

Although the orchestra is one of the less recognized performing groups at Sycamore, it contributes quite a bit to the school. Throughout the year, the orchestra performs several concerts, which highlight the works of more classical composers. It also takes part in the yearly musical and plays at the Fine Arts Festival.

