"They have been doing amazing so far. They have almost beat some of the top schools in Ohio; they went to 5 sets with Moeller High School. This year's team has wanted to win so badly. Special shout out to Charlie Hall. This is his first year playing and he has been phenomenal. The boys play together great. 'I love these boys!'"

(Coach Stanley Kaniecki)

"The most challenging part of volleyball is playing mentally to not give up and even if you make an error or get absolutely roofed in a play you have to keep playing. The best piece of advice I'd give to any young volleyball player is to play club because in a sport like volleyball, consistency is key."

(Derek Hampson, 12)

"The first time I was interested in playing volleyball was when my friends and I went to Weller Park to play sand volleyball. After that, I started going to high school games and eventually tried out. I am a setter; many people think it's a boring position, but I enjoy it a lot more than the opposition boys. As a setter, I get to touch the ball nearly every play and it's the most challenging position on the court. I feel like there is always something to learn so I can get better"

(Tucker Groppe, 12).
