments, and we have to talk to figure it out. I have been planning on playing soccer throughout high school. If I had never started playing soccer I would have stuck with swimming, I am a big swimmer, and I'm also swimming this year. But without soccer, I would definitely be lost."

MAYA NORTROP, 9

The JV girls soccer team all tell their own story to share, everyone has something unique that inspired them. Even though, soccer season for the JV girls has ended they still work hard to achieve their goals, and go past their limits. In every picture you see you see the sign of resilience in each player. They each work hard and help each other out with moves they cannot compete with. Nina Friedman, 9, says that she wants to improve on gaining more distance on her goal kicks, punts, and other forms of distribution. Soccer is a sport where each player learns a new skill from their teammates. Mimi Goldstein, 9, says that she had improved playing with speed and she wanted to improve on fast skill with both feet. Both of these soccer players show that they improved and are learning new moves as well.

This is their story.

found family

As with every sports team, the Sycamore High School boys varsity soccer team has been through many challenges over the previous year, with many new members and old players graduating last year the team has quickly learned to adapt to new players, styles, and personalities on the team. While some of the boys have been on the field together for years, others have not. However, no matter how long they have been on the same team they are close, both on and off the field, "I think through [Covid] we all sort of stayed together and worked hard to try to stay together" said Sean Donovan, 10. With three wins, two losses, and four ties half way through the season, it is clear that the boys have worked hard to learn how to best work with the new team members and do their best at every game.

One of the team captains, Garrett Friedrich, 12, always wanted to lead a team, especially after being a part of the Sycamore team for so long, "...it's cool, I mean it's always something I've wanted to do,"

Friedrich said, especially after looking up the team for so long. Soccer is highly based on the bonds between team members, if the team has no connection or if they do not know how to work together, their chances of success lower significantly. "...it took us a little while to figure out some stuff throughout the pre-season and we had some trouble scoring goals...which hurt but we are starting to figure it out, Friedrich said.

"...but there were a lot of seniors last year, and a lot of people moved up this year to varsity who were on JV last year. So we just got a lot of people stepping up in different roles, and we are figuring that out, but we will be good."

-Ben Lu, 12

Q&A with the Boy Junior Varsity Soccer team

How does the Sycamore team differ from other teams you have worked or played on?

Coach Henry Reid: "The junior varsity boys team (JVB) is a bit different from other teams I have worked with because we get to focus on building the foundations of Sycamore Soccer. Unlike some of the upper level teams, we do not worry about wins or losses. This way I get to focus specifically on supporting the individual and the growth of our player throughout the season."

Coach Benjamin Hasselbeck: "This team really differs from others I have coached because all these boys play at a pretty high level and so tactically I am able to get into the more in-depth side of things and it is amazing how much they understand and are able to quickly adjust."

Andres Espana Lara, 10: "The team was since the beginning. We never left anyone out and always stuck together. There was never any trash talk between us and we treated each other like family."

How would you describe this year's team?

Coach Henry Reid: "This 2021 JVB team dynamic was filled with joy, accountability, and commitment to each other."

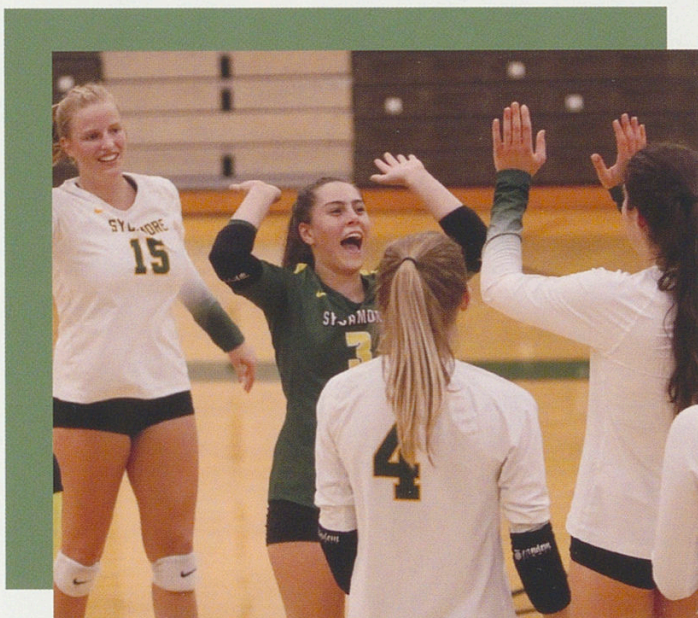

Coach Benjamin Hasselbeck: "I would describe the team dynamic as 'family.' That is one thing I always stress, we can be hard on each other in practice to give more effort and put our best versions on the field, but we always have each other's backs no matter what and I always enjoy watching the guys become friends off the pitch. Especially with the fact that we have freshman, sophomores, and juniors and many of them are meeting and playing together for the first time during the soccer season."

How did you start playing or coaching soccer?

Coach Henry Reid: "After I finished playing soccer I knew I wanted to continue to be part of the game in some aspect."

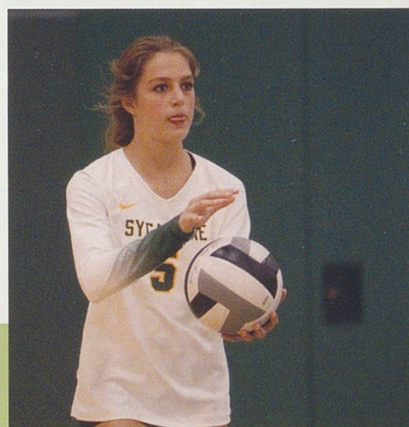

Coach Benjamin Hasselbeck: "After playing for 18+ years, it was hard to imagine giving [soccer] up completely and [coaching] was my opportunity to stay in the game..."

Andres Espana Lara: "I started playing soccer when I lived in Brazil, most of my friends played and I wanted to join in."

"We all share a really high passion for the sport itself. Like, whether or not its Sycamore or any other school, I think we all just like to play."

-Abigail Kaniecki, 12

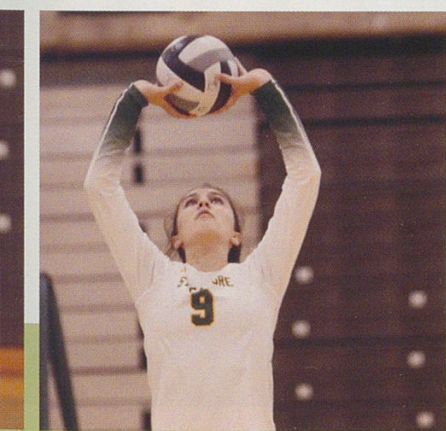

net. gains.

The squeak of shoes. The cheer of the crowd. The "thump" of a well-placed bump. For Sycamore's Varsity Girls Volleyball team, these are all familiar sounds, creating a soundtrack for the season.

Compared to other years, however, the girls had to find new ways to work together on and off the court. "We had a very small team this year in terms of people playing... [and] we had a lot of injuries to a lot of really good players," said Abigail Kaniecki, 12. For the girls, these challenges actually helped them become a tight-knit team.

Even with limited players, the Lady Aves completed an amazing season, hearing the sweet sounds of victory!

bump, set, spike

Members of the Girls JV Volleyball team respond to questions about the sport.

PIPER TILTON, 9

What motivated you to start playing volleyball?

"I played basketball and I tried to look for another sport that I would enjoy."

How long have you been playing for?

"Since 3rd grade."

LUCILLE THAMAN, 9

What do you like most about your teammates?

"My teammates are super supportive and its are always positive around the court."

How long have you been playing for?

"For 3 years now."

REESE KUHLMAN, 9

What got you interested in volleyball?

My cousins played volleyball, and it looked like a really fun sport.

Does your team have any traditions?

I don't really think my team has any traditions we do after a game. But we do a lot of clapping.

Are you continuing volleyball?

I am continuing volleyball, and starting club season pretty soon.

DID YOU KNOW?

It's played with two teams on either side of the net, each consisting of six players.

- britannica.com

Volleyball is a very famous game, with more than 800 million people playing the game at least once a week.

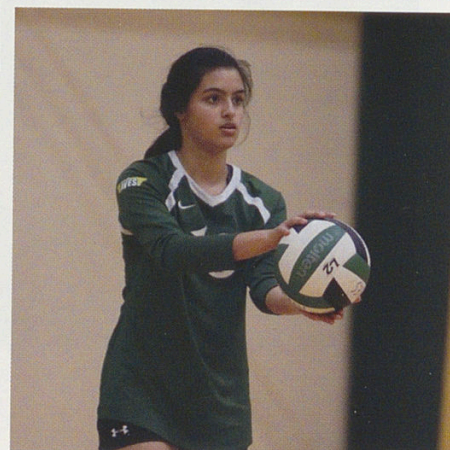

- ncva.com

The longest Volleyball game in history was 85 hours long and took place in the Netherlands in 2011.

running out of time

The Girls Cross Country Team is a family like no other. They train together, sweat together, struggle together, but most importantly, they grow together. The team fosters a very positive environment, pushing each other to improve. Even Sadie Marcoux, 10, who isn't a huge fan of running, enjoys cross country and the community it provides. "When you're vulnerable and at your breaking point pushing your body, the positive atmosphere really lets you kick it in and keep going," Marcoux said.

Many of these athletes love cheering on their teammates during meets. For Senior Grace Koo, it was all she could do this year, as she was out for most of the season because of shin splints. Instead of running full workouts with her friends, she found herself cross training and running shorter workouts. Though her injury was frustrating, she loved cheering her teammates on at the meets. Koo said, "because running is such a mental sport, you need all the support you can get on races. When I ran meets, I remember how energizing it was when my own teammates gave me encouragement, so there is nothing more gratifying than being able to reciprocate that!"

“Choosing to run cross country has been one of the best decisions I have made — I was able to learn so much about myself on a whole new level, what it means to push myself, surprising myself with the strength I didn't even know I had in me. But cross country allowed me to make close relationships with my teammates who know the struggles and joys of being a runner, and nothing will ever replace the amazing memories I have had with the team.”

—Grace Koo, 12

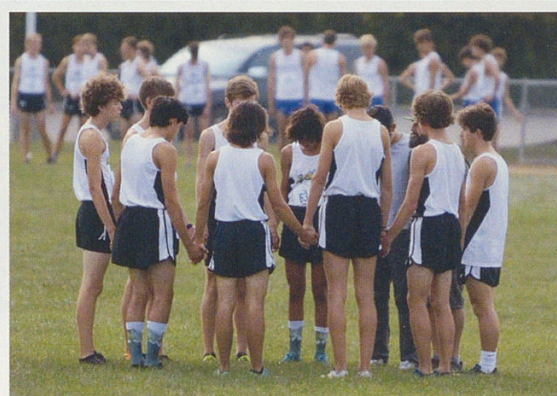

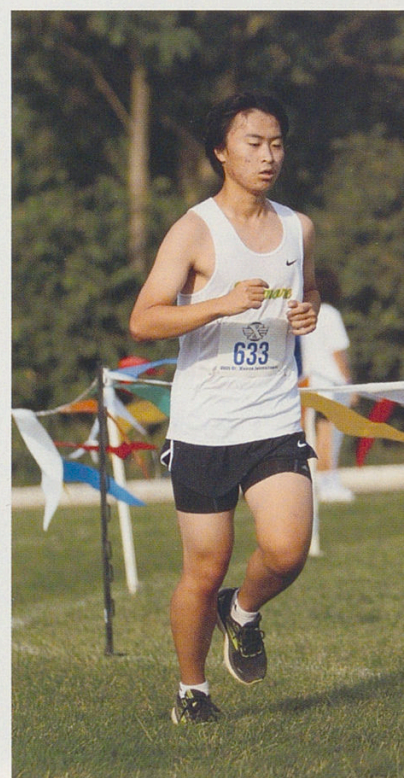

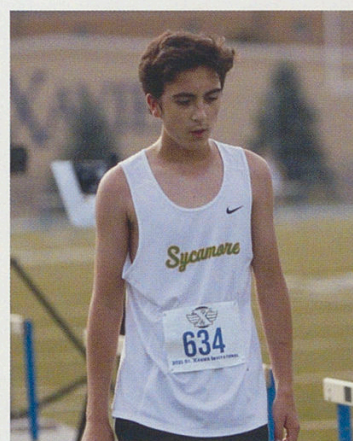

Though running isn't for everyone, many love it for various reasons. Some like it for the friendships created and the community it provides, and others like it for the exercise. One girl, sophomore Iris Carman, joined cross country because running "really helps boost [her] mental health" and is "an outlet that [she has]."

"Everybody on the team shares an ability to set their mind on something and then pursue that with delay or hesitation until they've accomplished what they set out to do."

-Solomon Lumb, 12

chasing goals

Cross Country showed me how to not give up when things are tough. Like, for example, our running workouts are crazy, like miles and repeats... but Coach still says, just push through it even if it's bad. You at least finish, and you have the confidence to get better."

JOVAN JOSE ASKER FREDY, 10

SENIOR SEASON

Two Senior runners reflect on their time in the program

Solomon Lumb, 12, might be well-known for his Australian accent, but he has another claim to fame: "I've been injured every season of my Cross Country career," he admits. Lumb's advice to others thinking about running? "There are plenty of other ways to get fit that require less pain." Still, the runner has loved his time in the brotherhood, picking up many valuable characteristics from the sport. "Cross Country has taught me to be more determined and to stick with something, even if it hurts," Lumb said. "Much like a race, there's no real option to just pull off to the side and stop."

Senior William Freeman has learned a similar lesson in perseverance, working to earn a spot on the Varsity team this year. "This is the first year I ran in the post-season," Freeman said. While the extended time running was a highlight, Freeman's favorite memory of this year was the end-of-season banquet. "Every year, there's a senior appreciation thing that all the underclassmen organize," Freeman said. "They typically give some kind of gift, and this year they made shirts for the seniors... with our names on the back and a list of inside jokes specified to each person... it was really special."

driving it home

While golf is mostly an individual sport the Sycamore Girls' golf team has formed their own support system for a very difficult sport. Together they have worked to improve their skills and work through challenges, and all their work paid off when the team went to district championships. While each player is scored separately for an individual ranking, all of those scores are averaged together for a team ranking; Deeya Prakash, 12, ended the season with the lowest scoring average in all of Cincinnati. The team has worked incredibly hard to ensure that all members of the team are doing the best they possibly can, often the older girls work with the newer members to teach skills and offer support and encouragement when needed. The team has done everything they can to show that while they play solo they are never alone, there is always someone they can turn to learn something new and help hone their skills. With long practices and bus rides the team has had a lot of time to form individual and team bonds, "...we would take the van to all of our matches and the van was preset to the country radio...and there was this one song that came on it's called Fancy Like by Walker Hayes...we would sing that song until our vocal cords bled and it became our anthem," Prakash said.

"When you start, you don't see as much improvement because starting [golf] is really hard. But if you stick to it and you push yourself, you can get better."

-Maren Hartz, 10

"...I'm a very go-go-go person and I feel like with golf you have to calm down a little bit, realize what you are about to do before you take your shot. I feel like that has helped me calm down a lot."

-Sophie Carter, 12

FAMILY & TEAM

"Golf is a smaller team and I feel like I knew every girl really well... we all were really close."

-Sophie Carter, 12

TEAM PLAYER

"Just to watch my teammates grow because their dedication is infectious...[it] influences me to be a better role model for them, a better player, and a better teammate."

-Deeya Prakash, 12

OFF THE GREEN

"Sometimes we have to drive out kind of far and on the bus rides we listen to music and talk to each other and we have a lot of fun together."

-Maren Hartz, 10

IN THIS TOGETHER

"I think doing [golf] together, doing something difficult makes everyone better in the end."

-Caroline Thompson, 10

PATRICK THOMPSON, 12

What kind of music do you guys listen to before you compete?

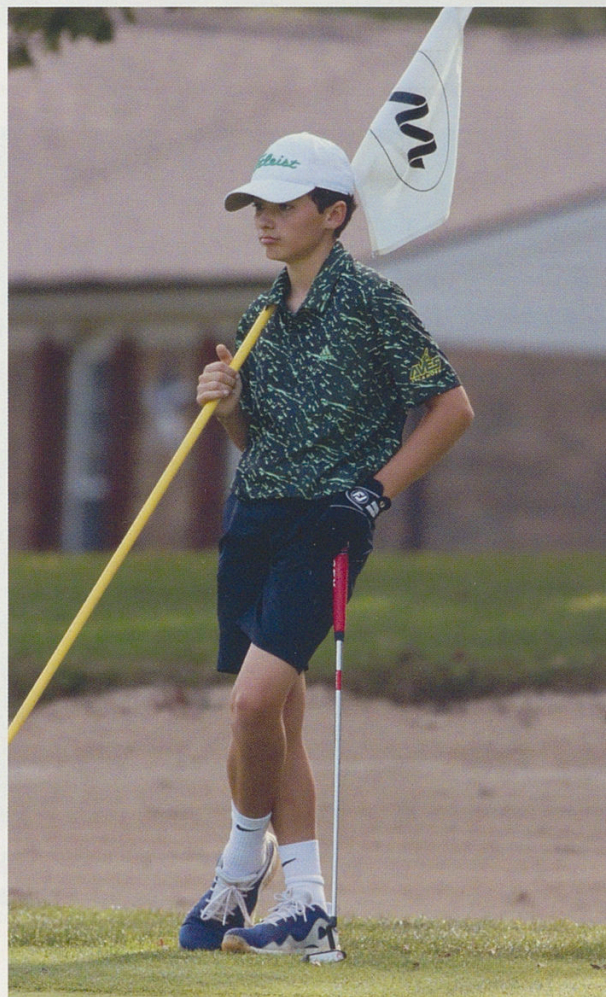

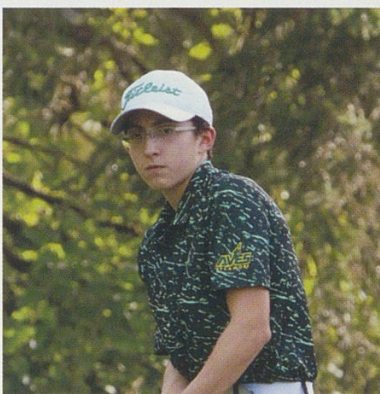

"If we listen to music we mostly listen to rap and rock, family ties by Kendrick and Baby Keem. Played a lot when it came out."

ALBERT MUHLEMAN, 12

How do you feel about this season?

"This season was somewhat of a rebuild for the program. We had 9 of 12 players as freshman. The team will only get better."

JACK DEJONCKHEERE, 11

What was your goal this season?

"My goal for this season was to do better than last year, which I accomplished. But most importantly make it to districts. Which I accomplished this year."

Evelina Tyan, 12 hits a forehand during a match. This season, the girls Varsity Gold tennis team placed second in the GMC.

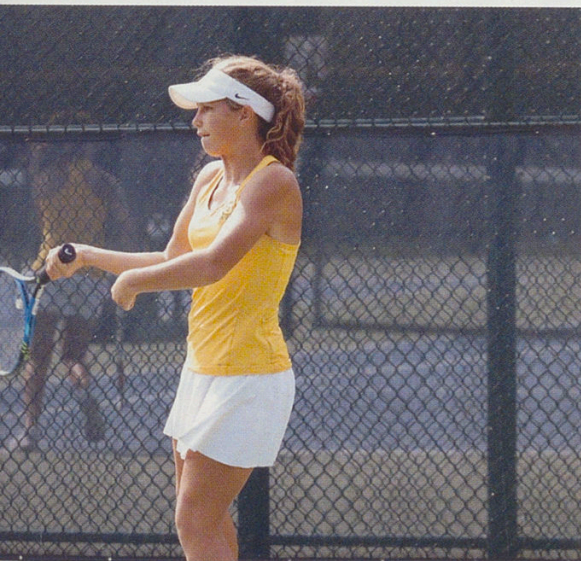

EYE ON THE BALL: Mya Reardon, 11, top right, is seen serving during a match. When asked about what she enjoys about Sycamore Tennis, she said, "One thing I love about the team is how close everyone is."

Coach Tanya Holland is known for the catchy phrase above. Before and during matches, she enthusiastically uses the phrase. She also encourages the athletes to tell themselves; this year, Senior Ali-son Temple took on the role of reminding everyone.

Seniors Anusha Gambheera and Aliza Newton were second doubles champions this season, after winning three consecutive matches at Coaches Classic.

Nicole Heinz Urgilez, 10, was a new addition to the Varsity Green team after playing for JV during her freshman year. Due to other injuries, Heinz played third singles instead of second doubles. That said, Heinz won almost every match, truly stepping up to the challenge.

ALL ABOUT THE SENIORS

On senior night, the boys and girls teams came together to play doubles and other games. This year, the girls team had eight seniors.

My proudest moment was one of the longest matches I had and it was really tiring. I won in the end and helped my team win. It was also really fun as I helped my team win. It was also really fun as evenly matched with my opponent.

one last flight

One last water polo season in the current pool

What time is it? "Joe Mama-clock!" Sophomore Ferdoos Baghbanian started the joke after every time someone would say What time is it? She kept it going the whole season! This was the last season that the girls will be playing in this pool. Though that pool can have really bad air sometimes it has given the Lady Aves a home for many of years. This pool has given them so many good and bad memories. As well as lots of tears laugh. The girls placed 6th at states, they played hard and had lots of fun.

This year they started a tradition of doing a tread circle before every game. During warm-ups, they do their normal warmups which consist of swimming some amount of laps, 4 sprints, passing for 5 minutes, then 4 corners. Then this year they added the tread circle after all of the other warm-ups as well. The tread circle involves all of the girls start treading one way, then the other directions and then start doing the Hokey-Pokey to get their legs warmed up.

"I love all the fun team bonding things we get to do together! Especially the time we spend together outside of the pool," said Ayla Fidanza, 11.

Fidanza demonstrated the spirit of the Lady Aves Water Polo team with the goals she set for the season. She said, "I wanted to improve from where I was last season and I think I accomplished that!" Improvement was the name of the game both in and out of the pool, with the members pushing each other to learn and grow. "I love the competitive atmosphere and the push for everyone to improve together!" said Alexis Klugo, 10.

ALL-OHIO TEAM

OLIVIA SHIELDS, 12

"I was very excited to find out that I made the All-Ohio team. I'm very proud of everyone who made it and it's an accomplishing feeling on how hard we have all worked!"

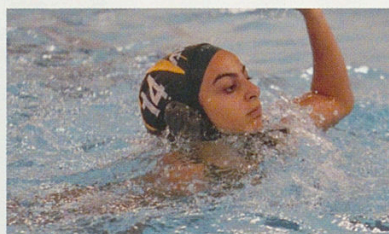

ALEXIS HOLDREN, 11

"I feel like all of my doubts about myself as a player have disappeared... [that] other coaches saw my hard work and took note of my performance makes me feel seen and appreciated, especially when there are so many games and tournaments where I feel like I've let my team down."

EMMA BAECKER, 12

"It's very rewarding to know that all my hard work has paid off and I couldn't have done it without my team behind and supporting me."

LOB SHOT: "I have always had a struggle catching the ball, but throwing it I have no problem. I learned to do the "lob shot," this trick is so useful." -Gabriella Goldstein, 12.

BIG SIS, LITTLE SIS: "I loved becoming friends with the underclassman!" -Hannah Horne, 12.

TOURNAMENT: "Every season we go to our biggest tournament of the year Ohio Cup, it's an outdoor tournament and in between games we all just hangout and the whole team spends time in our hammocks!" -Bonnie Dawson, 12.

MOTIVATION: "We all welcome, encourage, motivate, and support each other, but we also form wonderful, life-lasting bonds in and out of the water." -Hannah Miller, 12.

NEW EXPERIENCES

The relationship that you make with this team is the most memorable thing ever as well as getting my first goal at JO's. My goal was to not give up and keep trying for what you want."

SOPHIA STEVENS, 10

FRESHMAN ON VARSITY

I wanted to try something new outside of swimming and to just learn as much as I could. I enjoy being around new people and winning! The most unique rule is the jump ball after a tie from the swim off, it's very fun to do." EVAN PREISSLER, 9

breaking records

Having fun no matter the situation

The Squadron placed 5th in states this year! They gave it their all and had lots of fun in and out of the pool. Not only did they get that but they broke lots of records! With lots of energy always up in the pool the boys make everything fun! From days where they do harder sets to easier sets they made everything fun and worth it. The boys had to take on big roles and fill places from the seniors that left last year. The Squadron brought it and gave it their all this season!

“Hanging out with the team is the best. I love the all of the team bonding activities we do! I like playing on the wings and flats. I can cut in on people and I can see the whole pool and don’t let other players behind me.”

HAYDEN GORDON, 10

“Much of water polo is playing the standards of the ref, if the ref is ok with you drowning the guy in front of him, great, have fun! But if the ref won’t let you get anywhere near someone, then don’t touch him.”

ALEXANDER DEIHL, 12

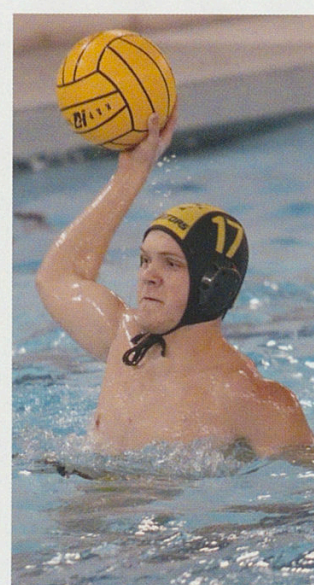

Peter broke the single season goal record. He now is the leading scorer with 154 Varsity goals this season. “It feels amazing to break the goal record, but I couldn’t have done it without the help from others throughout my 4 years of high school.”

PETER HAUSFELD, 12

Chris broke the single season assist record with 49 assists as a goalie. “The goalie can cross half and participate as a field player, which most sports don’t have a rule like this so it leads to lots of interesting situations!”

CHRIS GALL, 12

Adrian broke the single season assist record for field, he is at 52 assists. “My goal this season was to become a key player in and out of the pool, and to break the most assist in a single season.” Adrian did just that!

ADRIAN

HEAD IN THE GAME

Seniors Ella Maxwell and Kristin Close enjoy one of the many games at Main Event. The night began at the High School, where students were assigned bus and table numbers. Following pizza, students boarded the bus and headed to main event.

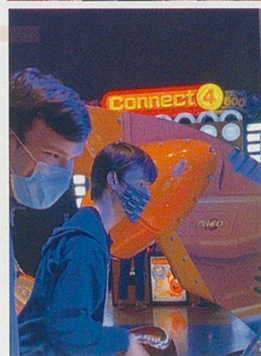

IN IT TO WIN IT

Charlotte Weiss, 12, plays skiball. The students headed to Main Event at nine o'clock and stayed at Main Event until midnight, when they returned to the high school. Several teachers also attended as chaperones!

FUN WITH FRIENDS

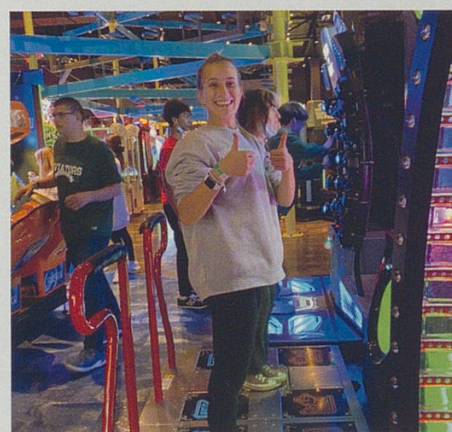

Seniors Max Renner and Nate Roberts go head to head on one of the many arcade games at Main Event. Thanks to parents volunteers, pizza, raffle prizes, snacks, and a variety of games and activities were available for the Senior class!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

This December, seniors enjoyed a night at Main Event. To the right is a picture of the whole senior class. Thanks to Senior parent volunteers, over 200 seniors were able to enjoy a fun, bowling, lazer-craze, and pizza filled night.

Lily Armbruster, 12, plays on of the arcade games. At the end of the night, the students came together to take a class photo in front of the bowling lanes. Anusha Gambheera, 12, and many others won Chik-fil-A gift cards during the many raffle drawings, courtesy of parents volunteers!

LIVE, LAUGH, LOVE

Seniors Naomi Wicher, Peyton Harmon, Sanjana Mahesh, and Chloe Gordon are seen at the bowling lanes, at Senior Night at Main Event. During the night out, students could sign up for bowling, lazer tag, or enjoy the many arcade games. Some students also enjoyed gravity ropes, in which, while suspended in the air, high above the ground, people can walk on tightropes and through other obstacles.

Every year, the orchestra gives their seniors an opportunity to perform a concerto—a solo using the rest of the orchestra as the accompaniment—at one of their concerts. This year, Lily Shiomitsu, 12, who has been playing cello for eight years, was one of these lucky seniors. She spent months preparing for her audition where she performed her piece of choice, Cello Concerto in B minor by Dvořák, in front of Dr. Angela Santangelo as well as another teacher. “It was really scary, but it was also fun at the same time... After I was done, like when I stood up and everyone was clapping, I was just like, is this real? It was overall a really good experience and it was great...as a wrap up for my high school orchestra career,” Shiomitsu said.

Concert band also had their winter concert this December. This was their first concert since before the COVID-19 pandemic hit in 2020.

“It was great to be able to play in front of people again”
- Josiah Jobe, 12

WINTER BREAK

Over winter break, Maya Sethuraman, 12, traveled to Mexico City with her parents. She found it pretty cool because “there’s actually...a lot of history” there, Sethuraman said. This was her first time traveling internationally since 2020 when the COVID-19 pandemic hit. Though it was definitely a risk, “people there were...cautious...like masks [were] mandated in every place from 7/11 to the museum,” Sethuraman said.

“I got to practice my Spanish. It was really cool to...immerse myself in a different culture and learn about some of their traditions.”

ALL TOGETHER NOW

All guitar classes performed a concert during seventh bell in January.

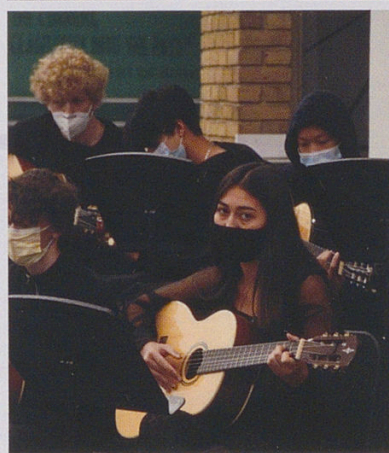

SOUND OF MUSIC

Darya Tsoy, 11, upper right, performed a solo.

TO THE BEAT

Many students and staff gathered in the HUB to enjoy the concert.

This winter, Aves Theatre performed The Drowsy Chaperone. Students and parents alike enjoyed the show. Maria Shomo, 12, played the Drowsy Chaperone, who is in charge of keeping a bride and groom apart on their wedding day. With a pair of roller skates, two gangsters disguised as pastry chefs, and even a special cameo from the superintendent, this wacky and wonderful show was a hit!

LVI

The Cincinnati Bengals football team made it to the LVI Super Bowl and played against the Los Angeles Rams! The whole city was beaming with pride for this achievement as the last time the Bengals played in the Super Bowl was 1989. Even though they lost 23 - 20, the Bengals put up a valiant fight until the end of the game.

WHO DEY

Many schools took Monday, February 14th, off as it was the day after the Super Bowl. Sycamore, instead of just calling the day off, decided to make a district-wide challenge. Superintendent Chad Lewis created the #WhoDeyChallenge, promising the day off if students raised as least $8,822 for OGB and Sycamore Bridges. The community exceeded the challenge and raised over $20,000, helping their community as well as getting the day off.

order in the court

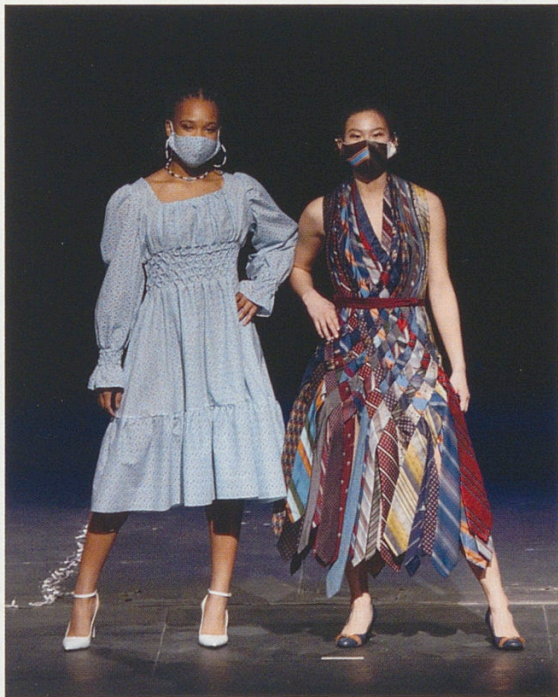

Mock Trial is a fun extracurricular offered in which the team is given a case and spend their entire season preparing for their district competition. They have to understand the case and roleplay as witnesses and lawyers, preparing statements and speeches, and being able to argue both sides of the case. This year, the case given was about a restaurant that had shut down due to COVID-19 restrictions. The varsity team performed very well at districts and competed at regionals, and made it all the way to state. Usually, the team travels to an actual court room for the competitions and gets the chance to have a, well, mock trial in a real-life setting. However, because of COVID-19, competitions were virtual. Erica Liff, 12, said that for their competitions, the team would all come over to someones house so they could all be together during their trial. Her favorite memory of their regional competition was when senior Shashank Sai Aravind Obulasetti used technology to his advantage to help support his statements. He "attempted" to pull up tax documents (that didn't exist) on his laptop and pretended to be confused when nothing showed up on everyone's screen. In the moment, Obulasetti's actions made everyone on the team laugh so hard because of how invested he was in his role.

The students celebrated the Bengals making it to the Super Bowl by having spirit week the week leading up the big game.

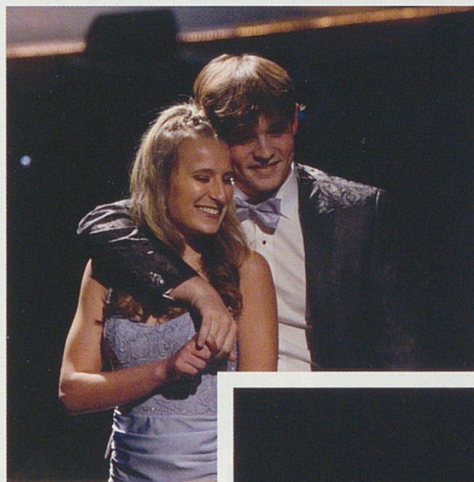

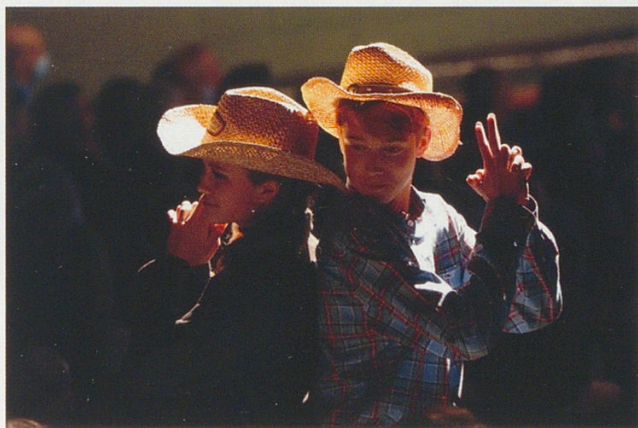

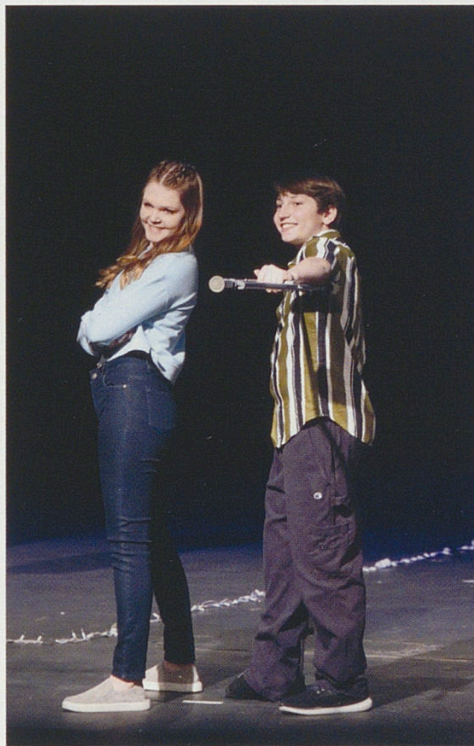

a night

I was backstage and saw the dragonfly kids go back to their dressing room after having walked away. The smiles on their faces and their pure excitement was a special moment for me to witness.”

- Hannah Peri, 11, FFTC committee member

For just one night, dress up fancy and immerse yourself: enter the theatre and watch a dazzling fashion runway featuring priceless designs created by Sycamore high school students themselves, prom dresses and tuxedos that sparkled under the 'lights, and even casual wear from the local Alley Boutique in Loveland.

Every year, a committee of students put so much of their time into organizing the annual Fashion For the Cure fashion show that raises money for the Dragonfly Foundation, an organization supporting child cancer patients and their families. This year was its 16th annual showing. In all, FFTC was able to raise nearly $59,000 from small fundraisers done throughout the year as well as everything raised from the night of the show.

Co-chair Payton Hines, 12, found her favorite part of the show was the final walkthrough of all the models, designers, committee members, and Dragonflies. “There was something so special about the energy of the audience and the excitement on the Dragonflies faces,” Hines said.

to remember who's that?

Oh, how proud the whole school is of this amazing group of boys! They fought hard and played their best, setting a record for most wins in a season with their 20 victories. GMC champs for the first time since 2013, playing in the First District finals and earning the First Sectional title for the first time since 2004.

"Our goal is to win a GMC championship and state title, I really want to see our class on the basketball banner," said Charlie Hall, 11. Wanting to put a title up on the banner, the team did just that. They put all their hard work and dedication not only to this sport but this season in general. The environment was really good they are way closer as a team and play for each other on the court. They have team dinners before every game to relax, hangout, and talk about the team they are playing. The Ave Cave was at every game, home or away, to cheer on our boys! They came to cheer as loud as they can. The Ave Cave was so excited to finally be able to cheer on our ayes and that also helped the boys out a lot!

LET'S GO TO THE BEACH

Over winter break, the basketball team took a trip to Florida to play in a tournament and work on team bonding. Senior Captain Ben Southerland said, "It is always good to just that experience under your belt. I would say that the overall trip is to get away because basketball is such a long season so that sort of break and difference is good for the team. While the trip is meant for just a fun holiday trip it is still about going down there and competing every single day and doing the best possible."

"You feel the culture of the team every-day in practice and in the locker room"

-Bryce Darbyshire, 11

How do you feel about the season as it comes to an end?

"I feel like it was a great season for Sycamore. It is sad because it went by fast."

Elijah Hill, 10

why not us?

What challenges did you overcome this basketball season?

"When it was close at the end of games I knew that I had to push through whatever pain I was feeling in the game, playing physical the whole game."

Giovoni Garrett, 10

What are some things the team did to make you comfortable as a freshman?

"When I messed up they would tell me what I messed up on and what I should have done. They always made sure I had a drive."

Tariq Kimbrough, 9

hoops, they did it again

*Girls Varsity Basketball brings
Sycamore to victory*

The varsity girls basketball team has had ups and downs throughout the year, but in the end they were able to come together as a team. This year several underclassmen joined the varsity team and were able to help the team work their way through the tournament and made our school proud.

Leah Riley, 12, who joined the varsity team as a freshman herself said "We were very young. We had lots of sophomores, lots of underclassmen on varsity. And I felt like we overachieved...we made it pretty far in the tournament." Despite large age gap between the girls on the court they work effectively as a unit and off the court often function as a family. For these girls this is not just a high school basketball team, it is a community that transcends age differences. Working as team can be difficult when at times you have nothing in common with your team mates, but the girls have learned how to work together.

"We bought into becoming a family, even though we may have some differences or that we are not in the same groups. We may not be going through the same things at school, but we bought into being a family and we all put time into that and committed to getting closer to one another"

-Leah Riley, 12

KEYONC'E SHERIDAN, 11

What motivated you into joining?

I was motivated by my family, and since I'm in a family of athletes there was no point in for me not to play.

Is there anything you have improved on, or want too?

I think I've improved on my mental toughness and I've gotten stronger and learned a lot. Not just about basketball, but life too.

SYDNEY SKINNER, 11

Who inspired you into joining the team?

My mom inspired me to join the basketball team because she played basketball in college and was a very talented athlete.

Is there anything you would like to tell any aspiring players?

I would tell them to keep working to improve their game regardless of how killed they are, but to make sure they are enjoying the sport along the way.

SWOOSH

This year, the Girls JV Basketball team worked hard during their season.

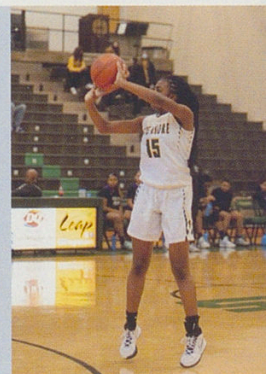

“I love bonding with my team and getting closer to the underclassmen.”

-KAYLA BUSBY, 11

ON THE MOVE

Laura Mercurio, 9, said, “I enjoy being with friends and winning games.” Mercurio started playing basketball in second grade, and got involved through SAC.

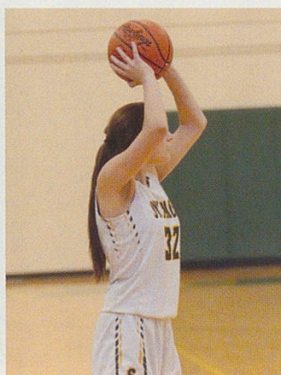

GOING ABOVE

Busby said, "The things I enjoy most about being on the team are playing in games and cheering for varsity after our games."

Chlorine in our veins. The girl aquaAves fought hard and had a great last season in the pool. That pool has lots of memories over the past years! Senior captain Olivia Shields said, "We had a pretty young team and quite a few new girls, we made lots of good memories between singing, swimming and dancing between sets". Both the JV and Varsity team had several team bonding activities throughout the season. "This team is such a positive and encouraging atmosphere that friends are easily made and relationships are strengthened" Emma Baecker 12.

making a splash

For the last time, the boy's swim team practiced and competed and made so many lasting memories in their home pool that has been here since the 1970s.

At the conclusion of the winter season, the pool started to undergo major renovations as a part of Sycamore's Master Facility Plan.

The team swam very well this season. They placed second in the GMC, as well as qualified five swimmers and one diver for state, placing ninth in all of Ohio. More than just that though, so many of the swimmers improved and new personal records. "I think the team exceeded expectations," said Evan Preissler, 9.

It felt really rewarding ending the season on a good note”

- John Carmody, 11

For five of the Aviator swimmers, their season continued all the way to state. Seniors Bishop Carl and Avery Clapp, juniors Bryce Menchhofer and John Carmody, and freshman Evan Preissler loved the opportunity to compete for the school. But even before the championship meet, memories were made. “Just during the regular dual meet season, we have had so many incredible moments... The guys team played poker at our first and only pasta party (STUPID COVID!), and we all had fun there,” Carl said.

(noun. Used by some divers as an exclamation when every judge gives a dive the same score)

This year, seniors Anelise Kim and Preston Landolt won GMC titles, placing first in both the girls and boys diving conference meet. This was Landolt's third consecutive title, but it was Kim's first time winning. It's also the first time in over 15 years that a Sycamore student has won the girls GMC conference meet! Both divers went on to compete at state championships, and Kim podiumed, placing 7th at her first, and last, state meet ever.

SYCAMORE AT STATE:

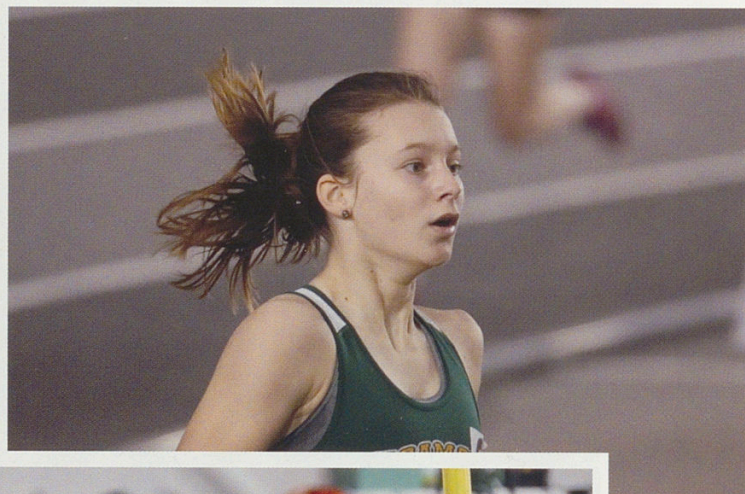

Track is an individual sport. You know your events and you have to perform well. At the Indoor State Championship in March, our state qualifiers finished the winter season coming in tenth for the 4x200 and 3rd for the 4x800. Lauren Ann Barnes, 12, placed first in the high jumping event and Rashid Harris, 12, came in ninth in the 60 meter dash.

But they are all a team at the end of the day. In the words of state qualifier Solomon Lumb, 12, "we are a team with the experience and dedication to win." Be on the look-out for your Sycamore track team: You will see them back at state.

talent to spare

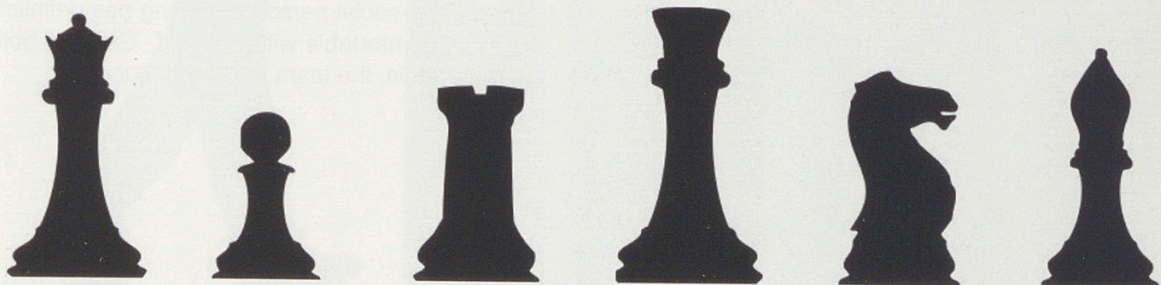

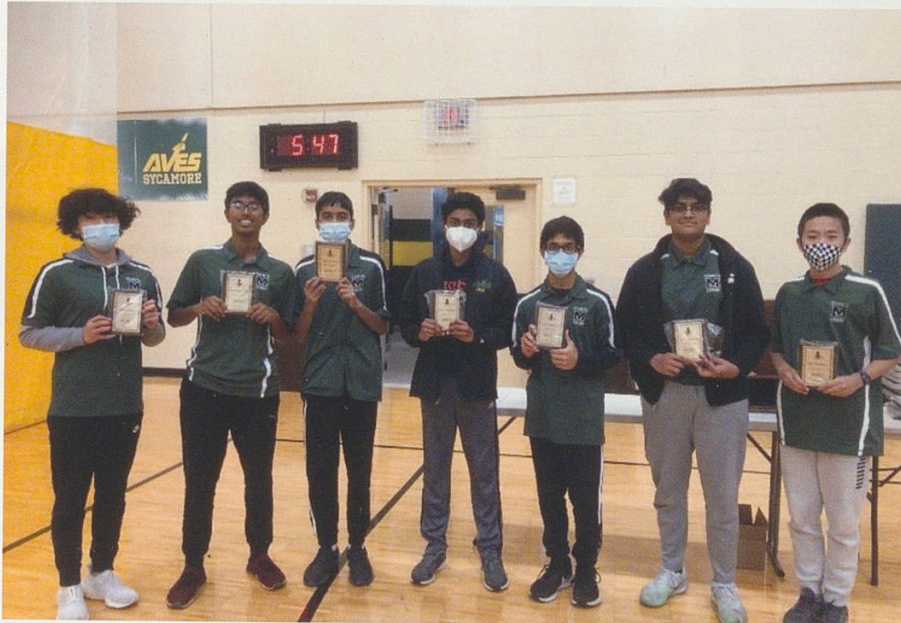

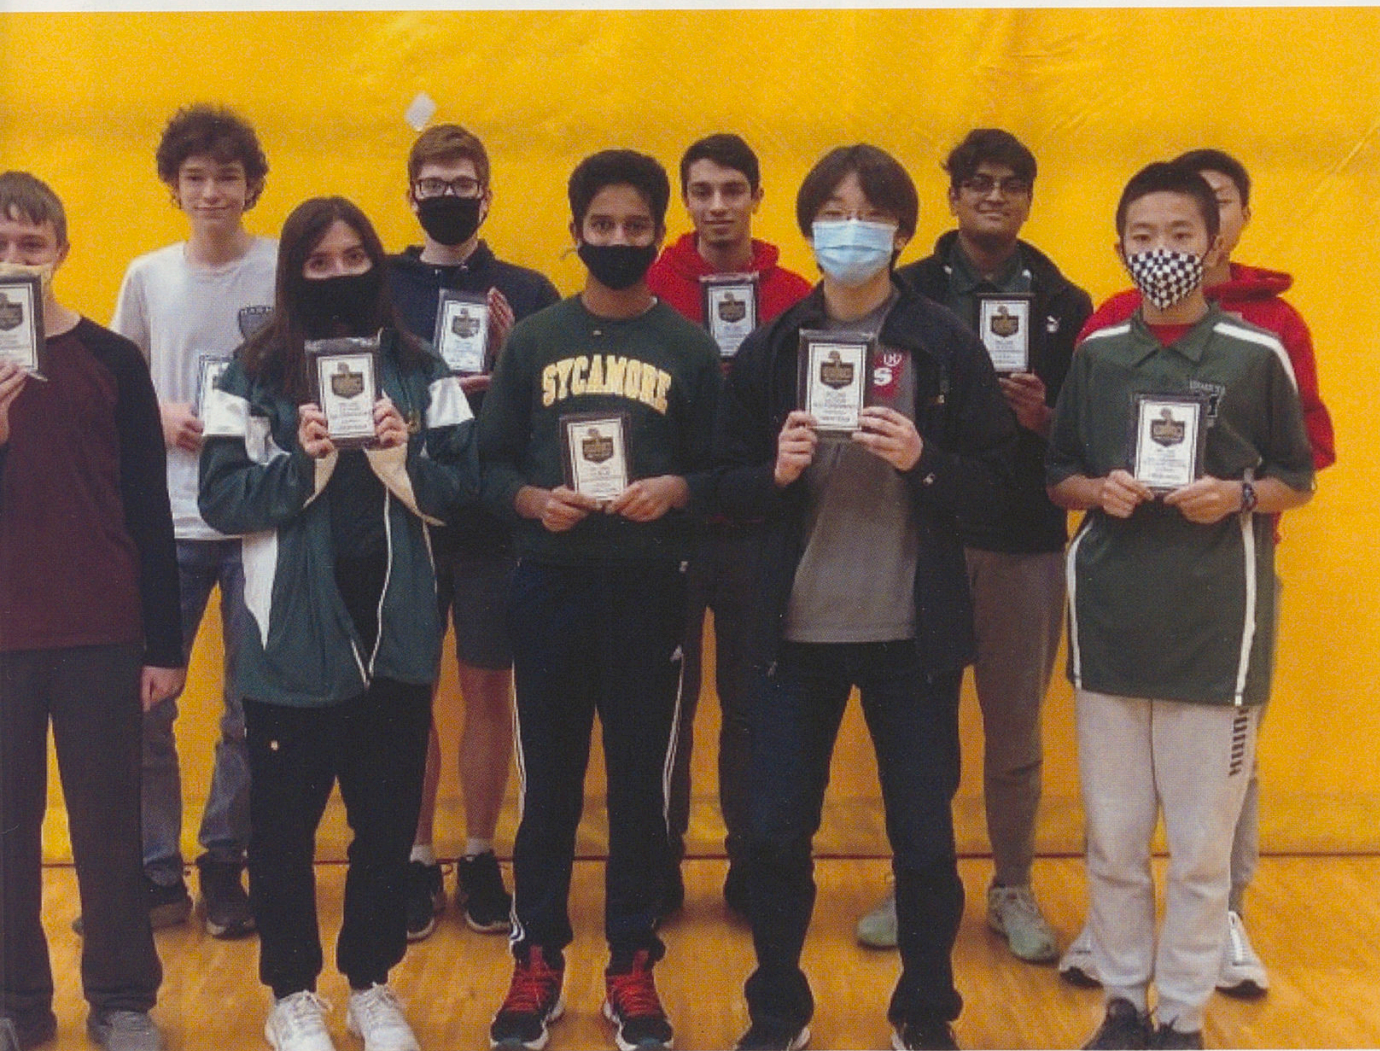

From the very first game the Sycamore Bowling team stood out this year. In that first bowl, senior Jack Czerwonka bowled a perfect 300, setting the mood for the rest of the season. While a good game was always celebrated, the team was encouraging and supportive even when a match was not going so well. "When you are in the bowling alley, you know when they get to a certain part of the game... because everyone's cheering, everyone's loud, and the energy just increases," said Eden Kadosh, 12. This idea might be surprising, as those unfamiliar with bowling see the sport as calm or low energy. Kadosh disagrees: "You would never expect it, but half the time I leave our matches with, like, half a voice." Caitlyn Clark, 12, has had a similar experience on the team, joining last year at the encouragement of her friend and current team captain, senior Anna Stucker. Clark admits, "I'm a pretty anti-social person... bowling has definitely helped me to be more comfortable with people." Growing both as a team and as individuals, the team bowled to success.

beauty & brains

The chess team consists of many amazing players. They have their own stories. Chess was first invented in India in the 8th century. It was then later changed over times by the Arabs and Persians. It has two players that stand on both sides, as they compete. Many of the seniors who are playing the game are soon leaving, and the chess club season is soon to end. The name chess came from a mispronunciation by the British merchants. Chess has been played for more than 1,400 years. It is played in many different countries, and every other place plays it differently. There are about 318 billion different positions after a four-piece move. It is a very entertaining game, which about 70% of the adult population loves to play.

THE FIRST MOVE

These two seniors told the story on how they joined. Lets see what they have to say:

ALIZA NEWTON, 12

What do you love the most about chess?

The thing I love the most about chess is the community that's formed. The members of the team are my closest friends: We ride buses, practice, compete, and win and lose by each others' sides.

Is there anything you have improved on in chess?

I've learned to think more about position and less about immediate moves. Most grandmasters think around 10-15 moves ahead, which is a lot more than the initial 2 that I started out with.

JUSTIN LEE, 12

What is advice you would give to aspiring players?

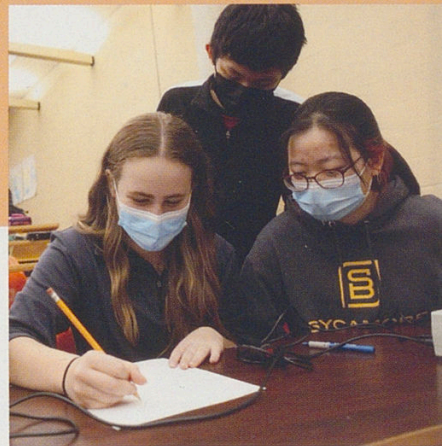

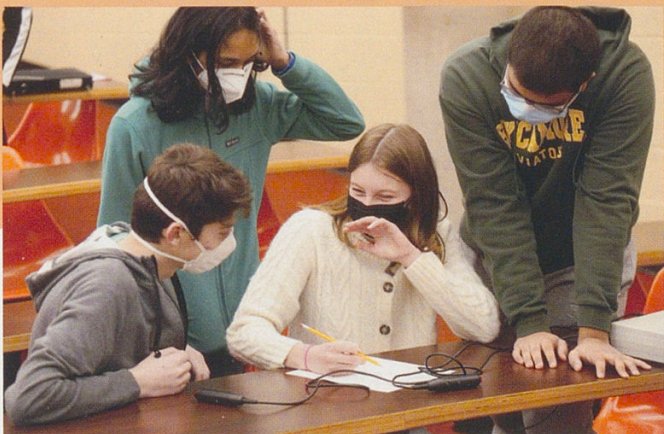

The best advice I could give is to try to fall in love with the game. Once you develop a passion for it, it makes the process of practicing tactics, puzzles, and games much more enjoyable.

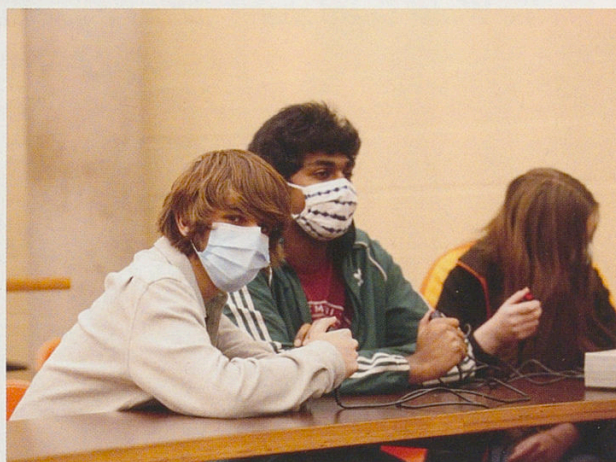

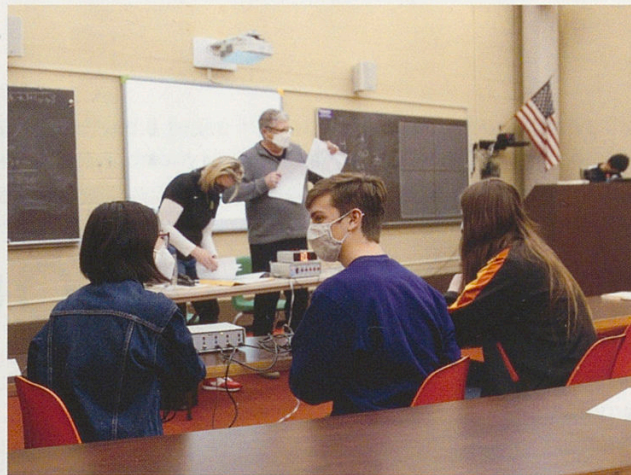

What motivated you into joining chess?

I always liked playing strategy games and chess just so happened to be a club that a lot of my friends were trying out. Once I tried it, I got really hooked on the feeling of improving and beating those I previously couldn't.

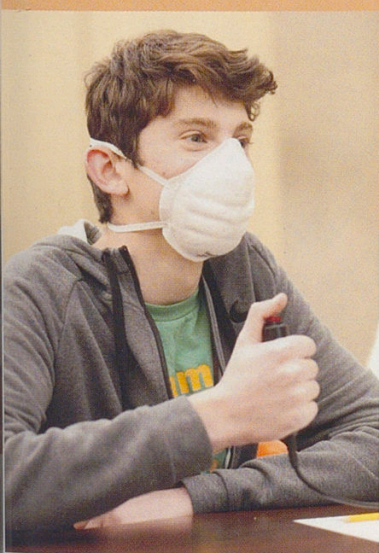

a battle of wits

At every AQT match, there are three games with three rounds in each. Each round, however, is different from each other. In total, 210 questions are asked and answered about a multitude of topics in one match. "It's supposed to be stuff that you theoretically could have learned in your classes, but a lot of times it's not," said Kasey Lowe, 12.

Senior Joshua Willis enjoys being a part of the AQT team because "it's a really great community [where] making mistakes is accepting. It's kind of basically just trivia club; it's not necessarily that competitive." Even though it may not always seem competitive, the AQT team still performs well. The varsity team tied for second in the GMC, and the JV team remained undefeated throughout the whole season.

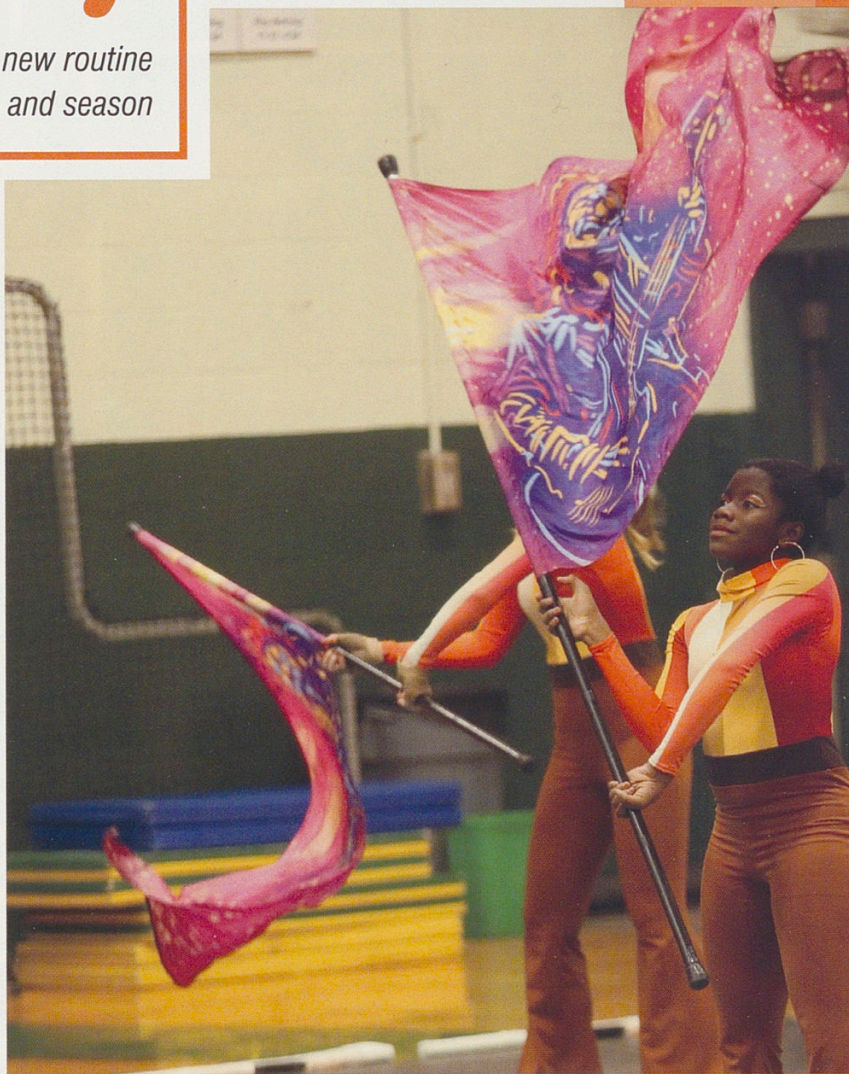

It was a small group so we were all very comfortable with each other. One time, Pierce [Bruner, 12] wrote a rap for a rap battle while we were accidentally taken to the wrong school for a match."

VIVIAN QIAN, 12

guard gets groovy

The Winter Guard shares about the new routine and season

DARYA TSOY, 11

What is the theme of the routine?

"The song for our show this season is Lady Gaga's cover of 'Your Song' by Elton John, so the costumes, makeup, and floor are influenced by 70's culture and style. We have flare pants, big hoop earrings, graphic eyeliner, and a record-player design on our tarp."

How many hours a week do you do Guard?

"The hours put into guard every week can range anywhere between 8-20, depending on the schedule for the week or how much you practice at home. Personally, as a leadership member with a lot of other time commitments such as orchestra, honors and accel. classes, a relationship, and a home life, I spend about 12 hours a week on guard, though it's something that's always at the back of my mind."

KYLEE KOOSMAN, 12

Why did you join guard?

"As a freshman, I did fall marching band and I marched a brass instrument. I loved it but I always thought that the guard looked so cool and my eye was always drawn to the guard when I would watch other shows. I decided to try it out that winter and fell in love with performing with an audience in a more personal way. As a senior, what's kept me coming back every season is the feeling of performing and giving your all to the audience."

Favorite part?

"I love the performance aspect of winterguard specifically. You're so close to the audience and it allows you to make such personal connections to random strangers in the audience. I absolutely love the butterflies that I feel when I catch a toss and make eye contact with an audience member who feels moved by my performance."

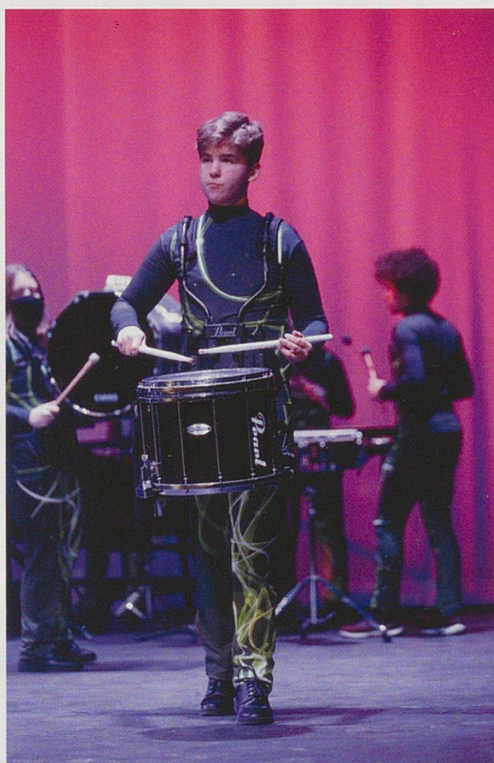

heist

This year, winter drumline performed a show called “Heist.” The drumline is the world’s greatest heist crew, on a mission to steal a precious diamond. In addition to the typical battery and front ensemble that drumlines have, there was also a saxophone soloist, senior Sean Cooper, and acrobatist, sophomore Tanvi Mayya.

Similar to the 2021 season, winter drumline was noncompetitive and performed their show on the theatre stage. Performing in the theatre made the show feel more like a production with the addition of lights and fog machines, making the experience unique. In addition, there were more students involved that typically wouldn’t have joined. “I really liked getting to work with other students...such as wind musicians and eighth graders,” said Madison Boni, 12. Because this season was noncompetitive, it allowed them to include more nontraditional elements into their show.

"I loved the first time we put together our show, with the lights, fog effects, and acting. It was such a gratifying moment to see our months of work finally pay off in an amazing show."

MINJEE KIM, 10

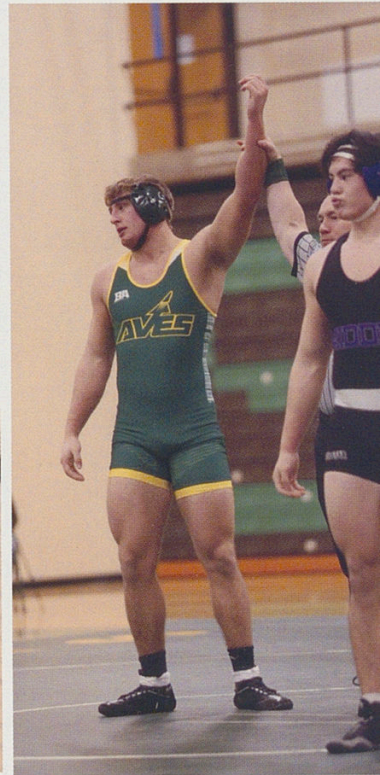

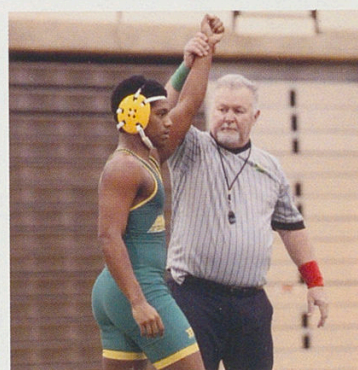

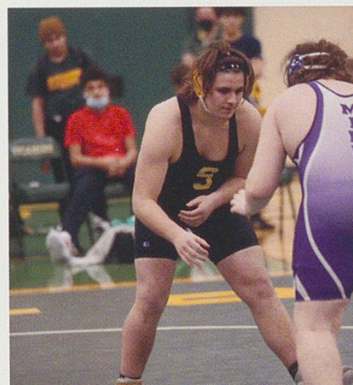

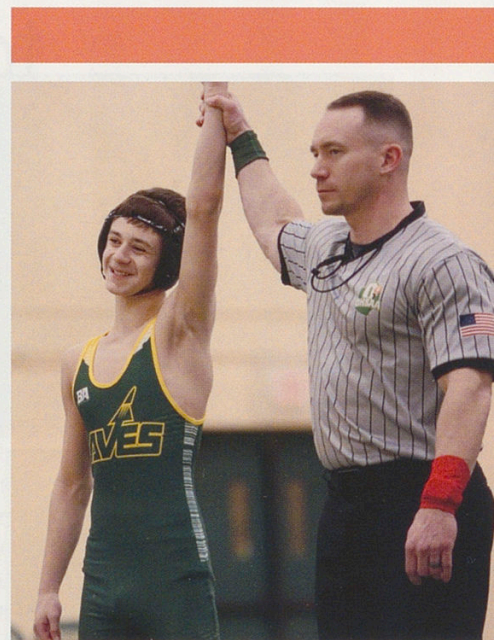

holding pattern

A young and tough Aves Wrestling team took everyone by surprise.

This 2021-2022 winter season has been nothing but a grind for the wrestling team at Sycamore High School. With wrestling being such a physical sport, the constant fear of getting quarantined swarmed around the team's tough atmosphere. Nevertheless, the wrestlers represented one of the true meanings of Aves Pride: to battle through adversity. For example, the team had to be relocated to the back gym as a temporary wrestling room, since the old room was turned into a temporary office. There were also many times where valuable wrestlers, like Evan Massey, 12, or Amir Isakov, 12, injured themselves, which definitely hindered the success of the team. Although there were some negative moments in the season, there were also many moments of success for the team. This year, the team got 3rd in the GMC, and took 7 wrestlers to districts, their most ever. Furthermore, Adam Gelmen, 10, qualified as an alternate for the state tournament, and Eugene Harney, 10, went on to place 3rd in state.

The wrestlers had a very tough season to say the least, but finished as one of the greater teams that has gone to the mat for our school. Their strong spirit and determination represents in every way what it means to be an Aviator.

GIRL POWER

This was the first year for Sycamore's girls wrestling. Let's see what one of the female athletes had to say.

It was really nerve-wracking at first, because it was just me and my one teammate who is half my size with, like, 40 boys... then another girl came and the three of us banded together and became super close. [When I advanced to the state competition], I was competing against some girls who had been wrestling longer, so I had to come back and be aggressive. It's a really good confidence booster, too, because now I can walk into somewhere knowing I could defend myself."

we got SPIRIT

The Varsity Winter Cheer team and how they pep up players, and their new uniforms.

The Varsity Winter Cheer team is a staple to our Varsity Basketball games. They hype up our incredible student section, and boost the players. Their fun cheers, like "Do It," "We Got Spirit," and "Banana" make the games interactive for the crowd, and keep spirits high. The girls on the team work hard, by practicing in and out of school. This year, the girls got new uniforms by raising their own money. A raffle basket and sponsors from various Cincinnati restaurants helped fund the latest upgrade. One thing is for sure, the basketball games would never be the same without the cheer team.

What made you want to join cheer?

“I’ve done cheer for a while, and I always love the experience and being able to spend time with some amazing people.”

IZZY CARUSO, 11

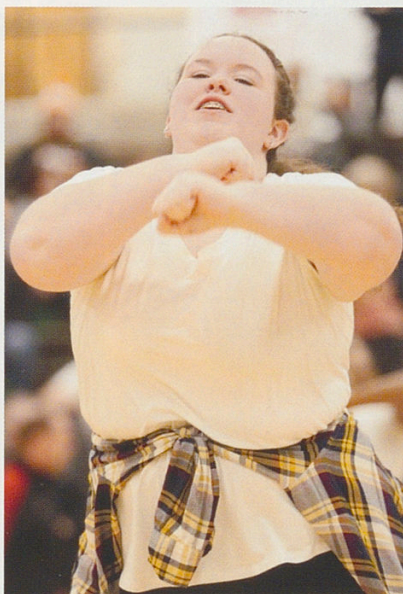

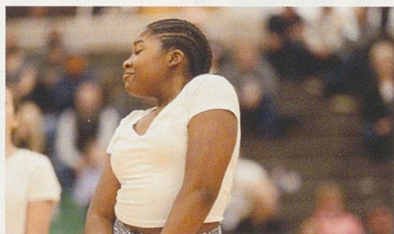

“I decided to try out for basketball season because cheer has been one of the things I have stuck with, and I have really enjoyed the program’s opportunities (competitions, homecoming parade, pep rallies, etc).”

JADE BLEVINS, 10

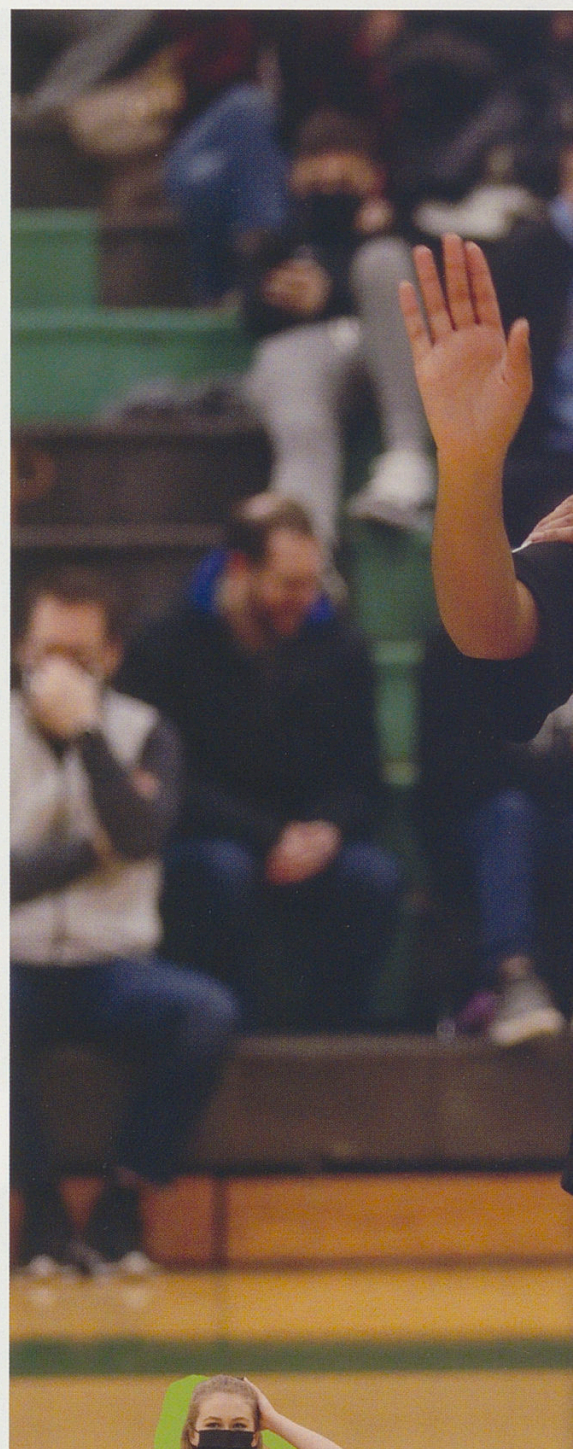

“Having been a cheerleader since 1st grade, I have always enjoyed the positivity and creativity that this sport has given me.

SAVANNAH BRUSMAN, 11

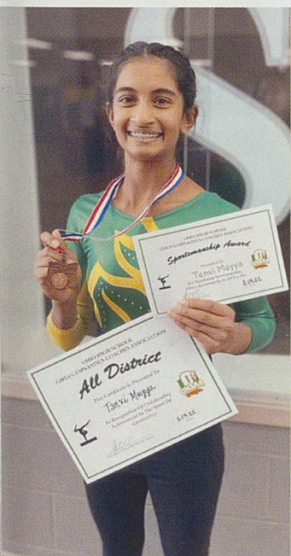

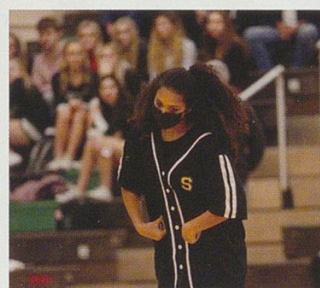

From pep rallies to basketball games, the signature fresh beats and sharp moves from the Flyerettes are a Sycamore staple. This year, some junior high students also had the opportunity to dance with the Flyerettes, opening the floor to the next generation of Sycamore dancers. A cool experience for all, the combination of hip-hop dancing and new bonds between the high schoolers and younger students allowed for some amazing memories to be made.

Sophomore Tanvi Mayya is the lone gymnast on the gymnastics team at SHS. This is her second year on the team, but she has been a gymnast for quite some time. "I started gymnastics when I was 7... I saw my mom's friend's daughter doing it and I thought it looked cool," Mayya said. "Gymnastics has taught me so much about commitment, discipline, and passion... plus, now I know how to do flips!" This year, Mayya represented Sycamore in the state competition for beam.

For their last major performance of the year, Aves Theatre put on Legally Blonde: The Musical. The stellar cast had four amazing performances showcasing the life of fashionista Elle Woods and her journey to becoming a lawyer.

Sophomore Brock Giesen-schlag played Elle Woods' ex boyfriend, Warner. And it wasn't an easy role to take on. "[Warner 's] kind of a mean character...I had to learn to act like that, and it's not just in the words and facial expressions cause you also have to think about how a person like that stands," Giesen-schlag said.

For Adam Weatherston, 10, he really enjoyed being a part of the show. His favorite part of the rehearsal process was learning all of the different choreography.

A JVB Baseball player talks about what he thinks it takes to be successful in baseball.

There are a lot of skills needed to be successful. Of course, there are the game's physical skills, but another big thing is staying mentally focused and aware. You also can't lose awareness in the field because you never know when a play is going to come to you."

State or graduate? This year, three members of Sycamore's boys varsity gold tennis team had a unique decision to make: compete in the state tennis finals, or attend their own graduation ceremony that was happening at the same time. For seniors Kevin Dong, Mark Karev, and Chad Miller, the choice was clear: represent the school at the state competition. Making the day special in a different way, the boys watched a live-stream of the ceremony from the courts in between their matches. And, all of their hard work and sacrifices were worth it: the team won the competition, earning the title of state champions.

As friends both on and off the court, the Boys JV Tennis team is succeeding as a unit and as individuals, better than ever. The entire Sycamore Tennis Program is relatively close with each other, with most of the players seeing each other as friends and peers, "...everybody's really a whole on the Sycamore Tennis team and everyone really likes each other," said Palash Kapoor, 10. While many see tennis as a solo sport, all of the boys being really close separates Sycamore from other tennis programs. "For me, personally, I knew a lot of the sophomores because we have had classes together...and with the juniors and seniors we got to know them as we played more matches and after we started going out to dinner after matches," Kapoor said. It is clear that the team's bond and talent continue to help them succeed, as seen in the team winning nearly 80% of their matches this season.

DID YOU KNOW?

Lacrosse is often called “the fastest game on two feet” due to how quickly the ball moves around the field.

- athleteintelligence.com

The original Lacrosse ball was wrapped in deer-hide. Currently, the balls are usually made of rubber.

- ncva.com

It was included in the 1904 and 1908 Summer Olympics, before being removed. Efforts continue to reinstate it.

the brotherhood

A challenging season gives players on the Boys Varsity Lacrosse team a chance to shine.

Strength through adversity was an unofficial theme of this year's Boys Varsity Lacrosse season. As with most school sports around the world, this team lost some crucial momentum when COVID shut down play in 2020. "These seniors," said Assistant Coach Kerry Crotty, "almost every one on the team missed a season." That kind of interruption could easily derail years of work, but the players returned for a rebuilding season in 2021, and roared back at full strength for 2022. They placed third in the GMC this year, and even celebrated senior Alec Blessing as GMC Player of the Year.

Blessing will take his talents to Cleveland State University next year, along with standouts Ty Harris, 12, and Michael Davis, 12, who will play for Wittenburg University and Thomas More University, respectively.

Though some early-season injuries to key players threatened their hard-won progress, others stepped up to fill leadership roles and carry the team through the season. Said Crotty: "It helped more guys feel the responsibility of supporting and helping the team. We didn't achieve what we wanted to, but they still came together as a group and grew together and made the most of it."

The result was "the brotherhood," the team's self-appointed nickname and rallying cry. Hardship and struggle brought out the best in these players, and they used it as a chance to support one another and to represent the Sycamore community with grit, spirit, and honor.

My favorite part about this lacrosse season was the challenge of not being as good as past seasons. It pushed me and several players to step up and become better leaders and team players."

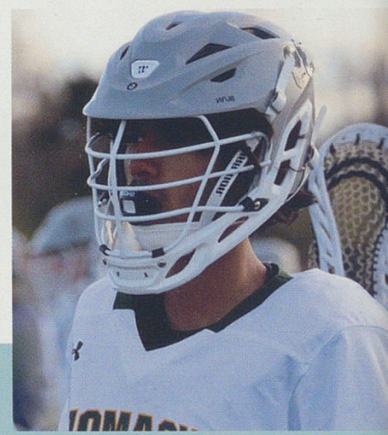

ALVARO ARRANZ FERNANDEZ, 12

When we played Springboro, they were a really good team, and even though we were supposed to lose by a lot, we made it a really close game and almost pulled out the win. It was cool to be a part of the team when we were all working together towards a goal.”

signing off

Senior Bella Delgado talks about what Signing Day meant to her.

What emotions were you feeling during the signing?

"I was super nervous to speak in front of everyone, especially because in my head I think a lot of people don't expect me to be a successful athlete from the outside - so I wanted to kinda prove that that day. Other than that, it was super bittersweet! I am super sad to leave highschool track behind, but I am so thankful that I made it to where I am now."

How much does it mean to you that all your hard work has paid off?

"It truly means the world. There have been so many ups and downs and doubts I have made myself believe (and still do sometimes) but I am so proud of myself for making it and knowing every time I was given the opportunity I tried my hardest, especially because this has been my goal all of highschool."

Work smarter not harder

Justin Williams

Empathy is the key to understanding.

Joshua Willis

Ask me who Candice is

Lucienne Winkfield

Honestly, I'm hilarious and if you think otherwise then you're the problem and you need to grow up and get over yourself

Naomi Wischer

"Nothing lasts forever, but at least we got these memories" - J. Cole

Charlie Wyatt

Believe in yourself. It can make all the difference in the world.

Alexondra Xie

Here for a good time, not a long time

Betty Xie

Exceptional.

Charlie, you've been great success as a student – but even more importantly, you've developed into an all-around good person. We wish you great success and happiness on your college journey and beyond. The sky's the limit!

Love always,
Mom & Dad

TEDDY TESSEL

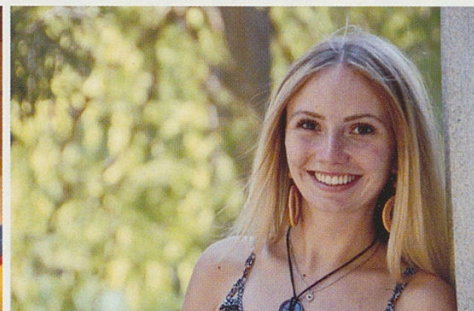

Teddy,
Shoot for the stars
Float in the clouds
Bask in the sun and
Dance in the rain

Your future knows no bounds!
Always know you are so loved by your family and friends

ASHLEY HOGAN

Ashley, we Googled what to say here but it was too boring and sounded like everything else. Instead, we used Bing and here's what it said: Your true self is one of perseverance, caring, and hard work. We celebrate this milestone with you and recognize that there are many more wonderful things that you will achieve. When your future family reads this yearbook, remind them that Bing used to be a pretty good web search engine.

Love, Mom and Dad

BELLA ALTIER

Beauty, intelligence, kindness and spunk all wrapped into one lovey young woman, that's you! To say we are proud is an understatement! Where ever your future takes you, know that we will always be here loving you and cheering you on.

XOXO Mom & Dad.

ERICA LIFF

Go chase your dreams, believe in yourself, and as you spread your wings, know that you are capable of anything! No matter where you are, no matter what you do, know that we will always be here to love and support you. We are, forever, proud of you! We love you always, Mom & Dad

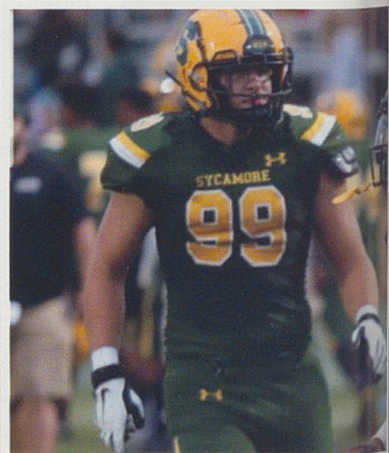

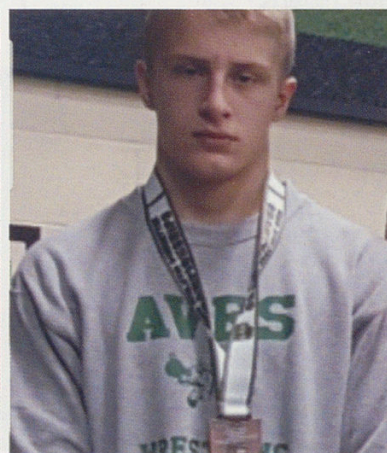

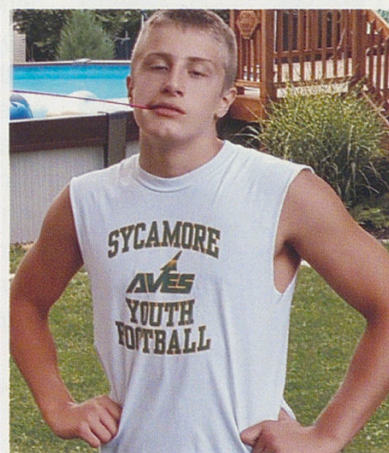

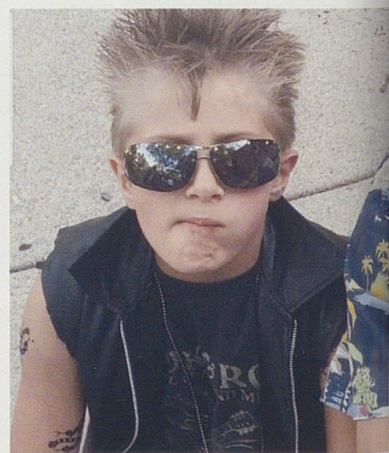

EVAN MASSEY

Congrats Evan!

What an amazing time it has been watching you grow into the young man you are now. Where has the time gone? The next few years will go by quickly. Enjoy the journey! We are so proud of you.

Love you.
Mom, Dad and Dylan.

LIV BERKE

Our sweet Liv...since the day you flipped into our lives, the world became so much more magical! "Negotiations" with our feisty little girl paid off, as you've grown into a beautiful soul, determined to make a difference. May the next chapter be one of countless roses, the occasional thorn, and more buds than you could ever imagine. We love you so much!!

Mom, Dad, Ben, Kara, Amy, Devin, Henry and the pups

JAKE HERTZMAN

Congratulations! We are always & will forever be PROUD OF YOU JAKE!

Growing up Hertzman...has been a FUN & BUSY adventure for each and all of us! No matter the sport or activism project, YOU always excel with the highest level of effort and passion. No doubt this will continue into your future.

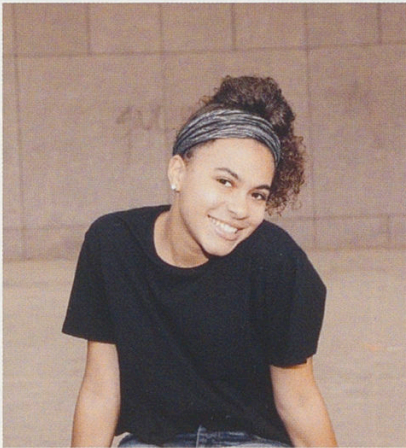

Now walk with the courageous, the dreamers, the believers, the ones pointing towards awareness & change. Walk & hold hands with the ones who need your support, activism or simply your friendship. Surround yourself with others for perspective, learning & understanding; for energy, inspiration & collaboration; for conversation, comfort & love.

It is with excitement that we look forward to your future endeavors, college and the journey of being you! Keep your light shining bright because the best is yet to come! We love you with all of our hearts! We are the lucky 1s...11!

Love, Mom & Dad, Zach & Gracie the bulldog XsOs

ELLA CHAPMAN

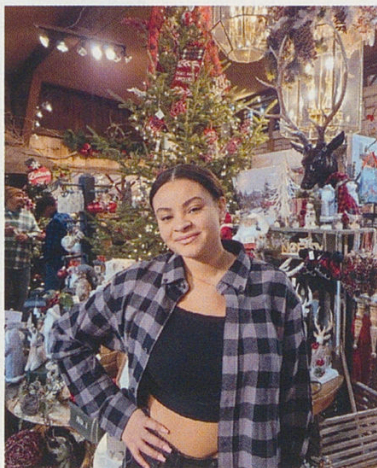

May you grow up to be righteous
May you grow up to be true
May you always know the truth
And see the light surrounding you
May you always be courageous
Stand upright and be strong
May you stay forever young

From Kindergarten to your Senior year you've inspired me and impressed me.
Always your #1 fan.

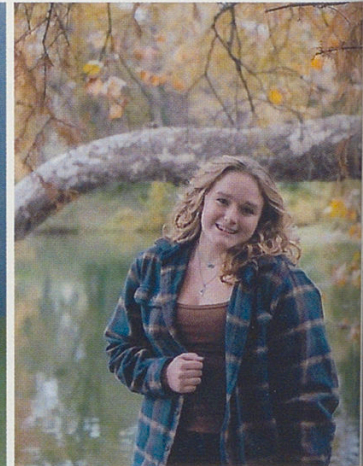

Love,
Mom.

ELIZABETH GRAY

Goose,

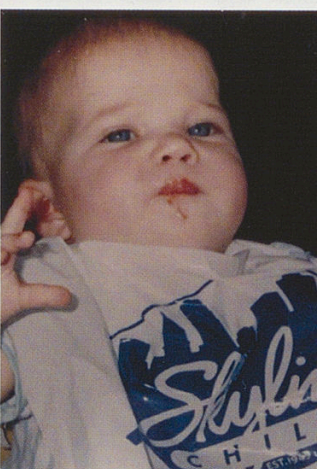

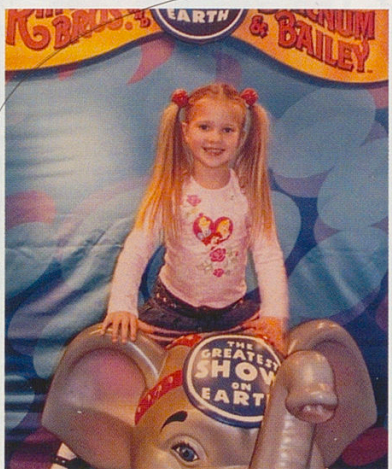

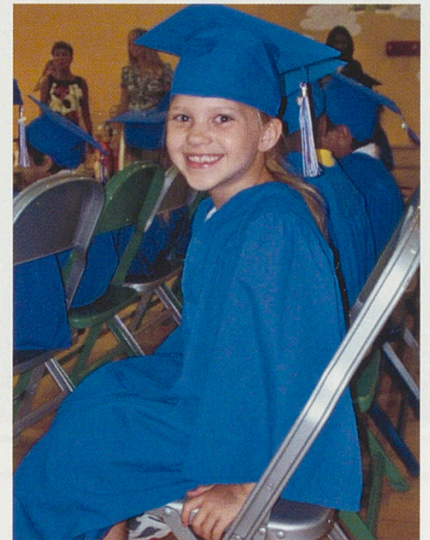

You have always surprised me from day one. I know that will continue as you move forward. It is time to close this chapter of your life and Flash forward but remember to always fly high.

Love always,
Mommy

Sweetness,

On the day that you were born the angels got together and decided to create a dream come true. It truly has been a dream watching as you achieved each of life's milestones. Nana's baby grew into a precious and precocious toddler, an adorable and loving little girl, a sassy and funny adolescent, and now a beautiful and intelligent young woman. I am so proud of the amazing person you are and continue to dream of the life in front of you. Live your dream!

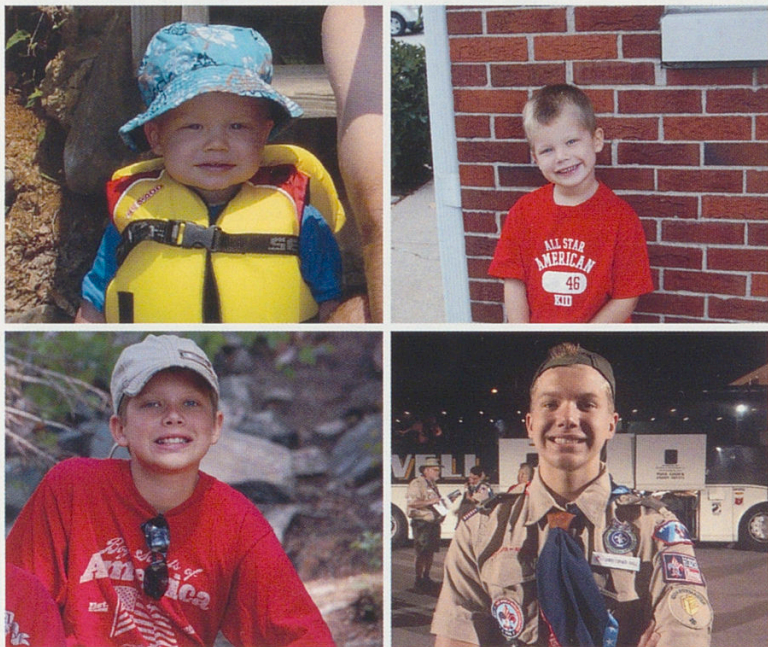

XOXO
Nana
