

Star Spangled Girl

The post — Christmas blues were alleviated by the presentation of Sycamore's annual comedy, Neil Simon's The Star-Spangled Girl on January 8th, 9th, and 10th. This spirited farce was unique in that it was written for only three characters. However, the hilarious portrayals by junior Steve Gluck and seniors Carl Holmgren and Jenny Bantle more than made up for the absense of a large cast. The audience roared its approval and the sounds of laughter dominated all three nights, as The Star-Spangled Girl proved itself one yankee-doodle dandy of a show.

