

MUSIC

Chris McClennon and Atul Salvekar concentrate on their music during orchestra practice.

Mr. Bieler conducts band students Eleni Kanelos, Adam Harrison, Sean Sauer, and Janeen Sharpshair during a concert.

Take Note of Choirs!

The five choirs at Sycamore made up a large part of the Music Department. The members' willingness to work was an example of their dedication.

The choirs were involved in different activities throughout the year. The Vocal Department sponsored activities such as a lock-in, a variety show, and a banquet at the end of the year. They also participated in choral contests.

These choral contests were comprised of individuals or groups that sang and were judged on their performance. The judge's comments were later used to improve the individuals' singing. Allyson Wacksmann explained, "Contest is a lot of hard work, but it's a lot of fun and a good learning experience."

The choirs were also known for several productions put on during the year. They were the Fall, Holiday, and Spring Concerts. Performing was one of the choirs favorite things because they showed their talent and hard work. Pamela Fox commented, "Performing gives me the biggest high; it's an emotional uplift."

Choir members agree that singing was a fun activity and was worth their time. Lisa Daly said, "I enjoy singing with a choir and its unity," and Mike Hurst said, "Choir is quite cool."

By Julie Noiman

Jeff Bieler

Brenda Huffines

Pete Metzger