Mighty Oak

by Kathy J Parenteau

Stand tall oh mighty oak, for all the world to see,
your strength and undying beauty forever amazes me.
Though storm clouds hover above you, your branches span the sky,
in search of the radiant sunlight you count on to survive.
When the winds are high and restless and you lose a limb or two,
it only makes you stronger, we could learn so much from you.
Though generations have come and gone and brought about such change, quietly you've watched them all yet still remained the same.
I only pray God give to me the strength he's given you,
to face each day with hope, whether skies are black or blue,
Life on earth is truly a gift every moment we must treasure, it's the simple things we take for granted that become our ultimate pleasures.

We're so proud of you and love you always!

CONGRATULATIONS!

You cleaned up great, Lukey, but take it easy on the cologne... always remember, He has "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." - Jeremiah 29:11

We love you,
